TRUST IN THE LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.—Prov. 3:5, 6.

LESSONS IN LIFE

When one's attention is turned to a cemetery, the silent city, the city of the dead, thoughts come with lightning-like rapidity. Indeed all are unpleasant, sorrowful, saddening in the extreme. But every person should visit a cemetery early in life and there in somber and silent surroundings reflect on the brevity of life and of the insufficiency of world goods. There is no place like a graveyard for meditation and there is room in every life for more serious thought.

The cold, immovable tombstones hold a moral for the living. Thereone is inscribed human virtues, but among the inscriptions there is no record of estates built up thru years of unending toil, through sacrifice, and by speeding through the fleeting years with no pleasure and no playing. Nor is there any record of the fortunes left behind or of fame attained. The magnitude and sculpture of the stone or vault alone remain to remind the world of countless millions who are to follow of the "boast of heraldy and pomp of power."

Why should man beings worry, hurry and struggle through life's fl t span in pursuit of wealth, fame, luxuries, vanities at all other evanescent things we choose to call riches? The poor are distressed by too little money; the moderately wealthy by thought that others possess more wealth than they, and the rich in their struggle to gain more and more of the material things of life.

The Garden of Eden, a veritable paradise, was paradise only so long as Adam and Eve entertained no thought of worldly things. There were no pestering bank accounts, no monthly statements, no mansions with luxurious furnishings, no automobiles, no business and professional ethics, and no fashions to detract from paradise.

The writer does not favor placing a premium on idleness. Nor does he believe in discouraging thrift and labor, but few people have learned the secret of living well. Most of us measure contentment in terms of dollars and social position. There is too much of the struggle to climb to higher financial and social positions, and in the relentless pursuit we are missing the finer and better things of life. Far too many forget that life affords us an opportunity to work, improve our talents and be joyful.

TOURIST TRAVEL

Few people analyze the situation of the tourist travel carefully enough to note the value of that travel to the community. Real facts have been cited where both Marshfield and North Bend have gained citizens through giving tourist camp facilities last year, the "Arabs of Autodom" having decided to stay in this community after a stop at the camp.

The Marshfield chamber of commerce has just issued a statement relative to tourist travel and the possibilities for Oregon and particularly this section of the state to share in the prosperity that tourist travel brings.

The statement says in part:
"Hood River estimates that every car stopping over night will mean the expenditure of approximately $15.00 per car.

"Ashland, upon the strength of her tourist income, has just issued an additional bond with which to improve an already celebrated tourist park and states that the tourist business means thousands of dollars to the merchants of Ashland.

"Grants Pass features her caves and plans an intensive program by which to attract the tourist dollar to her territory during the coming year.

"California's celebrated popularity is built almost exclusively on tourist publicity.

"A budget of $50,000 is being raised by the Sound cities to place before the tourist the attractions of their territory.

"We here in Coos county have beach attractions equal to any other part of Oregon and should capitalize on them.

"The traffic department estimates that 125,000 cars from other states will come to Oregon this year. Salem estimates that 60 per cent of these will pass through there on the Pacific highway. An actual test count in 1923 showed an average of 2000 cars per day near the place.

"One million tourists will visit Oregon in 1924. California claims that 10 per cent of the tourists settle in that state. If Oregon should retain 5 per cent it will give us a net gain of 50,000.

"The state chamber estimates that the tourist travel will be worth more than $18,000,000 during the coming year.

"Ashland auto camp reports that 40,000 cars stopped over night alone during 1923.

"With the attractions which we have to offer along the Coast highway and with the publicity which this district is getting throughout the tourist territory, we should be able to attract a large per cent of the Pacific highway tourist travel as well as a large number of Oregon people who are commencing to travel in their own state to a greater extent than ever before."—Southwestern Oregon Daily News.

WHY EDISON DOUBTS THEM

Thomas A. Edison's opinion of the efficiency of the modern college is not exactly complimentary, to say the least. The inventive wizard has never been backward in expressing his views on the subject. Will he modify them when he reads the answers given by engineering students in Northeastern University of Boston to a series of "reaction" tests to the Teapot Dome scandal? Here are some of the answers.

"Teapot Dome is on the top of the capitol."
"It's just a cartoonist's idea of the Government scandal."

Thirty-seven of the 245 students questioned thought that Teapot Dome was in Washington. One sophomore declared Edward M. McLean was a movie actor.

Well, Tom, speak up!

It is now feared that bobbing may cause baldness. It is certain to make the hair shorter, at any rate.

The campaign continues to bring out dark horses that are a little light.

A Southern editor laments that "although congress has been in session three months it has passed no bill." It could be worse.

