CAILLAUX IS ON WAY HOME AFTER MEETING

French Minister Pleased at Result of Debt Negotiations

MUST BE RATIFIED

Feel French Parliament Will Agree to Terms Reached by Commission

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Joseph Caillaux, French minister of finance, left Washington today on his return trip to France, following his week in this country, during which time he conferred with the American Debt Funding commission relative to the funding of the French $4,200,000,000 war debt.

Caillaux will make an attempt to obtain the parliamentary approval of the provisions for the five year truce on the settlement of the four billion dollar debt, which was agreed upon by the commissions of the two countries, after several days of negotiation. The French minister, although hopeful, did not positively state that he was confident that his actions would be backed by his parliament.

It was pointed out that the proposal for France to pay forty million dollars annually, for five years, when the payment of the bulk of the debt will again be brought up for discussion, must be approved by both congress and the French parliament, of the status of the debt will be identical with what it was before Caillaux came to the United States, and the negotiations will have been a complete failure.

Financial experts, in close touch with the debt situation believe that the French parliament will readily agree to the terms secured by Caillaux, since they are considered extremely favorable to France, but they are not so certain that congress will ratify the agreement.

It was felt before the funding negotiations were opened that France would be able to pay at least $125,000,000 per year, but the French minister flatly refused this amount, declaring that their country was not in position to make those payments, and that $100,000,000 would be the highest mark they could possibly reach. This proposal was not favorable to the American commission, and after several days of further negotiating, it was agreed that the temporary agreement would be best.

The annual interest on the French debt is $125,000,000.

Irrigation is Closed Down At Klamath

KLAMATH FALLS, Oct. 2.—Head gates at the source of the main canal of the Klamath irrigation district were closed Monday morning and the irrigation season for 1925 officially brought to a close, was announced from the local reclamation office.

With the closing of the head gates of the canal, the fall, winter, and early spring storage season begins and water will be impounded in Clear Water dam, Gerber dam and Klamath Lake during this period for the purpose of providing an adequate supply of water for next year.

The next irrigating season opens during the late spring of 1926. This year the season started late, owing to an abundance of early spring rain.

A little less water was carried in the main canal during this season than the 1924 irrigating season, according to reclamation officials. This was caused by more water being utilized from the Lost River source to irrigate the Merrill section.

However, the largest head of water ever carried in the main canal this season, it was 600 second feet at the peak. The peak flow during last season was 750 second feet.

Returned from Eugene—Miss Rita Abbott returned last evening from Eugene where she attended her brother's wedding.

To Talent—Thomas Hill was a business visitor at Talent yesterday.

Women Told How To Dress For Rome Church

ROME, Oct. 2.—The war against immodest dress in the churches reached a decisive stage today when the central holy year committee issued a circular to the directors of pilgrimages notifying them that all women found in the churches not conforming to the rules for proper garb would be ejected. It is understood that the circular was issued at the behest of Pope Pius.

The regulations prescribe that the women must have their heads covered; their clothing must be opaque, "reasonably long," closed up to the collar, and the sleeves must come at least below the elbows.

SUB IS FOUND TO BE FILLED WITH WATER

Divers Declare All Hands Dead; Two Rooms to be Tested This Afternoon

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—The bodies of B. D. Lindsey and Walter B. Lawton were recovered from the engine room of the ill fated submarine S-51 today.

Lawton was an electrician, and his home was in Weymouth, Mass. Lindsey was an engineer, and his home is said to have been in Pensacola, Florida.

With the finding of the two bodies, divers reported that the water tight compartment door leading into the motor room, the last room astern, was open. This meant definitely, that the whole ship, with the possible exception of the torpedo room, is flooded.

The body of an officer, believed to be from the S-51, was cast ashore near Stonington, Conn., today. A ring was found on one of the fingers with the initials J. R. or S. E.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—The "rescue fleet" operations are still continuing, with the chance seemingly one in a million of finding living men within the hull of the sunken submarine S-51.

Only the motor room astern and the torpedo room, forward, have yet to be tested by the divers. All other compartments of the vessel were tested by the divers yesterday afternoon and this morning, and found to be flooded. This testing work was started when the monster marine cranes Monarch and Century were unable to lift the stern of the sunken submarine, although the combined lifting capacity of the two derricks was attached to the chains.

Divers, however, believe that both the motor room and the torpedo room are filled with water, and that all the members of the crew have perished.

MEN WANTED IN EUGENE THEFT ARE ARRESTED

These Men Believed to Have Robbed Store in Northern City Are Taken

MEDFORD, Oct. 2.—Upon the request of Sheriff Taylor of Lane county, State Traffic Officers J. J. McMahon and C. P. Talent arrested four men a short distance south of Central Point at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, bringing them to this city to be held until the arrival of the Lane county sheriff.

The men, who gave their names as Ralph Tintin, Clarence Smith, Robert Mitchell and Claude Mackey, are alleged to have committed forgery and to have broken into a store near Eugene. A total of $235.38 cash was found on their persons, together with two I. W. W. membership cards and a pair of brass knuckles.

The men were traveling in a large car headed south when McMahon and Talent halted them to stop, but instead of doing so they speeded on. McMahon drew alongside in order that Talent might gain foothold on the fleeing car. With that officer on the car the men stopped after traveling a short distance farther. They were searched for firearms, but none found.

The man, upon whose person the brass knuckles were found, was taken in charge by McMahon, while Talent bid the three others to take places in the front seat and drive to Medford, while he seated himself in the rear.

