SEPTEMBER 26, 1925
THE WAY TO FREEDOM — Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. John 8:32.
PRAYER: — O Lord, reveal thyself to us, for thou art the Truth, and we will rejoice in thy liberty.

Members, Pioneers of Southern Oregon, Ashland Oregon, Dear Folks:
Let me congratulate you upon this anniversary, this reunion, which brought you out in full force, to renew friendships, to meet old acquaintances, and to honor your members who have started upon a new journey of adventure, following the Great Pioneer.
It is to you we owe everything we now have which makes life worth living in Southern Oregon, the greatest section of the greatest state.
And it not been for your adventurous spirit, your longing for the wide open spaces, and your bravery in leaving friends and relatives far behind to come to a new country, we would, in all probability, not now have the wonderful state in which we live.
You have written your names upon the sands of time, in letters which will never blur. You will remain before us always as representing the true spirit of America. Pioneers, I bow to you!

Sincerely yours,
Auntie Ashland.

Earl Hosler, Superintendent, Water Department, Dear Earl:
I am writing this to you, for I believe you are the man who can do the most in straightening the matter out.
First, I would like to have you answer a question. Why is it that the federal government puts a fence across the foot of Ashland canyon, forever keeping human beings from enjoying the beauties of that canyon, and then allows the remainder of the canyon to be open as the sky so herds of cattle may range through the watershed?
Seems queer to me that this should be the case, and it gives one the idea that a cow has more privileges than its owner.
Of course, some will advance the argument that humans will pollute the water more than cattle, but I do not believe this to be the case. Realizing the water is used to supply the city of Ashland, I believe humans would be careful in their actions, and would not pollute the stream as much as do the cattle.
This is not a criticism of your department Earl, for you can do nothing. I write it merely in the hope that it will bring some action, either in allowing us to enjoy the canyon's beauties, or in bringing about some means of keeping cattle out of the watershed.

Sincerely,
Auntie Ashland.

Walter Hughes, Athletic Coach, Ashland High School, Dear Walter:
Another football season has rolled around, and with it has brought the ever recurring thought, "will Ashland this year have a championship team."
I have looked over the boys who have turned out for football this year, and although I can see they are small, they look fast, and also have a look of determination which seems to say, "this is an Ashland year."
The city is firmly behind the football team this year, as it has been in years past. There is no need to exhort the people to support the team; for they are giving it every possible bit of support they have.
Under your guidance, and with the never-say-die spirit the boys are showing, I know this will be "an Ashland year."

Yours truly,
Auntie Ashland.

J. H. McGee, Ashland, Oregon, Dear Jim:
Glad to see you in your new store and ready for action. Your new building is beautiful, and adds immensely to the business section of the city.
Your many years in business in Ashland have brought you many friends, friends who I am sure will always remain with you, and the construction of your new building is a step in advance, and expansion of an old concern.
I am always glad to see one of Ashland's business men improve his store. It means much to the city and it means much to him. I congratulate you Jim.
Yours truly,
Auntie Ashland.

George W. McNabb, Chief of Police, Dear George:
Now that the city council has ratified your recommendations for the regulations upon parking upon the city streets, there seems to be a marked preference for the side streets being shown by auto drivers here.
Many of these drivers have been leaving their cars standing parked upon Main street for hours, never realizing the damage they were doing, and the inconvenience they were causing by doing this.
Just a little reminder was all they needed, and the council furnished that reminder in the form of an ordinance regulating parking.
Of course, there are a few who do not understand reminders of that sort. I believe though, Judge Frost can add a little to the reminder which will cause them to tie a string-around their fingers, in order to remember not to forget.

Sincerely,
Auntie Ashland.

V. D. Miller, Hab-a-dash-Inn, Friend Bert:
Just what would you do Bert, to a fellow who would buy a piece of beef and pawn it off upon a friend as venison? That would be a pretty dirty trick, wouldn't it Bert? It sort of makes things worse when the victim passes the venison on around among his neighbors, and comes down town the next morning, telling of the wonderful flavor of the venison, but complaining that it was a "trifle tough."
And then, when the fellow who played the prank gets up in a public meeting and tells the assembled throng about his brave deed, and brings blushes to the cheeks of the victim, that's adding insult to injury, isn't it Bert? Bert, if I were you I would shoot Bill Briggs.

Yours truly,
Auntie Ashland.

Even if only a rumor, we are glad to hear that Jesse Winburn may remain financially interested on the coast. We do not know of any business man who would make them step to keep abreast of him than the former owner of "Sap and Salt" would, no matter what kind of a business he might start.

Governor Pierce is understood to have traveled to Portland one morning to entertain Jesse Winburn at breakfast. Is Walter looking for a treasurer for his next gubernatorial campaign?

It is reported that a wife, who is also reported to have been continually nagging the other half of the family, is now searching for said husband.
