Printing and Newspaper Publicity

The Tidings conducts both a daily newspaper and also a job printing shop the two cooperating to make printing and advertising more productive.

How is this cooperation working to the advantage of those who have their printing done in the Tidings print shop?

A local organization recently staged an entertainment, for which they needed both printing and newspaper publicity. On their printing and newspaper advertising order The Tidings made a reasonable profit, at the same time giving the organization's entertainment profitable publicity through the newspaper advertisement and the neatly printed forms

Because of the profit The Tidings made from the printing and advertising, the newspaper was able to afford to give more cooperation in the news columns, which made the entertainment more successful, without any greater cost to the organization than the printing would have been without the cooperating-publicity in the news columns.

The Tidings will be glad to cooperate with you in giving you the widest publicity to your entertainments, business or profession.
