

Classified Column
 Classified Column
 One cent the word each day. To get every word for one month go more, 25¢ the word each time.

FOR RENT
 Five room furnished house, 104 Third Street. Inquire at Plaza Meat Market. 33-3t

FOR RENT—Furnished cabins and small apartments. 155 Granite St. 33-3t

FOR RENT—Four or five rooms, furnished. With or without garage. Inquire at 541 Fairview. 32-3t

FOR RENT—3 room furnished apt., ground floor, 3 blocks from P. O. Phone 482-Y. 32-3t

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment. Also unfurnished flat. Heat furnished. Lithia Apartments. 32-3t

FOR RENT—Furnished five-room modern bungalow. 126 Bush St. Phone 289-J. 30-1t

FOR RENT—Modern 5 room house, range and linoleum, on Fairview Street. Phone 278-J. 30-5

FOR RENT at the Vista Apartment, a warm, cozy furnished, two room apartment with kitchenette and bath. One and one half blocks from library. Phone 122. 25-1t

FOR RENT—Private garage between 2nd and 3rd streets. Near paved alley. Phone 23 or 273-R. 23-1t

FOR RENT—New, modern, furnace heated Apts., and sleeping rooms. Chattin Apts., Phone 303-R. Call forenoon or evenings. 9-1 Mo.

FOR RENT—Splendid light airy apartment, suitable for two or three persons, 81 Nutley street or phone 443J. 4-1t

FOR SALE
 Green pickling tomatoes, 75 cents per 100 pounds. Bring boxes. The Covered Wagon, Phoenix. 33-3t

FOR SALE—Tomatoes, 1c lb. 536 Ashland St. 33-3t

FOR SALE—Sweet Pea seeds. Pink and blue, colors mixed. Five cents a packet. 240 Wimer Street. 33-2t

FOR SALE—Universal Range, almost good as new. Cheap. 133 N. Pioneer St. 31-1t

FOR SALE—Must sell this excellent little Nash sedan, in A-1 help make the price and terms to suit. J. A. Youngs, 73 Pine St., Ashland. 31-4t

FOR SALE—20 head cows and heifers. J. W. Shattuck, Talent. 29-5t

FOR SALE BY OWNER—One story bungalow, furnished, two apartments or one family home. Close in. Reasonable for cash, 76 Bush St. 10-1t

FOR SALE—10-acre farm; 7 acres in cultivation, family orchard; 7-room house; barn; good water; right in the town of Mill City. The town with the big payroll. Price $6,000. Will trade for Ashland property of equal or lesser value, and give time on difference. Address owner, J. E. Ray, Mill City, Oregon. 4-26t

RANCH BARGAINS WITH TERMS
 17 ACRES—14 acres tilled, and 3 for pasture. Priced at $1,000.
 5 ACRES best of land, fenced, $500.
 11.68 ACRES bottom land, alfalfa and grain, living water, irrigation for 7 1/2 acres, cheap at $1150.
 All near City limits, with telephone and R. F. D. privileges. Inquire of G. S. Butler, 41 Granite St., City. 32-1 mo.

MISCELLANEOUS
 LOST—A gold brooch between Bolton's Drug Store and 315 North Main. If found please call 271-Y. Reward. 33-2t

WANTED—Strong, capable, middle-aged woman, a good plain cook, who wants a permanent position at general housework; everything new and convenient; good home and good wages to right party. Address Mrs. W. M. Shepard, Care of California Oregon Power company or phone 1020 Medford. 32-3t

LOST—Ball Terrier; answers by name of "Pal." Return for reward at Powder Puff Beauty Shop. 32-4t

SEWING
 WANTED—Sewing by the day. Let me reline your coat or fur. Mrs. L. B. Crosby, Phone 210H, 125 North Main St. 30-1t

I WANT WORK in store. Or what have you for a man? P. O. Box 408. Jack Ranton. 29-5t

MARCELLING 75¢, Phone 186J for appointment or call 42 Helman St., upstairs apt. 25-1 mo.

WANTED—Care-taker on timber ranch, 3 miles west of Ashland (old Mahan place). Rent free and privilege of cutting small wood. Audley Porter, 115 Church St. 20-1t

CONVALESCENT HOMES
 Where the sick are cared for. Special rates to invalids. Call 153

KAT FEARS in place of Apples. Fine hand picked pears, 75 cents per box in apple boxes, delivered. Watermelons, 10 cents each at patch, Cantelopes, potatoes, string beans, tomatoes, squash, cooking apples. Call 3651J at evenings or 260J office phone. Leave orders at 63 North Main street. W. W. Robinson. 21-1t

BUILDING, Repairing, Shingling, Painting, Kalsomining, Re-finishing. W. T. Blackwell, 919 Garfield. Phone 323L, 307-1t

MATERNITY
 Reasonable Rates
 153 Granite. Telephone 153

Professional

PHYSICIANS
 DR. W. J. CRANDALL
 Oculopath; Physician & Surgeon
 Office Phone 126. Home 487-J
 First National Bank Bldg.

