STATE SAYS TWO CASES ARE ALIKE

Deadly Parallel Drawn by Attorney Marshall in Murder Trial

SAYS HANGING IS JUST

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—A deadly parallel between Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, scions of wealth and luxury, and Bernard Grant, a poor Chicago street wail, was today drawn in Judge Caverly's court by Thomas Marshall, one of the State's attorneys who is seeking the death penalty and argued that the defendants should be sent to the gallows for slaying Bobby Franks.

Marshall pointed out that Bernard Grant, 19, is in jail in Chicago now for murdering a policeman. Loeb and Leopold, he said, are also 19. Marshall said that facts showed that Grant was caught robbing a store, struggled with a policeman, and during the battle, shot him and ran. He was tried and convicted of murder, and the Supreme court fixed the day of execution.

Wants Justice
Is Bernard Grant, 19, without advantage, and buffeted about on the sea of circumstances over which he had no control, to go to the gallows under the law, and these defendants, with every advantage, who deliberately plotted a crime, and carried it to its ghastly completion, be allowed to escape the supreme penalty? Marshall asked in one of his eloquent outbursts. The courtroom was packed, mostly with women.

State's Attorney Crowe today announced that nothing less than death would satisfy him; that the case was one of plain murder, carefully planned and carried out, and the "driest crime in the history of the country."
During the testimony of witnesses, 25 days elapsed, during which more than 100 lay witnesses and alienists were called.

Yesterday, Attorney Marshall sketched the killing of the 14-year-old school boy, the planning, the execution, the stripping of the body, and the other incidents.
"Lesser penalty than death would mean violation of the letter and spirit of the law," he said.
Marshall held that Chief Justice Caverly, presiding in the case, had no right to exercise discretion in meting out the punishment, except in "discretion in carrying out the will of the law." Marshall recited numerous precedents on this point.

RIVER OF MUD ON MT. SHASTA SLOWING UP

McCloud-Bartle Road Covered for Half Mile; Railroad Tracks Submerged
McLOUD, Calif., Aug. 20.—Presumably because of the cold weather, which is believed to have diminished the rapid melting of an immense fragment of a Mt. Shasta glacier, the river of mud which for more than a week has been flowing to the McCloud River at a point three miles from here, today was noticeably decreased in volume.

Whether the slowing up of the phenomenon is an indication that its complete cessation is nearing is questionable, since those who have made the closest study of the unusual stream since its birth say that it has previously showed signs of halting, only to start again with increased vigor.

A road crew has abandoned an attempt to clear the wagon road between McCloud and Bartle, which has been rendered impassable by the flow. The mud blockade covers the road for nearly half a mile. The mud will not be cleared away, but will be allowed to dry and a new county road graded over its surface.

MEDFORD DRIVER HAS CLOSE CALL

F. J. Newman, Medford resident, had a narrow escape from death Sunday when returning home from a visit to this city. Without any warning whatever, the car jumped ahead at full speed, and to avoid hitting another car directly in front, Mr. Newman steered his car into the ditch. The car turned over, but Newman luckily escaped injury.

LOCAL BAND TO PLAY AT COUNTY FAIR

Ashland Concert Organization to be Feature of "Ashland Day"

COMES ON THURSDAY

Race Program is Strongest Ever Arranged in Southern Oregon; Many Entries
The Ashland Band has been employed to play on Ashland Day at the Jackson County Fair. They will play during the races in the afternoon and give an hour concert in the evening.

The space, which the band occupied when playing in the grand stand will accommodate from seventy-five to one hundred people and because of the expense program which the Fair Association has this year, will be required for the revenue that will be derived from same.

New Arrangement
In the past two years the grand stand, during the afternoon races, has been filled to capacity and people turned away on each of the last three days of the fair but only about fifty per cent filled on the first day. This year the first day Wednesday, will be Medford Day and the second, Thursday, Ashland Day.

Big Races
The race program is the strongest that has ever been presented to the people of Southern Oregon. Last year the horse races, with thirty entries, were considered the best ever seen here and this year there are exactly one hundred horses entering in the trotting and pacing races and some thirty or forty horses will participate in the running races so that the claim of good horse races this year is absolutely justified.