When they arrived here the men were promptly locked in the city jail to await the arrival of Sheriff Taylor from Eugene.

The big exhibit of the Talent Irrigation District, which is separate from the regular Jackson county exhibit that has attracted so much favorable attention at the state fair, also wins much general praise, as shown by the following in the Portland Journal:

BELIEVE PART REDWOOD ROAD TO BE BUILT

Notices Posted Along Road Between Grants Pass and Kerby

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 2.—Notices which have been posted along the right-of-way for the Redwood highway between Grants Pass and Kerby, are believed to signify the intention of the state highway commission to complete that portion of the road to the coast. The county court received instructions recently from the commission to acquire a right-of-way 80 feet in width, so that work could proceed on the completion of the road to the state line. That part between Kerby and the line is either completed or under construction at the present time.

The new location follows the present road in very few places. The new survey will require 24 miles of absolutely new construction between Grants Pass and the George Ranch, a short distance beyond Kerby. The highway office here has been gathering all the data needed and this has been forwarded to the commission.

From the George ranch to Kerby, the location will follow closely along the present highway. North of Kerby, however, a tangent carries the road away from the present one and parallels it closely to a new pass between Selma and Kerby. It passes through Selma on the present grade but north of Selma is on the west side of the canyon. The grades over the north side of Hayes hill is utilized and the turns have been reduced to lessen any dangers on this stretch. From Waters Creek to Wilderville, the road will closely parallel the California and Oregon Coast railroad. The road is also being greatly straightened from Wilderville to Grants Pass.

MORE LOOT IN GOOD ROBBERY IS RECOVERED

Cache is Discovered in Bushy Thicket on Hill Above Park

Cyril, Virgil and Ellis Lacey, boys arrested several weeks ago by Chief of Police McNabb in connection with the robberies of the homes of Dr. Guy Good and Dale Templar, were last night sent to the Beaverton Home for Boys, by Red Cross Nurse Roberts.

The three boys, the oldest about 12, at the time of the robbery admitted entering the Good and Templar homes. However, when their older sisters were brought into the case, the boys reversed their testimony, and declared they had not been in the houses, although it is alleged that much of the stolen property was recovered from their home.

Delbert Lacey, a brother of the three boys, led the police to several caches where much of the stolen property had been hidden.

This morning, several more articles, identified by Mrs. Templar as goods stolen from her home, were recovered by D. Guy Good. A cache was discovered on the hill above Lithia Park by a small boy, who reported the discovery to Good. The latter declared this morning that the property was hidden in a cache in the brush which was very difficult to reach. The brush had been cut away in the center of an especially heavy thicket, and pillows, blankets and other articles piled up. Magazines scattered about indicated that whoever made the cache had used it as a hiding place.

Valuable dresses belonging to Mrs. Templar were found in the cache, cut and torn, and almost every article found was damaged so badly as to be useless.

RODGERS SAYS MITCHELL PLAN IS ALL WRONG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(U. P.)—Opposition to a separate air corps in the navy was voted today before the special aircraft board of investigation by Commander John Rodgers of the PN-9-1.

Rodgers was given a tremendous ovation by the crowd when he entered the committee room. Rodgers was also opposed to Mitchell's unified air service plan.

"The unified proposal," he said, "would defeat the chief advantage that it purports to gain, namely, control of airplanes by air officers."

In a droll style, Rodgers leveled criticisms as some of the phases of the management of the navy. He kept the board and the huge crowd laughing with his wit in replying to inquiries.

ASHLAND GIRLS ARE WINNERS AT STATE FAIR

Adena Joy Highest Scoring Girl in State, Report Shows

MARY GALEY WINNER

Believe Jackson County Club Members Will Take Majority of Prizes

Two Ashland girls, Miss Adena Joy and Miss Mary Galey, are to be the guests of Superintendent King of the Southern Pacific company, along with several other members of boys and girls clubs throughout the state, at a banquet this evening, as the result of their high scores, registered in the club competition at the state fair at Salem, according to a wire received this morning by A. C. Joy of this city from H. C. Seymour, state club leader.

Miss Joy left last night for Salem, to attend the banquet. Miss Galey is at present a member of the Jackson County Boys' and Girls' Club Camp at the Fair grounds, being one of the two girls sent there by Jackson county for superior club work.

Miss Galey won first place in division two, a sewing division, and she is at present one of the two high scoring girls of the state in the sewing division. The wire from Seymour stated that Miss Joy was high scoring club girl for the state.

Last year, Miss Joy, with Ellen Galey, as a team mate, won first place at the state fair in a canning demonstration. This year the two girls are slated for the International Livestock Exposition at Portland next month, where they will put on a prune bread baking demonstration. They hope to maintain the standard established by Frances and Rosina Gallatin, who took first place last year at the state fair, then at the livestock exposition and finally represented Oregon at the Chicago Livestock show.

R. W. Price, lessee of the Lithia Springs hotel will also attend the banquet being given this evening. Price has always taken a keen interest in club work and his interest, according to Seymour, has aided greatly in furthering club work throughout the state.

This year Price is offering to the two girls and two boys making the highest scores, a trip to Crater Lake, with a week of entertainment.

With more departments to be judged later today and tomorrow, it is believed by leaders in club work in this vicinity, that Ashland and Jackson county boys and girls will carry off most of the honors in their departments.
