GOVERNMENT FOE SAYS FREE STATE LOSES GRIP FAST

DUBLIN, Dec. 27.—"We resigned in order to wake up Ireland and the Free State Government to the dangers of the present policy of Government drift."

That's the explanation of Sean Milroy, member of the Dail, for the resignations of members of the Free State legislative body who sympathized with officers who mutinied on the occasion of the demobilization of the Free State Army last Spring.

"It would, perhaps be more accurate," Milroy declared in an interview with International News Service, "to describe the Government policy as one of stagnation. Drift, if it were drift in the right direction, might mean some progress, however snail-like. But if there be any movement by the present policy of the Government, it is a movement away from the ideals of Irish Ireland and back to the muggumpury and decay of West Britishism."

"It is a movement of whittling away the force of the position gained when Michael Collins described the treaty as "freedom to achieve freedom." It connotes the ignoble conception of national dignity which thinks the tolerance within the Free State involves the effacement of any ideas that inspired the plain Irish people during the Anglo-Irish struggle."

Milroy made it clear, however, that he and others who resigned from the Dail should not be classed with the Irregulars. "Our actions should rather be regarded as a warning from men who have watched closely the trend of events," he said. "What the Irregulars failed to accomplish by brutal assault may, if the nation is not alert and watchful, be brought about by the hidden hands of those whose detestation of the treaty is not less than that of the Irregulars, but who, with expressions of acquiescence in the new order of things on their lips, still retain in their hearts a hope for the overthrow of the Free State."

"It is clear to us that there is at the present time no Government policy which can be described as national."

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even brighter than gas or electricity. It has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up; is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, V. M. Johnson, 161 North Union Ave., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

"The Free State Government is in imminent danger of becoming government by a clique, inspired and directed by the ramp of officialdom of the old regime, or government by a few young men who suffer from the delusion that they are gifted with political infallibility, but whose sense of statesmanship is exemplified in the suppression of Goose clubs and the spoliation of old-age pensioners."

"The government seems determined to muddle along, ignoring public feeling, estranging public interests and pandering to the old ascendancy gang until the position of the Free State becomes a matter for tragic laughter."

"All is well with the State," think these youthful wisecracks. "We have business men with us, we have the stalwarts of commerce and the hoary-headed veterans of England's faithful garrison won over to our side."

"We advise these young men to take care that they do not discover when it is too late that it is all the other way—that by their attitude they may be losing the plain people of Ireland."

SUN - CURE

By Blanche Logan O'Neil. I drew each quivering heart-ache From the gloom of despondency, And built for them shining garments

The hue of the sun and the sea. Nor long had they worn this raiment

All sequined with laughter and gay. Till, lo, like the mists they vanished

In the golden shimmer of day.

Telephone Girls Enjoy Christmas—One of the largest and happiest Christmas parties was enjoyed at the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph office Wednesday evening when the "Hello" girls held their annual Christmas tree. A wonderful time was experienced and the party was one of the nicest that has been given since the custom was inaugurated due to the kindness of the many subscribers who presented the girls many beautiful presents.

Each telephone girl gave each of the others a handmade present and a funny one so that much excitement was created during the distribution of the gifts. After opening each present and profusely thanking each other the girls adjourned to a beautiful feed which was most complete with all the goodies of Christmas time.

J. P. Dodge and sons, Dr. F. G. Swedberg and H. C. Stock each presented individual boxes of candy and McNair Brothers gave each girl a box of beautiful corresponding cards. Dainty handmade aprons made by Miss Helene Biede were greatly appreciated as was also the plant given by Hatcher and Benson, florists. H. S. Aitken added a lovely bouquet of carnations to the list.

Among the business people of the town who so kindly assisted in making the Christmas happy for the group with gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Will De Witt, Mr. and Mrs. Wineland, Elhart's, Rose Brothers and Acklin's Taxi; Automobile Shop; Porter's Confectionery; Mr. True of the Fourth Street Meat Market; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fuller, E. R. Isaac and Company; Community Hospital; Southern Oregon Gas Co.; Krugle Brothers; C. J. Baughman; Elmer Glasser and Mrs. Domino Provost. Mr. Jackson of the Palace Lunch gave a large box of oranges and The Plaza gave a delicious chocolate cake.

In behalf of the girls, Miss Myrtle Otterdale, manager, wishes to sincerely thank the subscribers for their generosity in remembering them and wished them a very happy and prosperous New Year.

Those present were Misses Hattie Burnett, Margaret Campbell, Jeannette Aitstead, Bessie McMillan, Laura Prescott, Mildred Stevens, Lucile Taylor, Mildred Aitken, Myrtle Otterdale and Mr. H. S. Aitken.

Christmas Tree—Following an enjoyable goose dinner for the immediate family Christmas Day, Mrs. Mary Brooker entertained a number of friends with a Christmas tree at the home of her father, S. Penniston of Laurel street.

A beautiful Christmas tree heavily laden with gifts was greatly enjoyed and many beautiful gifts were received. After the distribution of the gifts, music and games helped to pass away a very pleasant evening and the guests departed at a late hour.

Candy, nuts and other Christmas delicacies were served to the merry group.

Guests for this happy event were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hall and daughters, Wilma, Ruth and Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Davis and daughter, Loree, S. Penniston and sons, Frank and Charles and Mrs. Mary Broker, hostess.

Have Christmas Tree—The employees of the Plaza Confectionery enjoyed a Christmas tree at that place at nine o'clock Wednesday evening. The tree was piled high with presents for all and a merry time ensued. The part of Santa Claus was admirably taken by Ed Butler, who played it to perfection. Some very beautiful presents were received and after the tree a feed was given.

Those present at the tree were Mesdames Crow, Belle Gillings, Snyder, Louise Bold, Claire Minard, Lilly Snyder and Bert Asher and Fred Taylor.

Christmas Dinner—Judge and Mrs. Gowdy were guests at a delightful Christmas dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patriek Christmas Day. A deliciously cooked turkey and the accompanying dishes was enjoyed.

Ritzinger-Beebe—The marriage of Mr. Vincent J. Ritzinger to Miss Mary Faye Beebe was solemnized at the Trinity Episcopal Church at six-thirty Wednesday evening. Reverend P. K. Hammond officiating. The ring ceremony was used. Mr. Samuel Ritzinger and Mrs. E. R. Ramsay were the only witnesses present.

The bride and groom are both well known in this city and in Jackson county and their many friends wish them every happiness.

They will probably make their home in this city.

Guests at Dinner—Reverend and Mrs. S. J. Chaney and family and Lyall Bolton of the University of Oregon were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Yeo Christmas Day. A delicious turkey was served and the many dishes which accompany it. Following the dinner a pleasant afternoon was spent with music and conversation occupying the hours.

Entertained at Christmas—Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Jorgensen were hosts at a delightful three-course Christmas dinner at their home at 913 Boulevard Christmas Day. The table was prettily decorated with Christmas decorations and a large Santa Claus made the centerpiece.

The living room was decorated with red and green streamers and a large tree was placed at one end of the room. The evening was spent in distributing and unwrapping the presents with Mrs. Henry Bates acting as Santa. She also entertained the group with several pretty songs and instrumental pieces.

Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. Jorgensen of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates of Medford and the host and hostess.

This was the first Christmas the two brothers, Mr. R. C. and Mr. A. Jorgensen have spent together in forty-one years so the day was certainly a pleasant one.

Christmas Party—Sixteen of the young people of the Presbyterian Church gathered at the Manse Christmas night and spent a delightful evening playing crokinole, flinch and various other games.