DR. CHARLES A. HAINES
 Physician and surgeon
 Office Phone 104-J
 Home Phone 104-L
 Office hours, 10 to 12 A. M.; 2 to 5 P. M.; 7 to 8 evenings. Citizens Bank Building.

DR. HAWLEY — Above Tidings office. Phone 91.

DR. ERNEST A. WOODS—Practice limited to eye, ear, nose and throat—X-ray including teeth. Office hours, 10 to 12 and 2 to 5, Swedenburg Bldg., Ashland, Oregon.

C. ELLYSON SHINN, D.M.D.
 Citizens Bank Bldg.
 Office Phone 151, Res. Phone 194
 Evenings By Appointment

PLANING MILL
 JORDAN'S RASH AND CABINET WORKS, Cor. Holman and Van Ness. Phone 161. 194-1t

WHEATLE TRANSFER CO.
 For Service
 Dealers in Coal, Wood, Packing, Crating and Storage. Long distance trucking.

T. L. POWELL—General Transfer — Good team and motor trucks. Good service at a reasonable price. Phone 53.

FEHIGE ROACH
 Transfer — Express — Storage
 Handling — Dray work of all kinds. Quick motor service. Dry wood of all kinds. Phone 410-R, 375 E. Street. 112-1t

ANY GIRL IN TROUBLE—May communicate with Ensign Lee of the Salvation Army at the White Shield Home, 565 Mayfair Ave., Portland, Oregon.

AUCTIONEER
 A. L. GIDEON
 Sales taken anywhere—anytime. Ashland, Oregon

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has been appointed administrator of the estate of Charles G. Johnson, deceased, by the county court of Jackson County, Oregon, and has qualified. All persons having claims against said estate are notified to present same to me at my law office in the City of Ashland, Oregon, with proper vouchers and duly verified, within six months from the first publication hereof, which is September 19, 1925.
 W. J. MOORE,
 Administrator. 16-4 Sat.

AXE MURDERER IS HANGED AT FOLSOM
 FOLSOM PENITENTIARY, Calif., Oct. 9.—(U. P.)—Alfred Bollinger, axe murderer of Alex Summers of Marysville, Calif., was hanged here today. The trap was sprung at ten seven, a. m., and the murderer was pronounced dead fifteen minutes later.

To Stockton—W. D. Whittle of the Whittle transfer has made a trip to Stockton, California, to the Graham Brothers motor company. He will drive a new 11-2 ton Graham truck back to Ashland.

Warrenton—Columbia River Cooperative Packers to build salmon cannery and cold storage plant here.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine will do what we claim for it—relieve your system of Catarrh or Deafness caused by Catarrh.
 Sold by druggists for over 40 years.
 J. J. OHENY & CO., Toledo, Ohio

Society

NEW CARRIER IS LARGEST IN NAVY OUTFIT

ANNOUNCEMENT
 No society reports will be published in The Daily Tidings until Monday, October 12, when a change in policy and handling of Society Notes will become effective when the first installment under the new plan will be published.

Last year, due to the lack of space to properly handle the Society Notes in three installments each week, a change was made whereby the Society was published each day. Within a short time The Tidings will make several improvements which will permit more space for Society and hereafter, instead of publishing a small amount of Society Notes in each issue, longer and more detailed reports will be published twice each week.

These reports will be in the Monday and Thursday issues of The Tidings, starting with the issue of October 12.

The Tidings management is also glad to announce that arrangements have been made whereby Mrs. Grace Andrews, who is recognized as the premier society editor of the city, has consented to edit the Society Notes, beginning with the Monday issue. Mrs. Andrews is closely connected with practically every club and other sources of society news in the city and Tidings readers are assured of the best possible Society columns in The Tidings beginning next Monday.

Later, when extensions are completed, The Tidings will publish each Thursday in connection with Society, a Woman's Page embodying special features, articles and interesting illustrations.

THE FORUM
 Articles of timely interest are welcomed under this head. Communications must bear the signature of the author.

Good morning, Auntie Ashland! I was thinking of you early this morning, and I like you (But I don't know who you are) so I will not wait until you die, to tell it. You encourage our good men in doing what is good work for all the people. That seems hereditary, because some time ago, somebody, an uncle, grandfather or grand-aunt, maybe, gave you "kintfolk" advice in the Tidings that sounded good to me.