The Fair Association is asking that all the stores in Ashland close at twelve o'clock noon on Ashland Day, September 11th, and they are asking that all barber shops in the county close at noon on the first, second and third days of the fair.

"FLAPPER ITCH" DUE TO SHAVING NECKS

Malady Afflicting Hundreds of Women; Young Girls Are Severely Afflicted
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 20.—Other and more bothersome style nuisances than fur chokers are encircling the necks of Pittsburgh flappers this summer, according to Chief of Police Surgeon Daniel Sable.

"Flapper itch" is the newest trouble to locate on or about that part of the neck just below where the young girl's brain is supposed to be, and Dr. Sable asserts it's getting serious.
The Malady—which has effected hundreds of women, particularly girls of high school age—was discovered by Dr. Sable while he was on vaccination duty. It is caused by frequent neck-shaving required for the perfect bobbed-hair effect. "Flapper's rash" is another name for it.

COMMITTEE WILL DEFEND ITS REPORT ON FRAUDULENT STOCK

PORTLAND, August 20.—Oswald West, former governor of Oregon and chairman of Governor Pierce's committee investigating alleged fraudulent stock and bond sales in Oregon and whose report charged the Ladd & Tilton Bank, of Portland, with responsibility of the sale of stock in the alleged defunct Kings Food Products Company today issued a statement saying:

"The committee is prepared to defend its report at any time and any place, before any tribunal."
West's statement answered a statement made earlier by Edward Cookingham, president of the accused bank, who denounced the report "as untrue and libelous." "I would suggest to Mr. Cookingham that the bank bring suit against members of the committee on the grounds of libel," West said.

NEXT TAX PAYMENT TO AWAIT DECISION

Commission Expected to Issue Order Today Granting Delay; Court on Vacation
SALEM, Aug. 20.—Payment of the second installment of the state income tax probably will be deferred until 10 days after the supreme court has handed down a decision as to the constitutionality of the income tax law, according to announcement made at the offices of the state tax commission today.

The second installment of the state income tax originally was due and payable on June 20, but because of a legal attack made on the constitutionality of the act payment was deferred until July 20. Failure of the supreme court to hand down an opinion before July 20 caused the tax commission again to delay payment of the tax until August 20.

The constitutional issue of the state income tax law was attacked in the Marion county circuit court by the Standard Lumber company of Portland, on the grounds that it provided for the payment of the tax by non-resident stockholders in domestic corporations.
Judges George G. Bingham and Percy Kelly, sitting en banc, held for the lumber company.
The state, through the attorney-general, then appealed the case to the supreme court for final determination.

CRUISER RICHMOND LATE WITH REPAIRS

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 20.—The cruiser Richmond arrived too late to allow Lieutenants Smith and Nelson to make necessary repairs to their damaged planes so that the jump to Cape Farewell, Greenland, was necessarily postponed until tomorrow morning, at which time the flight will be made, weather permitting.
Admiral Magruder, in charge of the navy ships assisting the fliers in the flight across the Atlantic, announced that unless the globe circlers hop off before August 24, it is more than likely that they will have to fly without the protection of a convoy, due to the need of fuel for the ships in the convoy.

RARE JEWELS OF MRS. MORS ARE FOUND

Detectives Locate Missing Jewelry in Possession of McCoy's Sister

SAY ROBBERY MOTIVE

Prosecutor Says Location of Jewels Damaging to Former Prizefighter
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—The most important development in connection with the death of Mrs. Teresa Mors, detective state, was unearthed today in the location of the jewelry owned by the woman, with whose murder Kid McCoy was charged.

Three pieces of rare jewelry valued at $30,000 were found in the possession of lawyers representing Mrs. Jessie Thomas, sister of McCoy. The valuable recovery was made by detectives and was given to Mrs. Thomas shortly after Mrs. Mors was killed. It is charged.

