TON OF AMMUNITION TO KILL ONE SOLDIER USED IN CHINA WAR

PEKING, Nov. 6.—Eight million rounds of ammunition to kill three thousands of the enemy is the record of the Government troops after a month's fighting around Shanghai. The newspapers have taken advantage of this waste of material to "rag" the General Staff in Peking. One paper facetiously suggests that the troops be equipped with blank cartridges or fire crackers, which would make as much noise as, and be less expensive than, the discharge of a ton of lead to kill one enemy soldier.

Despite the poor aim, the troops do get killed, and, with the deeply rooted Chinese respect for their dead, the problem of burying them in a fitting manner is very absorbing. The Liengjih Benevolent Association of Shanghai has opened a campaign in which coffins, nails and lime are solicited. These materials for the dead are then carried to the front, and those giving up their lives in the useless struggle are properly interred, or sent to their native places.

For the living there went up the appeal for umbrellas, since it has rained considerably during the war. Thousands of these have been hurriedly purchased and sent to the front about Shanghai. The troops leaving Peking for the war against Manchuria, however, are not to be caught unprovided, for each soldier has an umbrella, encased in coolie cloth, slung over his back.

Goggles for protection against the dust are another necessary part of the equipment of the Chinese soldier in the north, the possession of which marks him as well prepared for battle.

Foreigners here were greatly impressed by the success of Marshal Wu's army in loading camels on flat cars and transporting them several hundred miles to the front without accident. It is a common sight to see a string of fifty camels, each carrying some twenty camels, rolling along behind a puffing engine.

W. B. RICHARDS AND COLORED MAN HELD FOR BANK ROBBERY
WOODLAND, Cal., Nov. 8.—W. B. Richards, former Klamath Falls, Or., hotel-man, and Joe Duncan, negro, his former cook, were each held under $25,000 bond to answer to superior court here on charges of bank robbery today by Justice R. W. Harrison. The two men were charged with having held up the local branch of the Bank of Italy on September 29, and escaping with $12,140. Officers claim Richards, also well known in Oakland, has made a partial confession, but both men were represented by attorneys today and indicated that they would fight the charges against them.

Ashland Hi Notes

These notes are written for this paper by members of the Journalism class at the local high school

COPY OF INDEPENDENCE OF DECLARATION PRESENTED

A framed copy of the Declaration of Independence was given to the High school by V. O. N. Smith.

It is an exact copy of the world-famous document, that was the foundation of our liberties.

It is true of this copy, as in the original, that the King of England would not need glasses to read the signature of John Hancock.

ANNIVERSARY PLAY TO BE GIVEN SOON

The anniversary play, "The Charm School," is being conducted under the guidance of Miss Ethel Wheeler, English instructor of the high school, and is fast taking on dramatic aspects. It was hoped that the play might be presented before Thanksgiving, but due to the late start, this may prove impossible.

"The Charm School" is one of the most popular plays on the stage today and where ever it has been shown has attracted large crowds. Several of the cast and the director have seen it played elsewhere on the stage, and with this as a good background, they assure the people of Ashland a semi-professional stage production.

Football

This week's football practice has been given to preparation for the Medford game, which falls on Tuesday, November 11 at Medford.

An offensive drive is being developed that will be hard to beat. The line is working better than it has all season, and it is going to take some mighty good backs to make a hole in it.

Coach Hughes expects a hard tussle with the Medford team as at present Medford leads the league with all victories, while Ashland is in second place with only one defeat. The Ashland boys are trying to gain top honors by winning this game.

Captain Melvin Borah has quit school and is working on his farm. His job of tackle is being filled by our new boy, Gillette.

Football Boys Make Speeches Monday morning when school was called Mr. Forsythe asked each member of the football team for a speech on the Roseburg-Ashland game of Friday. All the boys fully emphasized the fact that if they had had propellers and rudders they could have played better football than they did. Mr. Hughes, the coach, was called upon last and he told of the Oregon-Washington game and added details to the statements of the boys.

School Straw Vote

Mr. Hughes took a straw vote in his history classes and in his Civic classes November 3rd. The total votes cast were 79. Coolidge received 38, La Follette 34, and Davis 7. This shows that a straw vote in school will show approximately how the vote of the town will go.

There was a majority of 4 votes for Coolidge in the school straw vote, while in the regular election there was a majority of 3 votes for Coolidge in Ashland.

Hubert Gilmore, of Iowa street, and a junior in the Senior High School, is confined at his home with a sprained ankle. He was playing handball Tuesday and slipped and turned his ankle. He is much better and expects to return to school soon.

The girls sewing classes (freshman) are beginning the second problem in sewing. They are making completed the undergarments which were their first assignment.

The second issue of the high school paper, "The Rogue News," came out Wednesday. It contained a good account of the games with Roseburg and Myrtle Creek, and the progress of the anniversary play. Much credit is due the joke editors for the assortment of good jokes.

Marian Leach and Ramona Wise were excused the seventh period Tuesday to play at the Civic Club, the duet they played was called "Over Hill and Dale" and the encore was "The Electric Gallop Flash."

The Junior class of Ashland High School had a pie sale at 11:45 Tuesday, November 4. About thirty pies were sold at 10c a cut. The money will go toward financing the Junior-Senior picnic to be held next May. The sale netted over seven dollars.

The high school girls have started basket ball practice for the class games which will be scheduled soon.

Four brave girls arrayed in football clothes gave a demonstration of how to tackle, block and fall on the ball Tuesday evening at the Forensic Society meeting. After being instructed how to tackle, block and recover the ball, the fair ones tried to hurt poor Ole, who had to stand their ferocious attacks. The greatest honors went to Lorraine Sparr who was very brave and did her part of the demonstration better than many boys could have done it. The other fair players were Letha Miles, Elizabeth Stearns and Thelma Harvey.

A debate and a series of reports on football subjects were the other numbers of the evening which were enjoyed by all present.

The Girl Reserves are working on two plays to be given for a leap year party at the Parish House some time in December.

The two short plays to be given are "Train To Mauro" and "Way Down East."

Evelyn Taylor is manager and playwright, and Mrs. Howell is the club's advisor. Further notices will be made later.

More Senior Rings

A sample set of senior class rings has been received by Mr. Forsythe and turned over to Riley Pittenger, senior class president, for examination and comparison.

These rings are much cheaper than any before examined and a selection from among their number should please all concerned.

Wednesday evening the Ashland School Band, met and had a good practice. The band boys hope to enter the state band contest at Corvallis this year and are working hard on overtures, marches and popular music.

The band this year is large and well balanced and the practices are attended faithfully by the members.

The boys hope to make the trip to Medford on Armistice Day. Mr. Briscoe is trying to engage a truck for the band so transportation will be provided for all.

Wednesday night those interested in debate met in the library of the high school. There was some discussion on the question for debate this year.

As practice, an impromptu debate was given on "Resolved, That summer is jollier than winter." The negative, supported by Evelyn Taylor and Ellen Galey, won. The affirmative was supported by Marian Leach and Everett Reddifer. Roland Parks gave a speech supporting the Income Tax and was answered by Francis Fall.

A certificate has arrived stating, that Marion Costley, John Galey, Barnard Joy, Earl Nutter and Roland Parks, the members of the last year's debating team, were awarded the Debate Championship of the Southern Oregon District.

This certificate has been framed in a small black frame about 8 by 10 inches and is now hanging in Mr. Forsythe's office.

The honor comes as a reward for perseverance and hard work.