Now Auntie, you just let "old men prophecy," and you listen to them, because sometimes good ideas are hindered by doubts, if not encouraged by good peoples sanction, and cause a real loss to humanity, at large.

What I remember about that "kintfolk" letter, was a way to fill our hotels full to the brim, making this a "Convention City." Didn't your adviser, Auntie, say a "Monument to Mr. and Mrs. Root, in restoring their much loved Chautauque for all city use, also a large Convention Hall, to be heard about, as the Root Memorial Hall of Ashland?"

Now, Auntie, do you see a vision. Providence has opened a wide window, the way is clear. Everybody benefitted without a loss to any individual, but a gain to all generations, and a generous lover of Ashland will have a monument in the Chautauque, restored to usefulness.

Another of your relatives heard from, do you have any others?

Left Ashland—Mrs. Lena Edwards, accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Edwards and Mrs. Nathan Simpkins, left Thursday morning by auto for Sacramento and Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Simpkins will visit relatives in Sacramento while Mrs. Lena Edwards is returning home after a six weeks visit with her son, J. R. Edwards, on Third street. Mrs. J. R. Edwards will visit relatives in Los Angeles and Santa Monica before returning to Ashland.

Tidings Want Ads never fail

Shoe Repairing
 Quick Service

Agee Shoe Shop
 339 E. Main Street

ASHLAND FLOWER SHOP
 Lithia Springs Hotel Building
 PHONE 120
 "SAY IT WITH FLOWERS"

Gods, Goddesses in Textbooks "Objectable"

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, city school superintendent of Los Angeles, has come to the conclusion that the undrugged figures of gods and goddesses of Greek and Roman mythology are out of place in reference books intended for use in school libraries. The opinion that such illustrations, including one of Cupid and Psyche, are too suggestive for boys and girls of high school age was expressed in a letter read before the state board of education.

It also was shown by the letter that Mrs. Dorsey's view in this connection coincide with those of Rev. R. P. ("Bob") Schuler of Los Angeles, who recently started a crusade to ban certain illustrations contained in books of mythology.

Mrs. Dorsey notified the state board that she had ordered one of the offending illustrations cut out of reference books in the Los Angeles school libraries. The state board of education has taken no action because the book in question is not listed as a textbook.

The Navy at present has but one airplane carrier, the U. S. S. Langley, rebuilt from the Old Collier, Jupiter.

The Lexington will be literally a floating airplane field. As a naval vessel, it will class with the "Saratoga" as the longest in the world.

Its power plant will be capable of developing the tremendous force of 180,000 horsepower. This is greater than the combined rated output of the six electric driven capital ships now in commission, viz., New Mexico, California, Maryland, Colorado and West Virginia.

The speed of the Lexington will be more than 33 knots, or 12 1/2 knots more than the speed of the Maryland. Its length is 874 feet and its beam is 105 feet. The Maryland is 624 feet long at the water line, with a beam of 97 feet. The length of the Langley is 620 feet and her beam is 65 feet.

The propulsion apparatus will consist of four 35,200 kilowatt turbine generator sets, supplying current to eight powerful electric motors. The turbine generators will be operated by steam from sixteen oil-fired boilers.

The motors will be connected in pairs to each of the four propeller shafts. The energy which will be delivered to each shaft by the motors will be 45,000 horsepower, or a total on all four shafts, of 180,000 horsepower. Upon the impulse of this immense force, the propeller blades will revolve 317 times a minute.

The Lexington will exemplify the last word in radio equipment. Like the Langley, it will give particular attention to radio operations.

It will have ample space below decks to store flying machines, as well as elevators and cranes with which to hoist them up from below, preparatory to hopping off from the flying deck.

No naval vessel, except the Langley, first of the ships of this type, and the Saratoga, now building, look at all the way the Lexington will appear. Because of the minimum deck apparatus, it will seem unusually low in the water. The immense sweep of its great flying decks will be broken only by a massive combination funnel enclosure, set off at one side of the hull.

The deck will be so immense and so unobstructed that it will resemble a small-sized marine drill ground.

DIVIDED VIEWS AID SOVIET MOSCOW HOLDS

By FREDERICK KUH
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 10.—(U. P.)—The Peking conference in October, say Soviet authorities, will result in a complete fiasco, if the British insist upon restricting the agenda to discussion of foreign control of Chinese tariffs.