MCCOY IS ARRAIGNED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Kid McCoy exclaimed "I did not" in court here today when arraigned on an indictment charging him with the murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors. His lawyers quickly silenced him and McCoy was given until Monday to enter a formal plea to the indictment, which contains eight counts, charging murder, assault and robbery.

125,000 RABBITS KILLED BY POISON

Poisoning Campaign in Umatilla and Morrow Counties Highly Successful This Year
HEPPNER, Ore., August 20.—Rabbits in the eastern section of Oregon are not so particular about their summer diet this season, members of the United States biological survey discovered recently. Poisoned sweets have come into unprecedented favor among the bunnies of this district.

But never before in the history of the poisoning campaigns in eastern Oregon have the wheat pests evidenced an appetite for the bitterness of strychnine. Previous efforts to give them the poison have been futile, Ira N. Gabrielson of the United States biological survey says. Sugar coated or not, the foxy animals were seldom tempted by this "prepared" food.

REPUBLICAN RECORD PRAISED BY DAWES

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 20.—Speaking at Evanston, Illinois, last night, General Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee to the vice-presidency of the United States, in his speech of acceptance, declared that the coming campaign is one of domestic issues.

The record of the Republican party, and of President Coolidge, in reducing the cost of government operation, was lauded. "President Coolidge, with fearless common sense, endeavors to do the right and wise thing in the interests of the nation," said Mr. Dawes.

An attack being made on the fundamental principals of the Constitution was scored. Mr. Dawes declared that the Republican party—the party of progressive conservation, had taken its stand squarely on the Constitution.

Lying between—the armies of progressive conservatism and of radicalism—is the Democratic party, with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue," said the candidate.

BOY 4, AND GIRL 4, DROWNED IN DITCH

PLACERVILLE, Calif., Aug. 20.—Clifford Crews, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crews, and Wilda Lumley, were drowned in the Western States ditch back of Camino Yesterlyville Dr. S. H. Rantz of Placerville in attendance on another of the Crews children, had been at the Crews home for about twenty minutes, and had just left when Mrs. Crews called the children, both of whom had been playing in the yard.

Falling to get an answer, she walked to the edge of the ditch, where tiny wet footprints on a plank indicated the presence of the children a short time before. Becoming alarmed, Mrs. Crews secured aid and an immediate search was instituted.

AGED WIDOW FOUND IN LONELY CABIN

MARTHUR, Calif., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Ella Parks, 83, a widow living alone in a cabin a mile and one-half east of this place, was found dead in her home Sunday morning.

Mrs. Parks had a son who bought the house in which she lived. He left here before the war and worked on the railroad between Sacramento and Reno. He remitted money enough regularly at Christmas time to support his mother through the coming year. The son, however, went to war and as remittances ceased it has been concluded that he perished while in the service. Since the war Mrs. Parks was cared for otherwise.

IMMIGRATION LAW WORKING EFFICIENTLY

Commissioner Sees Results Now in Trial of Few Months

PROTECTING BORDERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The new immigration act which went into effect July 1, has resulted in clarifying the entire situation with which it dealt, W. W. Hubbard, commissioner of immigration, has announced. Only minor difficulties in putting the law into operation have been experienced and these shortly will be ironed out.

The millions in Europe who a few years ago were anxious to emigrate to the United States have accepted the condition confronting them, and if the wild desire to come to the new world still exists it is being held in check, according to Mr. Hubbard. In his opinion it is too early to say whether the new law is bringing a better class of immigrants here.

The chief source of difficulty under the Johnson act is the provision that immigrants from Mexico and Central American countries must come supplied with certain documents, attesting to the period of their residence there. Most immigrants came without the necessary papers. The same provision applies to Canadians, who understand it better, however.

SMUGGLING TENDENCY GROWS

The new law has had a tendency to increase smuggling of immigrants but the Johnson act created a special "border patrol" now being organized to consist of 450 picked men, half to be stationed along the Mexican border, the other half along the Canadian frontier. One of the earliest of these men to be named was shot in the performance of duty near Buffalo, N. Y.

The new law has not overcome what was an ever-present condition under the old statute, the efforts of foreigners here, either naturalized or still aliens, to help bring in relatives and friends.
