LOCAL INDUSTRIES TO HAVE EXHIBITS

Ashland Manufacturing Companies Will Occupy Space at the Winter Fair; Will Show Real Growth City Has Made in Manufacturing; Chickens and Rabbits to be Hosts to Many Visiting Exhibits.

The Big Chautauqua Building will again echo to the chorus of Turkeys, Ducks, Geese and the numerous varieties of the Chicken family during the week commencing December 9th, when the feathered world from Jackson County will be hosts to their friends from the north and south, and the aristocrats of the Poultry world will strive for the blue ribbons, silver cups and numerous gifts bestowed by their many admirers and champions.

With less noise but nevertheless, laying great claim to consideration from the utility standpoint the rabbits will be on hand to greet their friends, and the variety of color presented by the New Zealand, Belgian, Flemish, Angora, Checkered Giant, Chinchillas and other breeds almost rivals the brilliant feathered display of the Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island, Leghorn and numerous tribes of chicken.

The Ashland Show has become recognized as one of the leading Poultry Shows on the Pacific Coast, rating with the Portland, Oakland, Tacoma and Seattle exhibitions and many of the prize winners from these shows will be present as well as their owners.

Southern Oregon is one of the best places in the world for the poultry industry and the districts about Ashland should be encouraged to a large development along this line.

GRUELLE IS GIVEN PERMIT TO LEAVE

The Kiwanis meeting Friday at noon at the Hotel Ashland was in a way a farewell to Johnny Gruelle, popular member who will leave in a few days for the east.

Mr. Gruelle and Carl Loveland entertained the club with some delightful songs and then a motion "granting Gruelle permission to depart, provided he would return in a short time," was unanimously passed.

The nominating committee reported a list of names for prospective officers of the club, which will be voted upon in the near future. The membership committee also read a classification list of the members and the list of prospective members who will be invited to become members of the organization.

Mr. McNelly, who has been connected with Moe and company, dry goods stores of Klamath Falls, was a guest of the club.

PUPILS ARE AFTER TICKET PRIZES

The four classes of the local high school are "pepped" up to make a record in the sale of season tickets this year for the Winter Fair.

Friday morning J. H. Fuller, chamber of commerce secretary, talked to the students and notified them that he needed some high-powered salesmen to make the sale of Winter Fair tickets the highest that has ever been reached. The response from the students indicated that they will enter the contest with more than usual vim and vigor.

The presidents of the four classes act as captains of their respective teams in this contest. Each class gets 10 per cent of the receipts from their ticket sales and special prizes are offered for the first and second best records. In addition if the ticket sales reach a certain amount, the classes get an extra 10 per cent commission. The students have handled this sale for several years and have always made it a success, which they assured Mr. Fuller would be the case this year.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS ORIGINATED BY DANE MAIL CLERK

It might be a matter of interest to the general reader to know a bit of history concerning the origin of the seal sale. Twenty-one years ago on Christmas Eve a young man stood at his work in a postoffice in far away Denmark. As the thousands of Christmas letters poured through his hands, he thought how wonderful it would be if all the happy people in the world who were sending Christmas messages would add a special Christmas stamp to their letters and cards. The extra money thus obtained would build a hospital in his town for the children sick with tuberculosis. The young man took his big idea to the King and "Queen of Denmark. The first Christmas seals appeared in Denmark and the children got their hospital. This was in 1904 and from this beginning grew the well high universal custom of sealing Christmas Seals to fight the great white plague.

The history of the fight against tuberculosis in this country is closely connected with the history of the Christmas Seal in Denmark. The Seal Sale started in this country in 1907, under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, while the Red Cross lent its name, prestige, and capital to finance the project.

Since 1919 the Anti-Tuberculosis association has conducted the sale yearly independently of the Red Cross, an altogether satisfactory arrangement between the two organizations.

It may be that a misunderstanding obtains as to the Christ Seal Sale in Ashland. Following the custom that has been used for some time in other cities and towns, the committee in charge have used the mail sale method in giving opportunity to help in the work that the Anti-Tuberculosis association is doing in fighting this dread disease.

As yet the seals have not been offered for sale except through the mail, and to which such generous response has been made, already. With the letters have come telephone calls and commendatory messages, assuring the committee of the appreciation felt by the opportunity afforded to assist, and their approval of this dignified and altogether satisfactory way of presenting the matter to a public that is greatly interested in its responsibility in the care and prevention of Tuberculosis in this community.

