- (6) Loans to Individuals and Corporations Some payable whenever the Bank asks for them and the balance varying specified dates. 18,364.01

TOTAL TO PAY THOSE WHOM THE BANK OWES $1,270,326.25

THIS IS THE EXCESS OF CASH, SECURITIES AND INVESTMENTS OVER THE SUM THE BANK OWES $ 150,452.56

Which is the sum invested by its stockholders for the security of those whom the Bank owes. In addition to which its stockholders are also liable for the further sum of $100,00.00.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that the above statement correctly sets forth the financial condition of the First National Bank of Ashland, Oregon, at the close of business April 23, 1924.

(SEAL) WHITCOMB, PIEPENBRINK & CO., ACCOUNTANTS AND TAX COUNSELORS

The above is a condensed statement of condition of the First National Bank of Ashland, on April 23d, 1924, as certified to by Whitcomb, Piepenbrink & Co., Certified Public Accountants of Portland, Oregon.

For years it has been the custom of City banks to employ certified accountants to make such examinations, but in so far as we can learn, the First National Bank of Ashland is the first among county banks to adopt the plan. This examination, involving considerable expense, is not one required of us by the National Bank authorities, and is entirely separate and distinct from the examinations made by the Government Examiners.

We believe this condensed statement, with its explanatory notes, all as furnished by Whitcomb, Piepenbrink & Co., will be of interest to our customers and the banking public.

The First National Bank of Ashland is a clean, conservative bank with an efficient working force, a bank of which we feel that Ashland, as well as ourselves, has a right to be proud.
