OCTOBER 9, 1925
PROCLAMATION OF PEACE:—Glory be to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. Luke 2:14.
PRAYER:—Our loving Father, we thank Thee for: "Peace, perfect peace, our future all unknown? Jesus we know, and He is on the throne."

IS IT FAIR TO THE PRINTERS?
The whole principle involved in the subject of government ownership of industry is wrapped up in the government printing and selling stamped envelopes, the only absolutely socialistic movement that the government has gone into.

To the everlasting glory of the American press and particularly the rural press, it has stood solidly as a matter of principle and without price against all encroachments of government which would tend to break down or destroy American ideals of freedom and the right of exercising individual initiative and enterprise. It has done this in the face of government competition and government ownership in the printing industry and in spite of the fact that a large percentage of stores, banks, doctors, lawyers, and manufacturing institutions which would fight such competition in their own line of business, consistently fail to patronize the printing offices of the publishers from whom they expect protection when necessity arises.

On orders under 10,000 it is impossible for printers to furnish envelopes with a printed return address at a price to compete with the government. For amounts over 10,000, larger printers can produce printed envelopes far below government figures.

It is the small publisher and printer who is hurt worst by the government competition. This is the general rule in all lines of activity when government ownership is established. The more the government gets into the field of business, the more impossible it will become to eliminate the government printing of envelopes.

This problem affects not only the printers of this nation but every individual who ever hopes to do any thing besides draw pay in an official position.

The trial is soon over if the accused man has no money.

No woman can make a fool of a man unless he co-operates with her.

Take hold where other let go, and you'll save a lot of time in succeeding.

When cussedness comes natural to a man, you waste time taking him to church.

When it is dangerous to tell others the truth, you can still tell it to yourself.

If the propensities of mosquitoes could be transferred to fish, it would be quite an improvement.
