son has in Washington. McKeechie isn't much of a sentimentalist as Bucky Harris was in the last world's series when he gambled his judgement and his reputation to make a hero out of Johnson and it is considered unlikely that he will start Adams instead of Lee Meadows or Vic Aldridge.

The Washington club has no respect for reputations in the enemy forces and it is known to have a dislike to curve ball pitching and Meadows and Aldridge are two of the best curve ball pitchers in the National League.

Muddy Ruel has first call to work behind the bat for the Senators. He is worn physically from a hard season but he still has the brains of a smart catcher and brains are considered as of paramount importance by the Washington management.

"Oil" Smith, the belligerent Pittsburgh catcher, probably will do the receiving work of the Pirates. He has never distinguished himself in the world's series games he caught for the New York Giants but he is an aggressive worker and a good mechanic and he has a fine slugging eye in the Pittsburgh park.

and rigid modes of thought, tends to fossilize society. It is the ferment of ideas, the clash of disagreeing judgments, the privilege of the individual to develop his own thoughts and shape his own character, that makes progress possible.

President Coolidge concluded his address by drawing together his two ideals of tolerance at home and abroad as the way to peace:

"We can make little contribution to the welfare of humanity on the theory that we are a superior people and all others are an inferior people."

"We can only make America first in the true sense which that means by cultivating a spirit