Britain is expected to remain adamant on the issue of extra-territoriality in China. A high Foreign Office spokesman described the Soviet's view of this question to me as follows:

"Britain needs the privileges of extra-territoriality for her settlements and factories in China," he said, "as well as for the domination of certain Chinese markets. But these British privileges are diametrically opposed to the interests of the United States. America does not require extra-territoriality to protect her own interests. America even has a vested interest in the abolition of such privileges, since their disappearance would give American traders and investors the upper hand in competing with the British."

"Japan's interests, however, are divided. Her settlements and factories derive a great advantage from extra-territoriality. But Japan's geographic position—and possibly her military status, too—force her to court China's friendship. And that friendship can only be won by complete respect for Chinese sovereignty. Japan can not have the cake and eat it.

"Either Japan will abandon her special privileges in China, or she will perpetuate anti-Japanese sentiment in China. Which path Japan will choose depends upon the issue in the struggle between the liberalism of the Japanese middle-class and the conservatism of the Japanese junkers and generals."

The expectation of official Soviet circles is that the Shanghai strikes, which have lent fresh impetus to the Sino-Russian alliance, will soon subside. It is admitted that the Chinese trade unions, even with Russian support, can not afford indefinitely to hand out the enormous sums involved in doles for the 200,000 strikers. The morale of the strikers is weakened, and it is believed likely that they will soon return to the textile and other workshops and accept most of the Japanese and British employers' demands.

But this withdrawal, Moscow declares, will not effect the larger issues. Predictions abound that the outbreak of renewed civil war between Feng-yu-shan and Chang-so-en is, at most, a matter of a few months. It is reported that the British, who had also been supporting Chang financially, have stopped their subsidies, while the Americans refuse to give him cash or credit. This leaves to the Japanese the onerous task of replenishing Chang's pocketbook, as they are said to have done in the past.

But the Manchurian war lord is "not completely subservient to Japan. According to information received in Moscow, definite signs were noticeable during this summer that the British were again seeking an agreement with Chang and the suddenly altered tone of the British press, which began to write with warm admiration of Chang's qualities, was regarded as symptomatic.

The premature disclosure of the London-Mukden arrangement is said to have brought this enterprise to impotence, and the failure of the British move (the success of which would have enabled Britain to remain adamant on the issue of extra-territoriality in China. A high Foreign Office spokesman described the Soviet's view of this question to me as follows:

"Britain needs the privileges of extra-territoriality for her settlements and factories in China," he said, "as well as for the domination of certain Chinese markets. But these British privileges are diametrically opposed to the interests of the United States. America does not require extra-territoriality to protect her own interests. America even has a vested interest in the abolition of such privileges, since their disappearance would give American traders and investors the upper hand in competing with the British."

"Japan's interests, however, are divided. Her settlements and factories derive a great advantage from extra-territoriality. But Japan's geographic position—and possibly her military status, too—force her to court China's friendship. And that friendship can only be won by complete respect for Chinese sovereignty. Japan can not have the cake and eat it.

"Either Japan will abandon her special privileges in China, or she will perpetuate anti-Japanese sentiment in China. Which path Japan will choose depends upon the issue in the struggle between the liberalism of the Japanese middle-class and the conservatism of the Japanese junkers and generals."

The expectation of official Soviet circles is that the Shanghai strikes, which have lent fresh impetus to the Sino-Russian alliance, will soon subside. It is admitted that the Chinese trade unions, even with Russian support, can not afford indefinitely to hand out the enormous sums involved in doles for the 200,000 strikers. The morale of the strikers is weakened, and it is believed likely that they will soon return to the textile and other workshops and accept most of the Japanese and British employers' demands.

But this withdrawal, Moscow declares, will not effect the larger issues. Predictions abound that the outbreak of renewed civil war between Feng-yu-shan and Chang-so-en is, at most, a matter of a few months. It is reported that the British, who had also been supporting Chang financially, have stopped their subsidies, while the Americans refuse to give him cash or credit. This leaves to the Japanese the onerous task of replenishing Chang's pocketbook, as they are said to have done in the past.

But the Manchurian war lord is "not completely subservient to Japan. According to information received in Moscow, definite signs were noticeable during this summer that the British were again seeking an agreement with Chang and the suddenly altered tone of the British press, which began to write with warm admiration of Chang's qualities, was regarded as symptomatic.

The premature disclosure of the London-Mukden arrangement is said to have brought this enterprise to impotence, and the failure of the British move (the success of which would have enabled Britain to remain adamant on the issue of extra-territoriality in China. A high Foreign Office spokesman described the Soviet's view of this question to me as follows:

"Britain needs the privileges of extra-territoriality for her settlements and factories in China," he said, "as well as for the domination of certain Chinese markets. But these British privileges are diametrically opposed to the interests of the United States. America does not require extra-territoriality to protect her own interests. America even has a vested interest in the abolition of such privileges, since their disappearance would give American traders and investors the upper hand in competing with the British."

