Announcement
I am pleased to announce to the residents of Ashland that I have taken over the Agency for the S. F. Examiner, Chronicle, Call and the Portland Oregonian in Ashland, beginning June 1st, 1924. Subscribers will confer a favor to the undersigned to call at my store Corner E. Main and Pioneer Ave., and pay for their subscription for the month of June; also reporting any irregularity in the service. Just drop in when you are down town and pay your paper bill, this will enable us to keep a more accurate account and simplify the service. Phone 52. Respectfully yours, A. C. Ninsinger, 253-4f

Baby Dismissed—
The baby of Mrs. Carl Pierson of Medford had recovered from an operation and was dismissed from the hospital yesterday.

See our picnic table, Holmes Grocery.

Left Wednesday—
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Carter, with Mrs. Pernie Johnson, left Wednesday for Portland, where the Carters went to coast resorts and Mrs. Johnson left to visit relatives in eastern Oregon.

Bulowski's Apollo Players of Ocean Park at Los Angeles are drawing large crowds at Jackson Hot Springs, with all the snappy dance hits of the season.

Back From Orange—
J. R. Lilly and wife returned recently from Orange, California, where they attended the wedding of their son Kenneth.

Loses Cow—
J. R. McCracken of Valley View lost a valuable milk cow this morning with milk fever. This is the third animal he has lost within a few weeks. Fortunately, however, he had heard of the Foot and Mouth Disease in California and had his stock insured from death from any cause with the Billings Agency.

Isaac Ad Correction—
The E. R. Isaac & Co., ad in Friday's Tidings, near the bottom of the ad should have read "Buy Your Spring Coats Now", instead of spring clothing. The difference in the statements is Spring Coats are being sold at half price, while clothing would include every item of wearing apparel for spring.

Mrs. Hubbard Resigns—
Mrs. Dora Hubbard, for a few years has been the manager of the Bell telephone company's office in Ashland, has resigned, because of her health. Miss Myrtle Otterdale, who has been acting in the capacity of manager during Mrs. Hubbard's illness and recovery, has been appointed permanent manager. Miss Otterdale is a competent and courteous young woman and one who will carry on the high standard of courteous and genuine friendliness established by Mrs. Hubbard, between the company and the community.

Sweet cream for whipping and coffee—also fresh milk, always on ice at the Plaza. 239-1f

48 Stop—
Forty-eight tourist machines stopped in Lithia Park last night. In these autos were 178 persons. 29 machines were from California, two from Arizona, five from Washington, one from New York, one from Wyoming, and the others were Oregon machines. J. G. Livney of New York City had the distinction of being the tourist farthest from home, last night.

Of Interest—
A permanent fishway in Ramey falls will permit the fish to pass on up the river no matter how low the water may become in the future. The channel blasted out during the past week under the supervision of the state fish commission is 50 yards long, eight feet wide and two feet deep. The effects are already being seen with steelheads now being found in good quantities ascending the river, after being held up there for some time. Fishermen report the taking of a number of steelheads on the Rogue below Grants Pass. The matter of blasting out the fishway in the falls was taken up with the fish commission after an investigation showed that they could not get over—Grants Pass Courier.

Visited Highland Mine—
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jordan went to Highland mine last Sunday, for a vacation and fishing trip, with the Matters. The Jordans returned Friday afternoon. Part of the trip was made, not horseback, but, on muleback. They report good fishing, incidentally installing a radio set for the Matters.

40 MICE, OWL AND GROUSE ENACT ROLE OF TAR BABY
VALCOUVER, B. C., June 27.—Remindful of the fable of the Tar Baby was the spectacle of forty woodmice, eight young grouse and an owl immovable on the only roadbed of the Malahat Drive outside of Victoria, Vancouver Island.

During the hot sunshine the victims became embedded in the newly-laid oily surface. The grouse, crossing the road in the wake of the parent-bird, sank in to the soft mass and became fast. The parent bird, using its wings, won its way clear of the sticky substance. As darkness crept in woodmice hoped out along the road, only to fall in the same sticky trap.

The owl, seeing the mice and with visions of a gorgeous banquet, alighted on the road, only to become a prisoner like the rest. Road repairers freed the owl, which staggered toward a nearby woods with difficulty.

