WHAT WILL RADIO BRING?

When Edward Bellamy, 35 years ago, wrote his fascinating prophecy, "Looking Backward" from the year 2000, people gasped at his daring while appreciating his imagination. In one astounding chapter the "Rip Van Winkle" of the narrative is taken to the music room, where he is asked to make known his choice from a very long 24-hour music program. He indicates an organ piece; his hostess "made me sit down comfortably, and, crossing the room, so far as I could see, merely touched one or two screws, and at once the room was filled with the music of a grand organ anthem."

Such an incredible prophecy that the Bellamy work has classified in the libraries as "fiction;" and so speedily has scientific development occurred that in many libraries it still is "fiction." Yet this is only 1924, not 2000, and by the time the Bellamy era of prediction is reached who dares to foretell the achievements of men.

The radio is an accomplished fact. Man has discovered a great secret; now he sets to work to develop and apply it. The limitation of the human voice exists no longer, and a whisper thrown to the air becomes instantaneously a chorus in a million homes.

Its possibilities are so limitless that the day is not far distant when every home, every building, public, private, will be equipped to receive the signals from the air. The radio receiving set will be as much a part of the building as the furnace and the kitchen stove. It will be possible as it is now, for every man, woman or child to hear, at the instant of transmission, whatever is given to the air.

What then? When every home, when every building in the country, in the civilized world, has its windows set to let in the voice of the world, just as today every home has its windows to let in the sunlight and fresh air, how best will this wonderful discovery be used for the convenience of mankind? There is a field for a Jules Verne to explore—he could fling a man around the world in 80 days, today a message is flung around the world in as many seconds.

But all speculation dies away before the inevitability of further and even greater advances in the use of the new medium. Millions whose imagination has been captured by the geni of the air are giving their minds and their enthusiasm to this task. Daily experiments are recorded. A United States general has just announced one great step. Inventions are cumulative. Given a key to the beginning and development follows more rapidly almost than the layman can follow, or the manufacturer produce the appliances.

It is not too much to anticipate the radiophone as the supreme medium of human fellowship, whereby all people may grow closer together in thought and purpose, with the inevitable dissipation of differences which comes with understanding.

This great triumph of peace has brought to the present day a stimulus and interest so much greater than anything recorded in history that it seems as though it can not do less than reconstruct the very basis of humanity's daily intercourse and relations.

WHAT ONE READS COUNTS

Because a man has the reputation of being "well read" does not mean that he reads omnivorously. Franklin is often pictured as a man who read everything he could acquire, even taking time from his work to read. But in Franklin's day literature had not been commercialized to the extent to which it is today and only the very best thought on any subject ever found its way into type.

It is worse than a waste of time to read much of the diatribe that is today printed for the dollars a gullible public will pay for it. It not only serves no worthy purpose but inculcates a perverted viewpoint of the fundamental facts of life itself. The number of things which it is desirable to read is so large and the average person's leisure so limited that much discrimination should be exercised in the selection of reading matter.

There is such a thing, also, as excessive reading of books to which no objection can be raised. It may cause mental indigestion. In some persons it is not conducive to original thinking, since they get in the habit of depending on the things which they find in print instead of working out problems for themselves.

It is best to choose reading matter carefully and deliberately, and to read carefully and with full understanding. The quality of what is perused is what counts, not the quantity.

It isn't the original cost of the bobbed bean, either—it's the upkeep.

SHERIFF

As a candidate in the Republican primaries for the office of Sheriff, I desire to clearly define my position on the future conduct of that office if elected.

My experience as a deputy sheriff of Jackson County, and as a State Traffic Officer, has taught me that no peace officer can give satisfactory and efficient service to the public when his authority and responsibility are shared by another. The present unsatisfactory law enforcing conditions is largely attributable to divided authority between antagonistic peace officers, elements that are cer in to produce conflict, inefficiency and useless expense.

If elected I shall insist upon and expect to maintain the right to perform all the duties of Sheriff in this county, and it follows that I will be uncompromisingly opposed to special officers except Federal Agents, with whom I pledge full and complete cooperation. I am in thorough accord with both the letter and spirit of the prohibition laws and pledge my active and untiring efforts in their enforcement.
J. J. McMAHON.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce my candidacy for County Judge, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary, on the following platform:

Reduce taxes through an economical and business-like administration of county affairs. Stop needless expenditures and waste and give proper support and attention to good roads, public schools and other vital and public necessities. Enforce the prohibition law efficiently and properly through proper agencies and eliminate special law enforcing organizations which are now causing divided authority and needless expense. Give to all a fair, square deal and not be responsible to any political faction, clique or organization.
1521tf WILLIAM ULRICH.

