SENATOR SAYS FRAME UP OVER BAKER ARREST

Stanfield Says Charge is Political Move to Defeat Him

OFFICER HOLDS STAND

Says, "If I Ever Arrested a Drunken Man, Senator Stanfield Was Drunk"

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—Just how Senator Robert N. Stanfield's political hopes will be affected by the alleged disorderly affair in which he participated Sunday night in a local cafe is now the center of discussion here.

Senator Stanfield will be up for re-election at the next general election and the standard bearers in his campaign hastened to deny charges pending against him and cry, "frame-up."

Senator Stanfield's name is on the police blotter opposite the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was arrested Sunday night by Phil Edens, police officer.

Edens warned the senator to behave, he said, but the latter disregarded his warnings and defied the officer, advising the latter to leave him alone because he was United States senator.

Ultimately the senator struck at Edens. It was said, and the policeman responded with a rap of his billy club and took the senator to the police station with his head bleeding. Stanfield was forced to put up bail of $50.

"If I ever arrested a drunken man, Senator Stanfield was drunk," Edens told newspapermen.

Nevertheless Frank McCollough, city attorney, announced Monday that the charge against the senator would probably be pressed as one of disorderly conduct only.

The senator's friends, fearing the political result of the affair, hastened to declare it was a "frame-up."

Six of them, headed by William Poliman, issued a statement which was wired to metropolitan papers in Portland saying:

"Knowing the facts, we feel that the arrest of Senator Stanfield here today was without provocation and was an outrage. He was neither drunk nor disorderly. The people here knowing the facts are unable to understand why the arrest was made."

Stanfield left here for Idaho points to continue hearings of the senate public lands committee on public lands affairs. His present tour as chairman of subcommittee was calculated to boost his political stock until Sunday's affair occurred.

Already Bert E. Haney, member of the shipping board, looms as a formidable opponent on the Democratic ticket, his controversy with President Coolidge over Admiral Palmer, chairman of the emergency fleet corporation having forced him into the limelight and into considerable favor in his home state.

It was freely predicted here that the case pending Stanfield will affect his chances for re-election.

ASHLAND CAMP BRINGS FAME TO THIS CITY

Kansas City Interested in Way Ashland Conducts Auto Camp

The fame of Ashland's municipal auto camp has spread as far East as Kansas City, Missouri, and the Automotive Club of that city has written Frank Jordan, chairman of the Park Board, asking for information upon the camp ground and the park in order that camping conditions in that city may be bettered.

Ashland's auto park first gained recognition in Kansas City through the efforts of two boys, residents of Missouri, who took a trip of over 7,000 miles, during which they visited Ashland.

After camping in the Lillis Park auto camp the boys returned to their homes singing the praises of Ashland and its auto camp until the fame of the camp reached the Automotive club, with the result that the Missouri city will incorporate a number of the ideas, originating in the local camp, in their civic camp grounds.

The letter received by Jordan yesterday follows:

"Two Kansas City boys, Alton Walker and Hays Walker have just returned from a 7,280 mile camping trip to California. They advise that your city has the best tourist camp they found anywhere.

"We will thank you if you will kindly give us information on the same, as we are very much interested in tourist camps, and making a better one for Kansas City."

The letter was signed by John A. Conover, chairman of the good roads committee of the club.

A number of improvements are being made in the camp ground, in preparation for the winter traffic. A new, double cabin will be constructed within the near future, work to be completed by the end of the season.

Wisconsin Voters Today Select New U. S. Senator

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—Conservative estimates by political observers based on the vote polled at the last presidential election indicate that more than 350,000 of Wisconsin's citizenry will travel to the polls Tuesday in the primary of the special election to fill the seat in the United States senate, made vacant by the death of Robert M. La Follette. The primary ends three weeks of bitter and intensive campaigning by six candidates, who are: Robert M. La Follette, Jr., progressive-republican; Roy P. Wilcox, straight Coolidge Republican nominated at the recent Oshkosh convention; Francis E. McGovern, republican; John M. Work, socialist; William George Bruce, democrat; Rev. Daniel Woodward, republican, endorsed by the state K. K. K. Another candidate will be entered. His name, however, will not appear on the ballot, but will have to be written in. He is Judge C. B. Rogers, democrat; chosen recently by a faction of democrats displeased with Bruce's stand on the league of nations and the world court.

