Prima Donna Takes Pine By The Forelock

LADY'S AXMAN, well known American prima donna gives an exhibition of versatility as well as virtuosity. She reaches a high note of perfection not only on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, but also in the production of such masterpieces of the culinary art as Pineapple Souffle, the first step to which she was taking at the moment the photographer snapped her. She very graciously consented to give her favorite recipe for this delicacy.

Cream 1 1/2 tablespoons each crisco and flour, add 1 cup pincapple and juice. Cook five minutes, remove from fire, add a little salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 3 beaten egg yolks. Bake in greased dish 20 minutes. Serve with the following sauce: Cook 2 tablespoons creamed crisco in double boiler, add 2 yolks of egg, 1 at a time, beat, and add 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 teaspoonful of lemon juice, and 1/2 cup of whipped cream. Serve hot.

LEMONS AS A BEAUTY-AID LEMON-SHERBET

MANY cosmetics are expensive, but anybody can afford to buy a lemon a day. In this fruit Nature has provided not only a delightful flavoring agent and garnish, but a real toilet aid as well. Lemon juice, clear or diluted with pure water, is an excellent bleach for those whose skin easily freckles or turns. It is also valuable for manicuring, as it removes stains from the fingers and nails. Lemon juice as a hair rinse is especially valuable for those who have oily hair. It cuts the curd often formed by the use of soap and leaves the hair soft, clean and fluffy after the shampoo. Many professional beauty parlors use a lemon rinse with every shampoo. Lemon juice is good also as an occasional dentifrice. It is an excellent astringent for flabby necks and cheeks, and is said to be much used in the tropics in foot baths, to relieve swollen, tired feet. Lastly, the internal benefits of lemon juice should not be forgotten. Lemon juice in water, without sugar, is an excellent tonic to take upon first rising in the morning. Many persons find this morning "lemon cocktail" not only a mouth sweetener and an appetizer, but a gentle laxative as well.

Soak gelatine in water five minutes. Boil sugar, water, and grated lemon rind together for five minutes. Add gelatine, which has been softened in the two tablespoons of cold water, remove from heat and stir until gelatine is entirely dissolved. Cool, add lemon juice, and freeze. Some cooks add the beaten white of an egg when the mixture is half frozen, but with the gelatine the egg is not needed to give body to the sherbet.

If orange sherbet is desired, use only 2 cups water to make the syrup and add two cups of orange juice with the lemon juice just before freezing. Berry juices, strained, are also good, added to the basic recipe for lemon sherbet.

iced tea is probably the favorite home beverage for hot weather, but children should never be allowed to drink this tempting, ice-tinkling, refreshing liquid, say the doctors and food specialists, who all agree that it makes children nervous, and retards rather than aids healthy development. A pitcher of orangeade or lemonade should be prepared for the children on hot noons and nights when grown people are enjoying their iced teas. Oranges are especially good for children, furnishing a high percentage of vitamins so necessary for growth. In addition, orange and lemon juice supply valuable mineral salts and healthful mild acids to the system, and act as a gentle laxative. Best of all, nearly everybody, juvenile or adult, really likes drinks made of these all year round fruit juices.

EVERYTHING FOUND ON IDAHO THAT IS IN MUNICIPALITY

A vertible floating city is the U. S. S. Idaho, largest ship in the United States navy, on which Luther M. Richards, now in Ashland visiting home folks, is stationed.

The Idaho is complete from power plant to postoffice, and capable of administering to the needs of the 1300 persons who live on the ship. It takes an old hand to find his way around the ship.

In size, the ship might be compared to a building seven stories high, and covering twelve blocks. A jail, patrolmen, even traffic cops, are found on the boat. Four 300 kilowatt generators supply light and power.

Doctors and dentists are provided, there is a bakery that turns out half a ton of bread daily, the laundry is so large that it does work for other ships of the Pacific fleet and two three-ton ice machines are in constant operation.

To provide water, a distillery which converts ocean water into a usable form, turns out 20,000 gallons a day.

There are merchants, too, on the floating city. A cobbler, a five-chair barber shop, an up-to-date department store, a newspaper, a hardware store, and other places to take the gov's hard earned money.

Cleanliness amounts almost to a mania on the ship. It is always being painted, washed off, and shined.

The church of which Lieutenant T. J. Burke is chaplain, is a feature soon noted on the ship. Schools, too, and a band and movies are attractions.

Athletics are very much in evidence, with football, baseball, boxing and basketball the favorite sports.

When the Mississippi tragedy occurred a few weeks ago, it was the Idaho that took the leading part in rescue work.

CLAIM AMERICA LEADS WORLD IN CHEMICAL RESEARCH

NEW YORK, July 12.—America still leads the world in chemical research, maintaining the supremacy which for the first time she wrested from Germany during the World War, say officials of the American Chemical Society, which makes public the result of an inquiry by Dr. E. J. Crane, of the Ohio State University.

