FRANK JORDAN TO ASK REELECTION ON PARK BOARD

E. E. Phipps New Candidate in Councilman Race; Oct. 4th, Last Day to File

With only two days, Friday and Saturday, remaining, in which to file their petitions for a place on the November city election ballot, some of the possible candidates for city offices seem hesitant about getting in the race.

Wednesday afternoon a petition was filed to place the name of Frank Jordan on the ballot for reelection as a member of the city park commission. Mr. Jordan is at present chairman of this commission. Mrs. C. H. Vaupel, whose term also expires this year, has not announced her candidacy for reelection.

The only new aspirant during the last few days for a membership on the city council is E. E. Phipps, whose petition has been filed. This makes a total of nine entries in this race, as follows: H. G. Wolcott, J. H. Hardy, W. M. Wright, R. L. Burdick, T. S. Wiley, S. D. Taylor, R. E. Decker, S. A. Peters, Sr., and E. E. Phipps.

There are two candidates for mayor, C. H. Pierce and O. H. Johnson, while G. G. Eubanks has no opposition for city treasurer. Misses Gertrude Biede, present city recorder, and Miss Hazel Emory are the contestants for this office.

According to information given The Tidings, Saturday, October 4th, is the last day in which city candidates may file their petitions.

BOX FACTORY SAVED IN MT. SHASTA FIRE

MOUNT SHASTA, Cal., Oct. 2.—The fire in the yards and buildings of the Rainbow Mill Company in the southern suburbs of Mount Shasta, Monday caused a loss estimated at $25,000. The box factory and all the lumber stored in the yards were saved.

The buildings destroyed were the company office, two large warehouses filled with box shooks, the cook house, ten bunk houses and four dwellings. The employees lost three automobiles. The fire was terrifically hot and the firemen were handicapped in fighting it by not having a good supply of water. The roof of the box factory was on fire several times. At one point the town of Mount Shasta seemed endangered.

The power company lost fifteen poles.

The Rainbow Mill and Lumber Company is a reorganization of the Pioneer Box Company and the box factory is still called the Pioneer box factory by the public.

The fire, being close to the railroad, the rails were warped and ties burned for a distance of 200 yards. All trains were blocked from noon, when the fire started, until 7 o'clock in the evening.

CANDIDATES WITH MOST MONEY WIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Presented herewith, and absolutely gratis, is a hot tip from Messrs. William M. Butler, Clem L. Shaver and John M. Nelson as to how, respectively, they may clinch the election of Calvin Coolidge, John W. Davis and Robert M. La Follette as President of the United States this November:

Go out and spend more money than any other candidate! The idea is simple, though not exactly new in the great game of American politics, but based on past performances and all available statistics it is almost infallible. The candidate who has the largest war chest is just as good as in.

In the past fifty-six years at four-year intervals, the American public has elected fourteen Presidents. Only once in those fourteen campaigns did the successful candidate fail to spend more money than his opponents. That one exception came in 1916, when Woodrow Wilson nosed out Charles E. Hughes.

Campaign expenditure statistics from 1868 to 1920, inclusive, are a remarkable memorial to the mighty prowess of the dollar. A study of comparative expenditures and popular votes received in each of the campaigns proves beyond all doubt that, in the past at least the eagle's scream has been heard and heeded.

HUNTERS PROTEST SHORT BAG LIMIT

Several hunters who were out Wednesday report to The Tidings that the bag limit of five birds, which was decreed by a new ruling of the game warden this year, knocks the sportsmanship out of hunting.

Quail, the hunters reported, are very plentiful and it is a matter of only a short time to get the limit, which is five birds a day or 10 during a period of one week. This forces the hunter to go into the field twice a week during the quail season to get the limit, which the hunters protest very few sportsmen are able to do, because of lack of time or because of the small bag limit. Last year, according to those who protested, the bag limit was five quail and five pheasants, when the seasons ran concurrently, but this year the combination limit is five.

SHORTER ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA FROM KLAMATH PLANNED

WESTWOOD, Cal., Oct. 2.—Lyle Kimmel, secretary of the Lassen Chamber of Commerce; Tom Wilson of Susanville and H. Garfield Oates, representing the Westwood Auto Club, attended a meeting in Klamath Falls recently to form an association to boost for a highway through the Oregon line from Klamath Falls to Los Angeles and to interest all civic bodies along the proposed route in the undertaking.

A. J. Hill of Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce was selected as temporary president and Lyle Kimmel of Susanville as temporary secretary. The routing agreed upon was from Klamath Falls via Big Valley. It was agreed that another meeting be held in Reno on October 11th at which meeting a permanent organization will be perfected. A board of directors will be appointed to consist of one member from each of the following communities: Klamath Falls, The Dalles, Big Valley, Susanville, Reno, Fresno and Los Angeles. Arrangements will then be made for the compiling of maps and advertising matter to boost the proposed road.

The road will be one of scenic beauty, as it is routed through four national parks, viz: General Grant, Yosemite, Lassen Volcanic and Crater Lake. In addition the road will touch Lake Tahoe, Eagle Lake and many smaller bodies of water.

Aside from its value as a road of exceptional scenic beauty, it is claimed the proposed highway will reduce the mileage between the Oregon line and Los Angeles by several hundred miles. The road will involve little new construction, as nearly all parts of the proposed route are now improved with the exception of the gap between Main, Ore., and Susanville, and there is a good dirt road between these points.

1461 REGISTERED HERE SEPTEMBER

Fourteen hundred and sixty-one tourists registered at the local chamber of commerce registering office during the month of September and were granted the 90-day visitor's permit, according to the report issued by the chamber to the state automobile department.

Practically all of these tourists were from California, with only a few from various other states. The office was visited yesterday by a Rhode Island tourist, one of only a few from that state who have registered here this year.

