ANY SKIN ERUPTION HEALED WITH SULPHUR

Irritation and Breaking Out Often Healed Over Night, Says Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

Civic Club Announcement

As is well known, the program of the Civic Club has been arranged to feature Ashland talent to a large degree. Tuesday, the twentieth, is one of these meetings, "A Dramatic Afternoon," in charge of Mrs. W. M. Foley and Mrs. F. D. Wagner, whose histrionic ability is too well known to need more than passing mention. It will be of especial interest, however, to ladies other than members of the Civic Club, that opportunity will be offered them to attend, as this entertainment is given with the view of augmenting the "Scholarship Loan Fund," which at this time is engaging the attention of all the Federated Clubs. Civic Club members may bring as guests any number of ladies upon the payment of the nominal sum asked for admission.

Ladies are invited to come, not alone for the splendid entertainment which they will enjoy, but also to help in the worthy cause of furnishing means whereby those who could not otherwise obtain an education may be enabled to do so.

Will the women of Ashland bear the date in mind and plan to attend a most pleasing entertainment, given by those whose name is a guarantee of its success?

Parent-Teachers Meeting—A large crowd is planning to attend the meeting of the Junior High circle of Parent-Teachers at 7:30 at the Junior High school tonight. A very good program has been arranged with Dr. Swedenburg and B. C. Forsythe giving the main addresses. Music will be furnished by members of the high school and a vocal solo by Mrs. Weston Henry will be one of the features of the evening. Tea and wafers will be served during the evening by the social committee.

Celebrate Birthday—The fourth birthday of the Junior Endeavor Society was delightfully celebrated Monday evening

DOCTORS SAY; DON'T NEGLECT COUGH OR COLD

Physicians warn against neglecting coughs and colds and tell of the serious lung complications that may result. Leading physicians now prescribe BALSAMEA for all bronchial affections. BALSAMEA is a pure vegetable preparation made from a newly discovered plant. Dr. Benj. F. Crabtree, Anderson, Mo., writes: "I use it exclusively for my practice and my family. It is quick, sure and safe in its action like nothing else."

Toward the end of the influenza epidemic a government physician noticed that a tribe of Indians in Nevada, by the use of oils from a native plant were immune from the ravages of influenza. He used these oils among his white patients and then in a hospital overflowing with "death" cases. News of the results swept the world and for some time it was not possible to supply the demand.

BALSAMEA has now been standardized and gives uniformly miraculous results in four ways: 1. It soothes the inflamed membranes and relieves irritation, 2. It increases secretion of mucous and permits easy expectoration, 3. It stimulates pores of the skin in throwing off body poisons and 4. It strikes at the cause, checking germ action immediately.

Do not confuse it with ordinary balsam cough syrups that are only soothing syrups and do not go to the base of the trouble. Unlike other cough remedies BALSAMEA is free from coal tar and other harmful narcotics. Pleasant to take and absolutely safe to give to children.

Be sure you get BAL-SA-ME-A with the picture of the Indian on the package. Guaranteed to relieve any cough, no matter from what cause, or your money back. All druggists sell BALSAMEA. In Ashland buy it from Eastside Pharmacy.

"Diplomatic episodes of the past few weeks have given rise to painful doubts of the sincerity of France in her dealings with the United States." Colonel George Harvey, formerly American Ambassador to Great Britain, declared in a signed article in a Washington newspaper. France considers all her debts political, not financial and has not the remotest intention of paying them, Harvey declared.

Emphatic nationalism threatens the world with war and yet more war, George Bernard Shaw, noted British writer, is convinced. Great Britain's policy in Egypt, he declared, has killed the effectiveness of the League of Nations and means the return of "brute force" in settlement of world affairs.

Coolidge continues to fight plans for an extra session of Congress but that body favors a berceuse "ask it is to finish the Administration's program before the expiration of its term on March 4. An alarming jam has developed in the Senate and the President may yet find it necessary to call an extra session.

school work and entered the University of Nebraska in 1910, marrying the choir singer about the same time. She is the daughter of Dr. John Tracey, of Omaha, Neb. Wedge was licensed a Presbyterian minister from the Southern Arizona Presbytery in 1911.

During the war Wedge served as boxing instructor at Camp Grant, Ill. Here he contracted tuberculosis and was discharged from the Army. With the words of doctors that he stood very little chance of recovery still ringing in his ears, Wedge and his wife and their son went to Texas and Arizona where, after a heroic battle for his life, he fully regained his health.

Continually aided by his wife, Wedge entered the University of Arizona at Tucson and graduated with an A. B. degree in 1920. For a short time that year he was superintendent of schools at Benson, Arizona.

In 1921 Wedge entered Harvard and remained in Cambridge one year. He then returned to Arizona and was fully ordained a Presbyterian minister in 1922. Wedge is now working for his

WEDGE INSPIRED BY HIS GIRL WIFE TO GET EDUCATION

BERKELEY, Cal. Jan. 14.—Fred R. Wedge, who has just announced his intention of abandoning an academic career to become an evangelist, has led one of the most interesting and picturesque of lives.

Born in the woods of Wisconsin, near Lake Superior, in 1880, Wedge grew up to young manhood with but the barest elements of a rudimentary education. His father died when he was 2 1/2 years of age, and his mother when he was 8.

At 20 Wedge became a welter-weight prizefighter and retrained in the ring for six years.

When he was 22 young Wedge fell in love with a frail young woman choir singer. This girl fired him with the ambition to educate himself. She assisted him in doing the work of the grammar school grades at home after he had completed his work at the lumber camp. Later he took high PH.D. degree at the University of California. He expects to have it by next May.

While working for his Ph.D. degree Wedge wrote a thesis on the I. W. W. and exposed the lack of religious influence back of such anti-social organizations. He lived for months among the I. W. W. in order to get accurate information.

After graduating from the University of California in May Wedge plans to remain in the Bay region, where he will take up his duties as an evangelist.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture. Countless persons could trace their ill-health to the food they eat, and all should bear in mind that the right kind of wholesome, nutritive food is without question essential to the recovery and maintenance of health. Perfect food builds perfect tissue and renews that which is broken down by exercise and labor. Many foods contain such medicinal principles that they can be used with more telling effect as drugs than many a concoction that may be obtained at a pharmacy. For instance, spinach and asparagus are nerve tonics. You can put iron into your system by simply eating onions, which contain a large percentage of the mineral. The onion is an humble vegetable, but armies and navies cannot get along without it. Iron is found also in beets, turnips, tomatoes, and spinach. Tomatoes and parsley are liver cleaners. Figs are an excellent laxative. Lettuce and onions are soporifics and consequently good for insomnia. Such foods tend to purify the blood, and if you had pure blood, do you think you could contract disease of any kind? Do you think you could catch a cold? Don't you know that impure blood is the cause of nearly all disease? When disease of any kind attacks one, the malady is always constitutional, that is, it is in the blood. If there are any impurities in the blood, they must, at some time, appear in some part of the body. The introduction of rational methods of eating will surely and quickly remove the noxious elements from the blood. When this poisonous matter is removed there is nothing for the disease to live on. It is easy to regulate the condition of the blood by fasting, dieting, bathing, and exercising. A short fast is always beneficial, purifying the blood in the shortest possible time. Try it occasionally when the blood is filled with impurities due to over-eating. Start fasting slowly; first miss one meal, then two, then three; then fast for a day, then two days. Drink plenty of distilled water during the fast. Upon bringing a two or three-day fast to a close, be sure not to overeat. Fruit is the best thing to start on. The renewed vitality that comes to the wearied organs of the body will more than repay one for an occasional fast.
