 AFTER THE DEER  One Thrilling Chase By Alenzo Gissing  Illustrated by a Pastorial Sketch *****

According to the Governor, the men who chase the deer may now pursue the nimble game and never have a fear that some game warden will step in, and in their ear will cry, "It's agin' the law to pack a gun, the forests are too dry."

With all the other animals, the rough-neck grizzly bear expects to hunt the hunter and is practicing in his lair. The sketch of Bruin shown above, while Wiffee bears the brunt, show's what he'll do to the hunters, when the hunters start to hunt.

SACRAMENTO TO REVIVE PAGEANT

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 22.—"The Days of '49", which won this city world fame in 1922, will be revived on Monday, Sept. 29th, for the entertainment of the delegates to the 27th annual convention of the American Mining Congress, opening that day, by the celebrated "Whiskerinoes." Citizens of Sacramento will again don the quaint garb of the forty-niners, and many of the men will sport luxurious beards. Pioneer stage coaches and rigs will replace automobiles, and justice will be dispensed as in 1849.

A pioneer parade will be staged in the afternoon, and the life of the forty-niners will be depicted by a pageant during the evening. "Tenderfeet" will dance to the tune of "six-shooters."

BROTHER, SISTER, IN WATER FIGHT

REDDING, Calif., Aug. 22.—There was an unusual state of affairs in the superior court yesterday when the case of Mrs. Ida L. Bidwell and husband, William G. Bidwell, against Alex Hansen was called. Mrs. Bidwell is Hansen's sister.

Hansen appeared to show cause why an injunction should not issue restraining him from interfering with a dam across Cedar Creek that diverted water into the Halcomb ditch and upon Mrs. Bidwell's land.

Compromise Reached—Both parties live at Round Mountain. Each summoned about a score of witnesses. Judge Walter E. Herzinger admonished sister and brother that they ought to reach some agreement out of court. Later the attorneys announced that a compromise settlement had been reached, but it was to last only until November 1, or until the end of the irrigation season.

ASHLAND DAHLIAS AMONG THE BEST

That, among other things, Ashland is a little ahead of the rest of the world as a place where dahlias can be raised was proved this morning when Clyde Costello exhibited a vase of the finest flowers.

About two years ago, Mr. Costello started raising dahlias, and has had wonderful success. He now has 63 varieties of the flowers, and has bulbs that came from points as distant as Maine and West Virginia. The flowers start blooming in July, he says, and continue until they are killed by the frost.

LOWER TAX RATE FOR K. FALLS

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 22.—Holding that taxation in Klamath County is so high as to frighten away outside capital which would otherwise invest here, County Assessor W. T. Lee has called a meeting of all county tax levying bodies for the early part of September to discuss means of lowering the rate during 1925.

TO DEVELOP THE "BUZZARD" MINE

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 22.—The Buzzard mine, near Trail, is to be developed at once, according to Captain O. C. Applegate, part owner of the mine, who recently returned to Klamath Falls of charred rubbish which contained fragments of human bones. Detectives Verne Dill and Jack Quinn, who are investigating the matter, gathered up the skull and the fragments of charred bones and took them to the police station.

HEADQUARTERS OF CO. ESTABLISHED

A large sign is being painted at the Yeo office next to the Citizen's Bank with the letters "Headquarters, Lithian Hotel Co., Inc., incorporated. This is being painted by F. B. Sankey, local sign painter, and is white with black letters. G. M. Frost, secretary of the Lithian Hotel Company has his desk in that office and the meetings will be held there.
