POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

G. W. Milam Independent Candidate for County School Superintendent of Jackson County, Oregon.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In announcing myself as an Independent candidate for Coroner for Jackson county—I do so with the firm belief that the people do not want minority rule. It is proven that the direct primaries are a failure, only 30 per cent vote was cast at the spring primaries, which is not a voice of the people. In this election all parties have the privilege of voting for their choice. I need no introduction to the people of Jackson county where I have lived for 15 years, and given the best of my life, time and money for the upbuilding and betterment of the entire community. I have been assistant to the present coroner for eight years and understand every detail of the work, therefore I am competent to handle the affairs of the office. Yours for clean, progressive and efficient women and men in office in Jackson county. NELLIE M. PERL. Here Yesterday—Karl Knutsen, special agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Portland, was in Ashland yesterday visiting Geo. H. Yeo.

THE WINTER WOOD
Tall gums and poplars arabesqued in white,
And, written fine, bird hieroglyphs that tell
Where in this forest-flowered stillness sparrows dwell,
And splendid cardinals robed in crimson light.
The path is lost; the old familiar way
A thing of memory; the shadow stream
Where many a lily used to lie and dream,
A chain, long-linked of broken white and gray.

All delicate, feathery things find here a place
With not a breath to mar their loveliness;
The meaneest bush wears here an angel's dress,
The lowliest weed is draped in priceless lace.

The light grows dimmer, overhead the sky
Draws slowly earthward, and a little flake
Comes trembling down as if it feared to break
The sleep of silence with its falling sigh.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Entertain Teachers—The Civic Club and the Parent-Teachers Association gave a delightful party for the teachers at the Civic Club last evening. About a hundred people were there and the evening was enjoyed greatly by all.

A short program was given, during which Miss Lolita Pierson charmingly played a selection on the piano. Melvin Beagle played several pieces and was enthusiastically encored. The audience was delighted with a cornet selection played by Lawrence Wagner, accompanied by Mrs. Woods. Mrs. Louis Dodge gave the address of welcome in behalf of the Parent-Teachers association. Mrs. Hammond, president of the Civic Club welcomed the teachers into that organization and Mr. Forsythe gave the response. Mrs. A. N. Humphrey introduced the speakers.

Toward the close of the evening ice cream and cake were served by a number of ladies. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, and a merry time was enjoyed by all.

Paris Style Hint—PARIS, Oct. 18. —Pajamas for women are becoming such a necessary article in the wardrobe that Paris designers are showing great numbers of them in their new collections.

The women who saw the Autumn Opening at Molyneux's last week wanted to go home and pack their trunks with nothing but pajamas and lie away to Lido. For it appears that this particular style of garment is permitted in the celebrated Venetian resort at any time of the day—or night.

This English designer, who has become so famous in Paris, is favoring pajamas with trousers buttoned around the ankle halfway up the leg and then left to bulge out very much like riding-breeches. One set, with trousers of jade tulle, has a coat of black georgette, embroidered in white and silver and banded by thick black fur, except at the neck, where it is rounded off simply.

Another handsome set comes with silver lame trousers and a shell-pink coat of crepe, bordered with gray squirrel. There is any number of charming combinations.

Sometimes the pajamas are used for sleeping garments and sometimes for negligees, in the home or on the beach. There are Persian pajamas, with little jackets of brocade and the lower parts in pegtop shape of plain colors. Chinese pajamas have wide trousers, almost resembling little skirts and Turkish ones have a very full lower part, with only a small joining at the ankles.

Satin pajamas, in flowered or plain patterns and bordered with contrasting bands, are the most practical and wearable. One designer is showing a very nice set in black and white satin, the coat being black and edged with white rabbit, which is on the collar as well. The trousers are rather wide and have a deep cuff and are impeccably creased.

Yde's denial as was accorded the original story in the Republic. Paper Not Embarrassed ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 17. — Barney Thompson, managing editor of the Republic said today that the paper would not retract the story, that the information came from a reliable source, and said that he could easily see why Yde was embarrassed, but that the Republic was "not embarrassed."

The Shenandoah Sails Over

The Shenandoah, "Daughter of the Stars," is now visiting the Pacific coast as part of her nine-thousand mile journey over the United States.

The dirigible left her mooring at Lakehurst, N. J., on the morning of October 7th, and in three hours was soaring majestically over the plant from which originated a vital part of her engines—THE AMERICAN HAMMERED PISTON RING FACTORY at Baltimore, Maryland—where nearly a thousand of the factory's employes turned out to cheer and wish her God-speed on her record-breaking journey.

This great airship of the navy, without crew, fuel or supplies, weighs 74,360 pounds. She is 680 feet long, 78 feet in diameter and carries 2,500,000 cubic feet of helium gas to support her in the air.

Driven by six 300 horse power Packard engines, equipped with American Hammered Piston Rings, the Shenandoah, with the exception of a few stops for food and fuel, traveled day and night, at a rate of speed greater than that maintained by the fastest express train, until she covered every mile of the course laid out for her.

Designed in America, Built in America, and equipped with American Hammered Piston Rings, the successful flight of the Shenandoah is adding another page to the history of American achievements in the air.