Attributing to Dr. J. C. Irvine, of Scotland, the statement that "the center of chemistry has moved to America, the report points out that greatness in this field has been largely a recent development, only feeble beginnings having been made at the time of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776.

Dr. Crane arrives at his conclusions by a compilation of data based on chemical abstracts. "The amount of work," he says, "done in the various countries during any period of time can be gauged with considerable accuracy by the number of abstracts published in 'Chemical Abstracts' of papers appearing in the journals of these countries.

"To be sure, a citizen of one country occasionally publishes in a journal of another, but this does not happen often enough to make any significant difference except in the case of a few of the smaller countries, as Denmark, which do not have important chemical journals of their own."

During the last year, according to Dr. Crane, 6,014 abstracts, or 32.1 per cent of the world total, were published in the United States. In Germany, 5,064, or 27 per cent were published. In Great Britain, 2,890, or 15.4 per cent, are recorded, while France has 2,214, or 11.3 per cent. The whole number of abstracts is given as 17,736.

"As might be expected," Dr. Crane continues, "the recovery since the war of the more seriously affected European countries has reduced the high percentage lead maintained by the United States in 1917 and 1918. However the approximately 50 per cent gain in percentage standing (from 21.1 to 32.1 per cent of total) in ten years, with the war over five years ago, is significant.

"British chemists have maintained a steady productivity, with a small gain in position. France and Germany have recovered well, and about equally, from their considerably lowered percentages during the war, Belgium, too, has come back strong. None of these three countries, however, has regained its pre-war position.

"The recovery of Austria and Russia has been slowest. Japan is gaining in importance as a country turning out valuable chemical research. The two new countries — Czecho-Slovakia and Poland—are showing chemical activity, and Rumania and China now deserve a place in the list."

Summarizing chemical development in America, it was recalled that the Revolutionary period produced outstanding figures in Joseph Priestly and Count Rumford.

Something for Nothing

There is something for something and nothing for nothing. It can't be done. When you buy something worth while you must pay a worth-while price.

Think that over. When you're sick do you send for a doctor because he is cheap? No, of course you don't. You want the best doctor, because you want to get well, and you don't stop to figure the cost.

Then why figure on cheap plumbing and heating? The best plumbing and heating preserve your health—prevent sickness. The doctor cures you after you are sick; the plumber keeps you from getting sick.

A good plumber is just as important as a good doctor. Don't forget that. If you have the best plumbing and heating in your home you will cut down your calls for the doctor.

Don't try to get something for nothing. When it comes to plumbing and heating, ask for the best—insist on it—for the best is none too good. And the best is the cheapest—always.

AMERICA WILL TEST NATIONAL DEFENSES ON SEPTEMBER 12

CHICAGO, June 13.—September 12, the sixth anniversary of the Battle of St. Mihel, has been named by the War Department as the date on which the proposed "defense test," or "mobilization demonstration," will be held here as in virtually every other community in the United States, according to word from headquarters of the Sixth Corps Area.

"The main object of this demonstration is to educate individuals in local communities in their responsibilities and the part they must play in the national defense," Major-General Harry C. Hale, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, said.

"Through this demonstration, which will include a test mobilization of every organized unit of the Army of the United States, the community will be made to realize what demands would be put upon it in the event of a national emergency.

"The efficiency of our mobilization plans will be tested."

Units To Parade

"The 'defense test' plan will be carried out locally by patriotic assemblies and a parade of United States Army units stationed near Chicago, of the Illinois National Guard, civic and war veteran societies, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Boy Scouts and other organizations.

In accordance with the expressed wish of President Coolidge that this be "in so far as practicable a demonstration of the loyalty and patriotism of the civilian population," civilian committees will be appointed to assume full charge of all arrangements.

Folks Like Our Breads

Simply because they are better—ingredients, mixing, baking, appearance.

Franklin Bakery Phone 199

Local commanders of military units will work with the local mobilization committees and give them the benefit of expert military service.

It is planned to have each local unit of the Army of the United States filled for the day with civilians of military age, who volunteer for that day only, to serve with the unit.

Speeches on Defense

Plans for the day in Chicago include, in addition to the "parade of military organizations to show the true condition of the United States Army," public addresses on the theme of national defense and explanation of detailed plans for mobilization, covering shelter, supply training and sanitary arrangements.

All local units of the Regular Army, National Guard and Organized Reserve will then participate in the "test mobilization."

At an appointed hour, not yet determined, these units will engage in a sort of "dress rehearsal" mobilization, assembling at their home stations or armories.

"It is hoped," Major-General Hale said, "that this demonstration will give to civilians a general idea, of our plans for mobilization as well as a chance to express in a practical way their loyalty and patriotism to their Government in time of peace."
