DRINK WATER FREELY IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Also Take Salts if Back 375 B. St. Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated obliging you to seek relif two or three times during the night. To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get 4 ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician

when it afflicts you at night. You can stop it quickly with

The cape-scarf is made on the YALE MEN IN ARMS flat, with two cape sections, which represent a quarter of a circle, being joined by a straight scarf section. The scarf is wrapped two or three times about the neck, and the circular ends fall over the shoulders, covering them entirely and falling in a close, clinging outline, or in flaring lines, just as the wearer happens to adjust the scarf.

Francis is showing the capescarf in black velvet with a row of velve: buttons in front to permit the wearer to adjust the garment to the temperature of the street or room. To back flares smartly and is split to the shoulders, so you can drape the ends over the shoulders. Lenief is putting the cape-scarf effect on some of his afternoon frocks in silk. They are smaller, of course, and the scarf-ends are usually lined with some brilliant color. The yoke is often formed of smocking, or rows of shirring with small buttons reaching to the top of the neck.

Fur versions of the cape-scarf are being shown by man of the smart houses. For this garment the lighter furs, such as moleskin, rabbit and squirrel, are the best. It affords real warmth and covers the shoulders and back in a most effective and decorative way.

Serving by Growing

LVERY time an installer signs L for a telephone instrument at the stock room counter and starts out for the home or office of a new subscriber, where he is to connect it with the Bell System, he is serving you.

Each new telephone added to the system puts you in potential contact with the users of this new instrument. Every new installation, anywhere, increases the scope of your service; makes your telephone more valuable to you.

Since the invention of the telephone in 1876, many improvements in equipment and in operating methods have combined to increase the value of telephone service to the individual subscriber. Not only has it been made possible to hear clearly over the telephone, and at far greater distances, but also to be promptly connected with a larger number of subscribers—for the telephone serves by growing.

The number of Bell System telephonesis growing at the rate of about three quarters of a million a year-a fact which at once illustrates the increasing value of telephone service to existing subscribers and its increasing acceptance by the public as indispensable to modern life.