The most interesting contest of which one can think is a broadjumping contest at conclusions. It would require a long series of elimination contests but when it reached the finals the best distance broad jumper of the world would be entirely outclassed.

Really, it begins to appear that the paint up campaign is taking hold in Ashland. Let us hope that we will soon reach the day when we can sing "Everybody's Doing It."

Tapestry France Gives to U. S.

GOBELIN TAPESTRY

NEW YORK, April 6.—The most important gift of the French Government to the American people in recent years will be sent to the French Exposition to be held at Grand Central Palace April 23 to May 3 for exhibition before it is presented formally to the nation. The gift is an original tapestry, woven at the Government Gobelin Tapestry Works in France to commemorate the departure of the American troops for France in the Great War. The picture, designed by G. L. Jaumes, represents the Americans before Independence Hall in Philadelphia, embarking for France. It is to be presented, appropriately, at the new Philadelphia Art Museum.

The French Exposition will be held under the official patronage of the French Government. Ambassador Jusserand will formally open it. The officers of the Exposition are: Albert Blum, Emil Utard, Pierre C. Cartier, Lucien Jouvaud, Theodore Seltzer and Armand E. Sieper.

The tapestry, which will be seen for the first time in America at the French Exposition, is valued at $50,000. Similar tapestries after a few hundred years increase greatly in value, it is said. It is interesting, both because it is the first time the French Government has given a tapestry from the historical Gobelin Looms to America, and because the tapestry itself represents one of the most thrilling moments in American history.

The tapestry is a magnificent work of art, 19 x 23 feet in dimensions, woven of silk, in vivid, natural colors. In the foreground is an American flag ten feet long and in back it waves the French flag. The troops in khaki, the harbor of Philadelphia, Independence Hall itself, are all remarkably presented. It took five years to make it.

COUNTY CORONER

CORONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate on the republican ticket, for nomination at the coming primary for the office of coroner of Jackson county.

SHERIFF

As a candidate in the Republican primaries for the office of Sheriff, I desire to clearly define my position on the future conduct of that office, if elected.

My experience as a deputy sheriff of Jackson County, and as a State Traffic Officer, has taught me that no peace officer can give satisfactory and efficient service to the public when his authority and responsibility are shared by another. The present unsatisfactory law enforcing conditions is largely attributable to divided authority between antagonistic peace officers, elements that are certain to produce conflict, inefficiency and useless expense.

If elected I shall insist upon and expect to maintain the right to perform all the duties of Sheriff in this County, and it follows that I will be uncompromisingly opposed to special officers except Federal Agents, with whom I pledge full and complete cooperation. I am in thorough accord with both the letter and spirit of the prohibition laws and pledge my active and untiring efforts in their enforcement.

adv. tf J. J. McMAHON.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for County Judge, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary, on the following platform:

Reduce taxes through an economical and business-like administration of county affairs. Stop needless expenditures and waste and give proper support and attention to good roads, public schools and other vital and public necessities. Enforce the prohibition law efficiently and properly through proper agencies and eliminate special law enforcing organizations which are now causing divided authority and needless expense. Give to all a fair, square deal and not be responsible to any political faction, clique or organization.

SHERIFF

At the earnest solicitation of many friends who have importuned me, I have finally consented to place myself before the Republican voters for the office of Sheriff, believing that the efficient, orderly and economical manner in which my office has been, and is now, conducted warrants my re-election, if elected I promise to continue my present policies of law enforcement, efficiency, economy and strict attention to duty in the affairs pertaining to the office.

adv. C. E. TERRILL.

Investigation of this project, with relation to the possibilities of hydro-electric power and water for irrigation, has been in progress by the government for several years. It was said that the government already has expended $50,000 in the work. The formal report on the project probably will be completed within the next two months.

Ten Million Year Old Egg Brings $5,000

(C) "Asia Magazine" and the American Museum of Natural History.

THE first transaction in dinosaur's eggs since primitive man traded in the produce of his time is revealed in the announcement that one of the prehistoric eggs has just brought $5,000 in the open market—the highest price ever paid for any egg. The announcement comes from Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the Asiatic expedition that found the eggs, and the purchaser is Austen Colgate, who bought the egg on behalf of Colgate University. The eggs are seven or eight inches long, have the hard, pebbly surface of an ordinary egg, and contain the skeletons of unborn dinosaurs. Twenty-four of them were found buried in the sand of the Gobi desert in Mongolia. Colgate University, the egg's new home, was founded in 1819 in honor of William Colgate, one of the leading business men of the early century and a pioneer of the soap and perfume industry. His firm was founded in 1806.
