Mrs. John Lilly Entertains Social Circle—

The Social Circle of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. John Lilly, on All'son street on Wednesday of this week with Mrs. Leah Caldwell assisting Mrs. Lilly in entertaining.

The afternoon was spent in pleasant visit, while fancy work employed skillful fingers. An interesting and entertaining game was the construction of dust caps from the dainty Easter napkins given each guest. Only pins could be used in the pretty creations that were made. It was astonishing what was done with the combination of artistic fingers, crepe paper and a paper of pins. Mrs. Frank Crowson won the prize for the prettiest one—a beautiful bunch of daffodils.

At the business meeting, among the many things discussed was the entertainment given under the auspices of the Social Circle and plans were perfected at this meeting for the "Vincent Hawaiian Entertainment"—given at the Christian church, this evening.

Dainty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the pleasant afternoon by Mrs. Lilly and Mrs. Caldwell.

Those present were the Mesdames V. K. Allison, James Putman, Floyd Putman, Rice, Delia Hale, Holman, Delpha Bryant, Hattie Smith, Mabel Jacobs, Mollie Pelton, Laura Hosler, Frank Crowson, J. V. Wright, Laura Love, Opal Philpott, Hooper, S. D. Swingle, Alta Payne, R. L. Burdick Jr., Campbell and O. W. Long.

Delightful Dinner Party—

Mrs. L. J. Herr's birthday was made the motif for a banquet at noon on Wednesday of this week at the Plaza, at which covers were laid for eighteen guests.

A number having found out the date of Mrs. Herr's birthday, plans were made to observe the day fittingly. All the employees at the Ashland Laundry, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright were included in the guest list.

The dinner was served in the banquet room and the tables had been arranged very artistically. Dainty nut cups, filled with toothsome dainties, and bouquets of delicate sweetpeas arranged by the management for each guest added a touch of brightness to the table laden with the satisfying viands of this sumptuous repast.

A birthday cake, with three candles—signifying the past, the present, and the future was an especially happy feature of the occasion.

Congratulations and good wishes were extended the guest of honor while the assembled guests did full justice to the delightful dainties that formed the last course of the banquet.

Those included in the guest list were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Shamp, the Mesdames Love, Brown, Budgeon, McCourry, Peck, the Misses Zora and Pearl McCourry, Elsie Crowson, Estella Hays, Mrs. Benadon, Messrs Utez, Campbell, and Donald Wright, and the complimented guest Mrs. Herr.

Tea Cup Club—

The social organization of the Methodist church, the Tea Cup Club met at the Parsonage, with Mrs. S. J. Chaney as hostess, assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. J. R. McCracken, Valley View, Mrs. Pratt, North Main, Mrs. G. G. Eubanks, Mrs. G. W. Gregg and Miss Ada Hartley.

There were fifty-five ladies present to enjoy the program and the social afternoon.

A most entertaining program had been provided of music, reading, and recitations. Mrs. H. S. Harrison favored the company with two beautiful piano solos, Mrs. G. W. Gregg added much to the pleasure of the guests in two delightful readings, and Mrs. M. E. Thompson gave two entertaining recitations that were especially well received. After the enjoyable program the afternoon was spent in visiting until delicious refreshments brought to a close one of the happiest of afternoons.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. H. Yeo, on Oak street the fourth Thursday in April. This is a very important meeting since at this time occurs the election of officers for the coming year. All members are asked to make an extra effort to be present April the twenty-fourth.

Past Matrons Club—

The Past Matrons' Club held one of their very delightful meetings Wednesday evening at the home of their newly elected president, Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg, on the Boulevard.

After the usual business meeting, the evening was spent in playing Mah Jongg, at which intricate game much interest was shown, and unusual aptitude, since it was the initiatory attempt for some of the guests.

Dainty refreshments were served by the gracious hostess at the conclusion of the happy evening. Those present were the Mesdames Josephine Crocker, E. V. Carter, Elsie Churchman, Leah Caldwell, A. E. Kinney, Dewey Sackett, August Schuerman, W. H. McNair, Walter Everett, Frank Jordan, the Misses Lydia McCall, George Coffee, and the hostess, Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg.

Annual Dinner—

The Annual Dinner of the Presbyterian Congregation occurred on Wednesday evening at six o'clock.

Tables had been set in the dining room and in the parlors. These were bright with spring blossoms and dainty greenery.

There were considerably over two hundred seated at the tables when the Divine blessing was invoked by the Rev. J. C. Mergler, a special guest from the Vernon Presbyterian church in Portland.

That number did not count the bevy of happy young girls from the Rainbow and Pollyanna classes and others who assisted in serving, nor the number who kept trays supplied from the kitchen.

After the bounteous feast—and feast indeed it was for tables were laden with a wonderful array of viands prepared as only those who are artists, can prepare them, a delightful social hour followed.

Later in the evening the business meeting was called, at which the Rev. Amos acted as moderator. Mr. Lyman as clerk and Rev. Mergler led the devotionals.

The report of last year was read and was most interesting, and the comparisons of the two years' work was illuminating. The list of reports given include that of the Session, Trustees, Sunday school, Secretary, Treasurer's report, Benevolence Treasurer, C. E. (Intermediate), C. E. (Junior), Light Bearers, Missionary Society, Ladies Aid, Wednesday Club, Men's Brotherhood, Westminster Guild, Cradle Roll Supt., and the Church Treasurer and Benevolence Treasurer.

These reports were most gratifying and showed not only growth and development but a very healthy state of affairs financially. All reports indicated that this church was well over the top in its apportionments and stands first. It is understood, in the Presbytery, in its giving altho but fourth in membership. The apportionments did not include certain other amounts raised for other churches and the Elsie Howell fund, that this church feels its special interest.
