the 1924, especially in the "Red Settlement" program which marks just at the beginning of real national achievement.

A separate resolution to the effectors of the Portland chamber of commerce expressing gratification at the co-operative spirit shown by the Portland chamber of commerce and to Secretary Dodson for his spirit of helpfulness in the way of suggestion and combined effort.

Among those attending and taking part in the discussion from the various communities were Andrew Collier, president of the Klamath county chamber of commerce; Lynn P. Sabin, secretary; E. E. Hall and others. Messrs. V. V. Mills, Irving Vining, R. E. Detrick, G. W. Dunn and others from Ashland; Robert H. Boyl, secretary of the Medford chamber of commerce, W. H. Crawford and others; H. D. Norton, president, Grants Pass chamber of commerce and Messrs. Demaray, Clark, Harbeck, Miller and others from Grants Pass; L. Aptley, secretary, Roseburg chamber of commerce and others; E. R. Saltmarsh, Crescent City, W. D. B. Dodson, Portland. The entire board of the Ashland chamber of commerce were in attendance at the noon luncheon but not all were able to attend the afternoon session. A good delegation of the Medford chamber came up during the evening with the expectation of an eve-ing gathering but owing to the large crowd and the distribution of the program, no evening session was held.
