COMMENDS McMAHON

Through service for three terms on the grand jury in Jackson county, I came to know J. J. McMahon as an officer who vigorously enforces the law, especially the prohibition law.

As a citizen who believes in the enforcement of all law, I should be glad indeed to see McMahon elected as sheriff of Jackson county.

I believe we would find in him an officer who would conduct the office of Sheriff in an efficient and economical manner.

ALBERT C. JOY.

Officials of the bank that was robbed at Woodland September 29 failed to recognize Wheeler as one of the robbers, although they said that the pictures sent to the California town resembled the robber and Wheeler in person looked something like him, they declared.

The officers at Auburn telegraphed a few days ago that Wheeler was not the man wanted for robbing the Railroad National bank at Roseville, Cal., July 26, after photographs had been sent them.

which has remained steadfastly Republican. A. W. Jeffries, the speaker who was formerly congressman from Nebraska, said that several million people had greeted them during the present tour of more than 6,000 miles. He spoke of the early development of Oregon and then gave an interesting account of the constitution, its blessings and sanctity, which he stated Senator La Follette wanted to make of secondary importance to congress. He said that congress could easily be overruled by the decision of the supreme court decree that no more elections should be held, thus making themselves autocratic, they could order all people to worship one religion and do most anything else they wanted to if La Follette's idea of letting Congress be the supreme umpire prevailed.

Jeffries, who nominated Charles G. Dawes at the Cleveland convention, paid a glowing tribute to fighting Dawes, as well as to the sterling worth of Calvin Coolidge, and said now was the time to rally to the support of Coolidge and Dawes. He made a very interesting talk of 30 minutes.

Today marked the eighth week of the Caravan's tour from Plymouth, Vermont, where it originated. The personnel of the party was; A. W. Jeffries, John P.

Cowan, manager; Charles T. Doyle, secretary; E. A. Seidel, S. E. Molden, Ernst Hoch, William Wallace and A. W. Jeffries, Jr. The party has had other notable Republican leaders with them at various stages of the trip.

Cowan, in speaking of the trip, stated he thought Nebraska might be classified as doubtful, but that all the other states along the Lincoln highway to California, were sure to go for Coolidge.

with the idea that this job was his for life by right of long and peaceable possession, and in his determination to hold on to public office at any cost, put his wife up and filed her as an independent candidate for coroner.

DENOUNCES PERL

For ten years John Perl has held the office of Coroner of Jackson County. In all the primaries and general elections during that time he has used the machinery of the Republican party as a vehicle to carry him into office.

The Republicans have honored him with their franchise and their support for a long term of years; they have kept him in a position where he could enjoy the financial accretions and other emoluments of office.

In the May primary his competitor in business, Mr. Conger, a good citizen of Medford and a fine loyal Republican, entered the race against him for the Republican nomination for Coroner. In a fair, clean contest Mr. Conger won the nomination.

The next we hear of Mr. Perl's activities it is rumored that he is trying to find some way to run for Coroner as an independent, but the framers of our election laws understood perfectly that not all men who run for office have political honor and so provided in the statutes that a defeated candidate can not file as an independent.

Mr. Perl, evidently obsessed