Interested Parties See Holdings

In order that they might see the progress that is being made at the Hartman Syndicate shale holdings, William J. Lylequist of McMinnville, N. J. Sykes and J. E. Fagerlie of Portland, spent the week-end in Ashland. They were among the pleased people taken over the holdings and fed at 2 o'clock with a chicken dinner.

At the earnest solicitation of many friends who have importuned me, I have finally consented to place myself before the Republican voters for the office of Sheriff, believing that the efficient, orderly and economical manner in which my office has been, and is now, conducted warrants my re-election, if elected I promise to continue my present policies of law enforcement, efficiency, economy and strict attention to duty in the affairs pertaining to the office.
C. E. TERRILL.

CAMBERS FOR SHERIFF

To the Republican Electors of Jackson county, Oregon:
I hereby announce myself as candidate for the office of Sheriff of Jackson county, subject to the wishes of the Republican voters to be expressed at the primary election to be held on May 16, '24.

In announcing my candidacy I wish to state for the information of the voters that I have had four years clerical experience in the Auditor and Recorder's office of Churchill county, Nevada; that I also served four years as the county clerk of said county, and feel that I am eminently qualified to fill the position.

I strongly favor law enforcement, especially the liquor laws, the violation of which has become a great menace to the commonwealth. I also favor the enforcement of the motor vehicle law to the end that the lives of people and property may be protected from the acts of careless and reckless drivers.

I shall, if elected, bestow special attention to the matter of collecting taxes, and the executive duties of my office.

JUDGE YOUR CONGRESSMAN BY HIS VOTE

Yamhill, Oregon,
April 16, 1924

Hon. W. C. Hawley,
Representative to Congress,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. Hawley:

I note by your platform that you say you will diligently work for farmers' relief. As your opponent I should like to ask you, as a farmer, if you were working diligently for farmers' relief on August 22nd, 1921, when the Farmers Relief Export Bill was up for passage, which bill you will have to admit would have then done more than a dozen McNary-Haugen bills can do now for the farmer. The congressional records show you failed to vote for the farmers by not voting at all.

What relief do you figure you were giving the farmers when on November 29th, 1922, you voted for the Ship Subsidy Bill, which would not only have literally given our Merchant Marine to private parties as our Navy Oil fields were given away, but it also provided a bonus for the recipients for the operation of them.

Also what relief did you diligently seek in behalf of the farmers and laborers when on February 21st, 1920, you cast your vote for the Esch-Cummins Bill with its 6 per cent guarantee, including very objectionable labor provisions?

Also on June 15th, 1921, when Representative Scott of Michigan undertook to destroy the LaFollette Seaman's Law on the Great Lakes by repealing the lifesaving requirements and the safety provisions for the proper running, why did you again side step your responsibility by failing to vote?

Also on October 22nd, 1921, when the National Income Tax was up for consideration, why did you vote with the profiteers to repeal the excess profit tax and reduce the surtax rates on incomes of millionaires from 65 per cent to 32 per cent which the Progressives in Congress after a hard fight were able to raise to 50 per cent?

You say you are for adjusted compensation for the soldier boys. How is it we have failed to hear of your endorsing the Ladd Bonus Bill which has been before Congress several years? The Ladd Bonus Bill would also give temporal relief to the farmer.

You say you heartily endorse the McNary-Haugen Export Bill, at least press reports state you do. Why could you not have endorsed the Norris-Sinclair Agricultural Bill which did not pop up before Congress just before election, but has been before Congress for several years?

Not Higher Priced

Without costing more than ordinary tires, these great oversize C-T-C hand-built low inflation cords represent every higher standard in tire making and service.

C-T-C's are heavier, stronger and more durable than tires you have been accustomed to. This superiority obtains by using only the highest grade materials, improved compounding, hand-building under restricted production and the most rigid inspection.

There is also a C-T-C hand-built Balloon tire for extreme low inflation, which fits any standard wheel and rim.

C-T-C Tubes add mileage to almost any casing.