Since the Seal sale is the only way afforded in the support of this worthy cause the citizenry is asked to purchase and use as many of the seals as possible in the Christmas mail.

MAIL EARLY CAMPAIGN IS BEING FELT

Postmaster Says Ashland Is Mailing Parcels Earlier; Gives Instructions

AVOID THE XMAS RUSH

Delivery Insured Certain Points if Mailing Is Made Early, States P. M. Wagner

The effects of the "shop early mail early" campaign are beginning to be reflected at the Ashland postoffice, it is stated by Postmaster Wagner, and the Christmas mailing rush is expected to be on in earnest during the coming week. In this connection the following showing the latest mailing dates to insure delivery of parcels within the different zones before Christmas will doubtless be of considerable interest.

Address to points east of Chicago and in Southern states, mail at Ashland office not later than December 14.
Address to points in North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Texas, Louisiana; mail not later than December 15.

Address to points in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Arizona; mail not later than December 16.

Address to Southern California, Washington, Utah, Nevada; mail not later than December 17.

Address to points in California north of San Francisco, northern and Eastern Washington; mail not later than December 18.

Address to Ashland and adjacent towns; mail not later than December 22.

The Ashland office is being organized and arranged to handle the Christmas mails more promptly and efficiently than they have ever been handled before, it is believed, but it will still be necessary to have the cooperation of the public to make these plans work out fully.

Under direct orders from the Postmaster General's office at Washington, all work in postoffices will cease at 11 o'clock on Christmas morning, except for the receipt and dispatch of incoming and outgoing mails. Rural mail service will also be suspended on Christmas day all over the United States.

Louis Rosasco, eminent master of the accordian, will be one of the main attractions at the dinner to be given this evening at 6:30 o'clock under the auspices of the local chamber of commerce at the Hotel Ashland to the caravan of boosters for the Nevada Trans-Continental Highways Exposition. The great Trans-Continental highway from New York to Pacific Coast — Los Angeles — Ashland — Portland and other Pacific Coast points will be completed in June 1926 and the connecting link will be made during the exposition at Reno, according to the present plans.

Eats in Public Diner With the Other Passengers En Route to the White House

ENROUTE to WASHINGTON, with President Coolidge, Dec. 5.—Worn and tired from the 13 crowded hours in Chicago, President Coolidge was crawling back to Washington today aboard a slow train.

During the short stay at Chicago, he made two speeches, attended a luncheon and dinner, inspected the International Livestock show and attended a series of conferences with western industrial and political leaders.

The precedent in traveling aboard a regular passenger train is being observed scrupulously on the return trip. The President and Mrs. Coolidge occupied a drawing room instead of the special train and breakfast was eaten in the public diner with other eastbound passengers.

FIRST FIVE YEARS BEHIND BARS VOID

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Because California's penal code provides a term of imprisonment for "burglary with explosives" but fails to stipulate whether sentence should be served in state prison or county jails, Charles Schiaffino, convicted at Lakeport in 1919, has served five years for which he will get no credit.

Schiaffino was sentenced by the Lake County Superior Court to serve from twenty-five to forty years in San Quentin prison. His attorney recently discovered that the statutes on this particular burglary charge failed to state where sentence should be served and secured the man's release on habeas corpus proceedings.

Yesterday the state district court of appeals ordered the San Quentin warden to return Schiaffino to Lakeport for resentencing of "from twenty-five to forty years" in the county jail. The decision is expected to affect a number of criminals in the state prison now serving sentences for "burglary with explosives."

WANTS TRADE NAME NORTHWEST GOODS

PORTLAND, Dec. 5.—Opening a prize contest to obtain a Northwest brand name for agricultural and horticultural products was announced by the marketing department of the Chamber of Commerce.

The contest for a word, or words, to be used in marketing Oregon and Washington fruits, vegetables, nuts and dairy products will be open until December 31 and two prizes of $50 and $25 have been offered.

The marketing committee announced that the word, or words, in some way should relate to agricultural and horticultural products as well as to climatic conditions and the quality and the quantity of the products.

The committee desires a name having no reference to sun-baked or constant rains. The words should convey the idea that would popularize the products of the Northwest country.
All suggestions are to be mailed to the marketing department of the chamber.