S. P. WOULD BUILD NEW TRUNK ROAD

KLAMATH FALLS, Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—The Southern Pacific railway, through its president, William Sproule, announced today that it would establish a trunk line between Portland and Odgen, Utah, via Klamath Falls, Alturas, and Eastern California and Nevada points, if the Interstate Commerce Commission will grant an exclusive grant permission to the Oregon trunk railway to extend its lines from Bend to Klamath Falls. However, the traffic would then not be sufficiently great to warrant a full program of the Southern Pacific, the statement said.

KIWANIS WILL DEDICATE NEW STATUE TODAY

Harding Memorial is to be Dedicated at Vancouver Gathering

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 15.—This Canadian town not many miles from the border line is teeming with excitement today and anxiously awaits tomorrow when the long waited for dedication of the Harding International Good Will Memorial will be celebrated. The memorial built by Kiwanis International, the service organization with ninety-six thousand members in the United States and Canada, is a tribute to the memory of the late honored executive and a monument to exemplify the one hundred and seven years of friendship of the two countries. In Stanley Park, Vancouver's municipal beauty spot and playground, where the memorial is located, the finishing touches of beauty were dexterously handed this morning by Charles Marego, the Italian sculptor, under whose supervision the erection of the monument has been going on for the past twelve months. Some eight-hundred feet from the main entrance of the park and built underneath the tall majestic trees of this wonderful part of the North American continent, the memorial has been erected. Granite and bronze, tons of it, make up the material substance. But Kiwanians give to this substance a greater significance and value. It is the representation of a spiritual fortification, a boundary marker extending its influence from the Pacific across to the Atlantic and expressive of both Canada's and the United States' understanding of peace.

Within a few hours the thousands crowding into this city and its environs will meet at the shrine. Officials of the two countries whose relations have always been peaceful will commemorate this occasion. History will then set almost a precedent, for the memorial is not expressive as a symbol of hope for peace, but a bulwark built on the foundation of an already existing century and more of peaceful human relationship.

Lake Dries up, Swimmers Must Seek New Pools

MERCED, Calif., Sept. 15.—(U. P.)—Privately owned swimming pools here have again come into favor here because of the gradual drying up of Yosemite lake, owned by the Merced Irrigation district, which uses it for storage purposes. The lake was kept usually full during the spring and summer by heavy rains, but the water is rapidly receding. Hundreds of bathers who sought escape from the heat in the cool waters now must be content to use plunges. While it is possible to swim in the lake, receding water has left huge expanses of mixed sand and mud which bathers must traverse. The present season is the first in which there have been no drownings or accidents.

HAWLEY SAYS TAXATION IS MOST BRUTAL

"If You Don't Pay Taxes You Lose All" Declares Congressman

Taxation is the most brutal thing in the world. If you don't pay your taxes, along comes the sheriff and he sells your accumulations of years. If you do not have the money to pay your taxes, and lose everything you have, you get little or no sympathy from your friends and neighbors. Therefore, I say, taxation, being so brutal, should rest as lightly as possible upon the shoulders of the citizenry, declared Congressman W. C. Hawley, speaker at the chamber of commerce forum luncheon today. Hawley, like every other holder of public office, who is visiting his constituents, allowed his hearers to understand that he, being on the ways and means committee of the house, was responsible for a large cut in taxation during the past five years. He allowed the inference to drop easily and quietly, but nevertheless the inference was there. However, for the most part, Hawley traveled lines of thought interesting to his hearers, allowing himself only on one or two occasions to do a little stumping. The congressman, who has represented this district in the lower house of the national legislature for the past 20 years, took as his subject, "Taxation."

CRATER LAKE DISCOVERER IS TO BE HONORED

Invitations have been extended by the Klamath county chamber of commerce to all people who can attend, to be present at the ceremonies to be conducted at the rim of Crater Lake Sunday afternoon, commemorating the discovering of the lake by John Wesley Hillman.

Hillman discovered the beautiful lake in 1853, when he was but 21 years of age. He lived to see it developed into one of the greatest resorts on the coast. A bronze plate will be erected at the point on the lake where it was first observed by a white man. The following inscription will be engraved on the plate: John Wesley Hillman. Discovered Crater Lake at this point June 13, 1853. Born in Albany, N. Y. March 25, 1832. Died in Hopeville, La. March 19, 1916.

District Attorney Chaney of Jackson county was accompanying Talent at the time of the shooting.
