SEPTEMBER, 12, 1923 THE LOVE THAT SAVES: For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16. PRAYER: "O Love that will not let me go, I rest my weary soul on Thee; I give Thee back the love I owe; That in Thine ocean depths its flow, May richer, fuller be."

Southern Oregon Gas Company, Gentlemen:

Your efforts to improve the gas service in Ashland deserve the support of the people of the city, and the manner in which you are going about things, I believe, will earn this support.

Your work in installing the new gas pressure tank, which will keep the pressure at a mean level at all times will eliminate one of the biggest objections local people have had to gas in the past. With this means of assuring a steady flow of gas, you have taken a big step toward the universal use of gas in Ashland.

Service in the local office has become many, many times better than anything we have had in the past. The courteous, efficient service rendered at the office is winning many people to your side.

Ashland needs gas, just as she needs other utilities, and I am glad to see you furnishing her with it in such an efficient manner.

Sincerely, Auntie Ashland.

All Ashland Motorists, Dear Children:

A few of my youngsters are starting a branch club of the Oregon State Motor association, and I am sure you will all want to join as soon as possible. You all realize the need of such a club here, and the good it will do the city.

In many cases, you have been in positions where such a club would have meant a saving of more than a year's dues. Again it would have saved that long walk for gasoline, and again it would have prevented your wife, or your sister or your mother from having to do the heavy work of changing a tire.

When the solicitor comes around, meet him half way, give him a chance to explain the whole thing to you. Then I know you will join.

Yours truly, Auntie Ashland.

Circuit Judge C. M. Thomas, Dear Charlie:

See where you have cast great glooms of gloom over the boys who inhabit the jail house maintained by the county, by declaring that the trusty jobs are to be vacated, and are to be allowed to remain vacated. Fine idea.

For quite a while it has been almost a pleasure to be an inmate of the county bastille. When a man, by a short period of good behavior, could obtain a job as a trusty, could get outside the bars, he was not serving the sentence imposed upon him by the judge who pronounced that sentence.

Too many men, who were trusted inmates of the hoosegow, wandered off and forgot to return to their usual beds. They got a nice long start, and by the time their escape was discovered, they were so far away it would have cost a dollar to send them a post card.

Then, those who were not fortunate enough to get trusty jobs could talk to their friends, who congregated about the windows, as long as they cared. Its different now, thanks to you, and lets have it remain different.

Yours truly, Auntie Ashland.

Mr. Irving E. Vining, Ashland, Ore., Dear Mr. Vining:

Your talk at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday was wonderful, and contained such sound business sense that I know every merchant and business man present obtained a lot of good from it, and, if they will practice your advice, will obtain better results than they ever have in the past.

When you said that to induce people to patronize home industry, the products must be equal in quality and price with what the consumer has been getting, and that the local merchant must carry a stock of goods capable of meeting the average call, showed many present why they had not been obtaining the home trade they should. They will, in many cases, rectify their mistakes, and local products will obtain a much better sale here than ever before.

I hope sometime, to be able to hear more from you on this subject, for you could only touch on it in the time allotted you.

Sincerely, Auntie Ashland.

Mr. P. R. Hardy, Ashland, Oregon, Dear Sir:

That little statement of yours, that "drivers in Ashland have one signal for everything. All the driver behind them knows is that they are going to do something" summed up the driving conditions almost perfectly.

Why, in the name of all that is public, when a driver drops his arm to the side of the car, he should make a left turn, is more than I can see. But they do it, and what is more, the women drivers can't be blamed for it all. The men are just as bad, if not worse than the women in this respect.

A little campaign, to educate the public in the proper use of signals to warn those behind them, would not go a bit amiss.

Yours sincerely, Auntie Ashland.

All Ashland People, Ashland, Ore., Dear Folks:

Friday, September 18, has been set aside by the directors of the Jackson County Fair as Ashland day. Upon that day, the exhibits of Ashland people will be featured, and the city will be given the foremost position in all activities.

Every Ashland man, woman and child, who can possibly do so, should be on hand on that date, to help put the day over as the BIG day of the fair.

However, don't forget that the fair opens on Wednesday, September 16, and continues until Saturday, September 19. The show will be worth your support, for it is "bigger and better" than ever this year.

Sincerely, Auntie Ashland.

in the interest of the Week Day School of Religion. Citizens interested in giving the children of the community a more adequate training in the Bible should be present.

Church of Christ V. K. Allison, Minister Bible School Rally Day program will be given by the school the first Lord's Day in October. Promotion day in the Bible school will follow soon after. With the gradual completion of the annex, the very nicest of class rooms are being provided. The Primary and Junior department have already occupied the lower floor. The A. K. I. A. class of men have repainted and calmed the large room formerly occupied by the Primary department and will use it as their class room. Don't forget to come next Sunday. Dr. A. W. Young, minister of the Church of Christ in Grants Pass will speak both morning and evening, while the regular pastor will speak at Grants Pass. Dr. Young will speak in the morning at 11 o'clock, subject "The Kingdom of God." In the evening at 8 o'clock, "Does The Bible and True Science Conflict."

First Baptist Church (Incorporated) B. C. Miller, Pastor "Angels—What We Know About Heavenly Messengers," is the theme for the morning sermon, by the pastor at the Bungalow. This subject will be extremely interesting to all Bible students. Do these messengers really have a part in the affairs of men? or are the days of their visitations past? In the evening the subject will be "The Passing of Jesus." Every seat was filled last Sunday evening at the healing service. It was a gracious meeting and God was present.

Our Bible school is growing. We have a large Bible class studying the gospel of Luke. It is real Bible study. We are getting the bungalow in shape for all services. It is inviting and roomy for all classes. At the hour of regular morning services we have a children's church conducted by Mrs. Crosby. It is a real, stir-enough church, and is enjoyed by the juniors.

HOW MUCH SLEEP IS ENOUGH!

Edison says "Four hours of sleep are enough for me". Napoleon was likewise satisfied with four. Yet most people need eight.

Science now explains the difference by suggesting that quality of sleep is important.

One person sleeps lightly; nerves tense and muscles taut. Another sleeps deeply and soundly, with the repose of complete relaxation that good sleeping equipment insures.

Take ten minutes tonight to study the mattress and spring you sleep on. Then come to our store and examine the wide range of Simmons Beds and Springs Sealy and John Hoey Mattresses at prices fitting any pocketbook. Compare them, judge whether health, energy and success are not worth the cost of real sleep and comfort.

Federation

"TO form a more perfect union" was the animating thought of the statesmen who met to draft America's constitution. Their problem was to weld the sections they represented into a political entity that would function most efficiently and enduringly in the service of the people.

A similar problem was presented nearly a century later to the organizers of America's telephone service. Licenses under the first patents were being granted to isolated companies that were forming to introduce local service. "A more perfect union" of these companies seemed, from the beginning of the telephone's adoption by the people, to be essential, and so the structure of the Bell System was planned.

This organization exists today substantially as it was then conceived—a group of companies, each preserving its individuality and applying local knowledge to local needs, but all federated into a single cohesive union in order that nation-wide, universal service may be provided.