The total registration for the year, from January 1, 1924 to September 30th, was 17,067, according to the records which is an indication of the heavy tourist travel into this state this year.

The tourists from California continue to come northward despite the cooler weather and indications are that the registration for each month this year will greatly exceed similar months of last year.

The registration by months this year has been:

January	93
February	414
March	892
April	1603
May	1856
June	3156
July	4375
August	3222
September	1461

During September 1923, 1133 tourists registered at the local office, which makes the September 1924 registration 328 more than in the same period last year.

SCANDAL THREATENED BASEBALL DISRUPTION

Effort Certain Players to Bribe Heinie Sand of Philadelphia to Throw Game Settled; Players Suspended; Will Not Interfere With World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Indications are today that the sensational baseball scandal will go no further than Jimmy O'Connell, the star fielder of the Giants, and "Cozy" Dolan, the Giant coach, who were suspended and declared ineligible by Commissioner Landis, because of an attempt to induce Heinie Sand, Philadelphia center-fielder to throw last Saturday's Philadelphia-New York game.

O'Connell's confession to Commissioner Landis accused Frisch, Young and Kelly of knowing about the bribe. Landis declared today: "Their statements were straightforward. I have exonerated them." The scandal leaves the New York fans embittered. McGraw, manager of the Giants is disgusted, and declared: "This is a fine way to enter the series. I can not see how anybody could act so blame foolish."

GROGERS ANSWER COMBINE CHARGE

PORTLAND, Oct. 2.—Emphatic denial of violation of the Sherman anti-trust act or any intent to transgress on such law's provisions will be made by the Oregon Wholesale Grocers' association in answer to the government's suit for dissolution and for a permanent injunction, it was asserted by counsel for the defendant concerns and individuals. Dey, Hampson & Nelson, defense counsel, will ask that the case go to trial at an early date. Processes were being served Tuesday on the nine companies and 27 individuals.

The only purpose of the Grocers' association, a statement issued by defense counsel asserted, was to end trade abuses and to protect the independent retail grocer. Not a single wholesale grocery in Oregon has earned a profit of 2 per cent the last three years the statement said. It also declared that the association never had refused to sell supplies to nonmembers.

Government inquiry, it was said at the offices of the United States attorney, indicated that retail groceries have been subjected to petty price increases through the method used by the association. One grocer, it was said, cited a case where the association with a consistent frequency boosted the price of fruit jars, the retailer being compelled to abide by the order and suffering loss in profit, he being reluctant to add a few cents to the cost of the consumer. Other similar cases were pointed out whereby merchants were powerless, they said, to resist the "combine's" price increases.

STATIC IS TOO HEAVY IN LIFE BANKER STATES

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today addressing the American Bankers' Association, stressed five particular things:

1. That the bankers and all business men should give more heed to their obligations and less to crying for their rights.
2. That the greatest need of the country is to desert the era of jazz and superficialities and get down to honest work.
3. That too much is asked of Congress, both from the standpoint of capacity and its proper functions.

4. Scored La Follette as a demagogue whose time could be put to more useful employment.
5. Attacked as enemies of the country, those who are trying to tear the Constitution to pieces with their mob appeals.

"Gentlemen, there is too much static in our citizenship. The universal passion for wealth, ease, amusement and pleasure threatens the very life of this nation. Real work has become the most unpopular thing of modern times; and the virtues of self-denial and sacrifice, by which only genuine character is built, are not often seen. The discontent of most foreign countries is the discontent of poverty. Ours is the discontent of wealth. When our people satisfy their craving for luxuries, they don't have much left for the necessities of life. In some vital respects the peoples of Europe have an advantage over us in that they are receiving lessons in sacrifice and other virtues growing out of their distresses which ultimately will make them strong and very difficult for a nation softened by self-indulgence to compete with."

TEN MILES ROAD TO SOUTH OPENS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—The state highway commission has announced the completion and opening to traffic of ten miles of new pavement just north of Redding, Shasta county, on the main trunk line between the Sacramento Valley and the Oregon line.

The new section eliminates a detour that was necessary during the summer touring season. Grading of shoulders will be under way for several weeks, but will not seriously interfere with use of the new section. Motorists, however, are urged to use caution in traveling over the ten miles until the shoulder work is finished.

The new section of pavement is approximately ten miles in length. It is of Portland cement concrete, twenty feet wide, six inches thick in the center with nine-inch edges. State Highway Engineer R. M. Morton is confident it will be adequate to handle the traffic over the Pacific Highway for a number of years. The paving was financed from bond funds and cost approximately $478,000, including necessary widening of the former grade.

North of the new pavement, grading is still under way for the greater part of ten miles, where the highway is being widened and straightened. This work will be completed this Fall, and it is hoped that another section may be placed under contract in the not distant future.

The widening work is classed as reconstruction and is financed from the gasoline tax fund.

MOTHER FINDS RATLER IN CRIB WITH BABY

THE DALLES, Oct. 2.—When Mrs. C. H. Doyle, who lives in the Mill Creek valley near The Dalles, went to her baby's crib to find out what was making him cry this morning, she put her hand on the rattles of a three foot rattlesnake, coiled under the covers beside the child.

She snatched the baby from danger before the snake, apparently made sluggish by the cold weather, could strike, and called for help. A neighbor responded and dragged the crib into the yard, where the snake slipped from beneath the tiny bedclothes and escaped under the house.

The baby, but 3 months old had been crying for some time and once the mother, while smoothing the covers, heard a rattle. She thought that it was from the rattle the baby had been playing with and disregarded the warning. The baby refused to be soothed, however, until it was removed from the immediate vicinity of its unwelcome bedfellow.