"SCANDAL SHEET" IS RECEIVED BY PAPER
The "Scandal Sheet," as the University of Oregon news bulletin is known, was received by the Tidings today. The bulletin gives the names and grades of all University students. A glance at the grades received by a few Ashland students disclosed some grief, as well as some excellent records.

The bulletin is on file at the Tidings office, and any palpitating student who wishes to look at the grade sheet is at liberty to do so.

Will Take Courses—
Courses in athletic coaching will be attended by Coach J. P. Brown, of the local high school, who left last night for Los Angeles, where he is to attend the University of Southern California summer school. Rockney, of Notre Dame, is in charge of the football classes, and Coach Brown expects to bring back some new ideas that will make the other valley teams sit up and take notice this fall—Grants Pass Courier.

FOR SALE—Old papers at Tidings; 25c per bundle. dh

SCENE IS CHANGED FOR HILL CLIMBING CONTEST

A change has been made in the location of the motorcycle hill climbing contests to be staged here on the hill on the July 3 and 4, and instead of holding the events at the corner of Winburn Way and Granite streets they will be staged at the hill immediately back of the colored slide screen at the entrance to the auto camp. The hill there is so steep that it will afford more spectacular contests than the first announced location, and those in charge of the events predict that some daredevil feats will be performed by many of the entrants.

Entrants in the contests are still coming in, indicating keen southern Oregon and northern competition among the riders of California.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

In the cure of diseases by refrigeration, cold air is the readiest substitute for cold water. In the higher latitudes Nature supplies the remedy free of cost for six months of each year, and intermittently hundreds of times even in midsummer and at the threshold of the tropics, for the reduction of temperature in the early morning hours generally suffices to restore the functional vigor of the jaded organism.

The remedial effect of cold air equals that of cold water; air-cures, indeed, offer the advantage of superior facility of application for the cure of respiratory disorders. Expurgative currents of cold air can be made to reach the tissues of the lungs, and the significance of that circumstance is commensurate with the prevalence of a delusion, most mischievous in its results, the theory of "cold" as a cause of disease, and the current theories concerning the cause of catarrh and consumption.

"Consumption," says an advocate of medical reform, "is a house-disease, and the plan of confining its victim in overheated, ill-ventilated sick-rooms favors the development of its germs to a degree which the remedial powers of Nature strive in vain to counteract. Not drugs or warmth, but cold pure air is Nature's specific for its cure."

That "colds," or catarrhal affections, are so very common—so much, indeed as to be considerably more frequent than all other diseases taken together—is mainly due to the fact that the cause of no other disorder of the human organism is so generally misunderstood. Few persons have recognized the origin of yellow fever; about the primary cause of asthma we are all in the dark; but in regard to "colds" alone the prevailing misconception of the truth has reached the degree of mistaking the cause for a cure and the most effective cure for the cause of the disease. If we inquire after that cause, at least ninety-nine patients out of a hundred, and at least nine out of ten physicians, would answer: "Cold weather," "raw March winds," or "cold draughts" in other words, outdoor air of a low temperature.

If we inquire after the best cure the answer would be, warmth and protection against cold draughts—that is, warm, stagnant, indoor air.

CALDWELL WRITES
boys hit ocean but MISS THE TARGET
(By Cleon Caldwell)
FORT CASEY, June 27.—Well, seeing as Maggie McGee, the Tidings regular correspondent, is suffering from brain fatigue trying to figure why we keep missing the target, I will write his line today and show him up.

Today we played seven innings of whoop-em-up baseball with Marshfield and licked them 1 to 0. The game was called due to a Pudget Sound mist. We had no umpire during the seventh because he threw his arm out of joint motioning for Dave Sargent to get out of the way. Dave had stopped between the pitcher and the batter to sound a few words of encouragement for the local boys.

Shooting the big guns is more hard work than most of us are used to. All we have to do is clean out the gun, put in three gunny sacks of powder, get a ton shell out of the basement, put it in, aim and shoot every half a minute. We always miss the target, but we hit the ocean every time.

FOR GIRLS AND JUNIORS

This model gives an entirely new touch to the frock of gingham, featuring as it does an applied front which may be of contrasting material. The applied panel is also continued at the back, and the rounded edges are trimmed with a band of material that matches the skirt. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yard 36-inch plain, 2 1/2 yards 36-inch check material, with 1 yard of muslin for use under the panels.