"Japan's interests, however, are divided. Her settlements and factories derive a great advantage from extra-territoriality. But Japan's geographic position—and possibly her military status, too—force her to court China's friendship. And that friendship can only be won by complete respect for Chinese sovereignty. Japan can not have the cake and eat it.

"Either Japan will abandon her special privileges in China, or she will perpetuate anti-Japanese sentiment in China. Which path Japan will choose depends upon the issue in the struggle between the liberalism of the Japanese middle-class and the conservatism of the Japanese junkers and generals."

The expectation of official Soviet circles is that the Shanghai strikes, which have lent fresh impetus to the Sino-Russian alliance, will soon subside. It is admitted that the Chinese trade unions, even with Russian support, can not afford indefinitely to hand out the enormous sums involved in doles for the 200,000 strikers. The morale of the strikers is weakened, and it is believed likely that they will soon return to the textile and other workshops and accept most of the Japanese and British employers' demands.

But this withdrawal, Moscow declares, will not effect the larger issues. Predictions abound that the outbreak of renewed civil war between Feng-yu-shan and Chang-so-en is, at most, a matter of a few months. It is reported that the British, who had also been supporting Chang financially, have stopped their subsidies, while the Americans refuse to give him cash or credit. This leaves to the Japanese the onerous task of replenishing Chang's pocketbook, as they are said to have done in the past.

But the Manchurian war lord is "not completely subservient to Japan. According to information received in Moscow, definite signs were noticeable during this summer that the British were again seeking an agreement with Chang and the suddenly altered tone of the British press, which began to write with warm admiration of Chang's qualities, was regarded as symptomatic.

The premature disclosure of the London-Mukden arrangement is said to have brought this enterprise to impotence, and the failure of the British move (the success of which would have enabled Britain to remain adamant on the issue of extra-territoriality in China. A high Foreign Office spokesman described the Soviet's view of this question to me as follows:

"Britain needs the privileges of extra-territoriality for her settlements and factories in China," he said, "as well as for the domination of certain Chinese markets. But these British privileges are diametrically opposed to the interests of the United States. America does not require extra-territoriality to protect her own interests. America even has a vested interest in the abolition of such privileges, since their disappearance would give American traders and investors the upper hand in competing with the British."

"Japan's interests, however, are divided. Her settlements and factories derive a great advantage from extra-territoriality. But Japan's geographic position—and possibly her military status, too—force her to court China's friendship. And that friendship can only be won by complete respect for Chinese sovereignty. Japan can not have the cake and eat it.

"Either Japan will abandon her special privileges in China, or she will perpetuate anti-Japanese sentiment in China. Which path Japan will choose depends upon the issue in the struggle between the liberalism of the Japanese middle-class and the conservatism of the Japanese junkers and generals."

WOMAN KILLED IN SUTHERLIN CRASH

SUTHERLIN, Ore., Oct. 9.—(U. P.)—Mrs. A. Lewis of Los Angeles was killed and Walter Smith of Los Angeles seriously hurt when their automobile ran off the highway in the fog this morning.

HOLLAND BULBS
 We have just received a large shipment of the leading varieties, October and November are Best Months to Plant

Our stock of perennials is complete.

ASHLAND FLOWER SHOP
 Lithia Springs Hotel Building
 PHONE 120
 "SAY IT WITH FLOWERS"

Oeser's Ashland Service Station

GENERAL PETROLEUM CORPORATION
GENERAL GASOLINE LUBRICANTS

the same good qualities summer and winter. Fill your tank and let your engine decide.

Tires 30x3 1-2 full oversize only $9.50

Firestone regular 30x3 1-2 $11
 The Best

We are eager to serve you

Dr. W. Oeser, Prop.

Murphy Electric Shop

Williams Service Station
 Boulevard and Sherman
 Shell and General Gasoline

TRY ONE OF OUR CAKES
 For Your Sunday Dinner and you will realize that it is cheaper and better to let us bake your cakes.

LITHIA BAKERY

No Ungreased Parts
 about your car can be found after it has been greased at

Simplex Sunbowl
 The electric heater that takes the chill out of these cold evenings.

$8.50

Murphy Electric Shop

Shell and General Gasoline

Grand Opening DANCE
 ALOHA PAVILION
 "The Hall Beautiful"
 JACKSON HOT SPRINGS
 Saturday, October 10th
 Music By
 Harry Miller's Sunkist Club Orchestra
 "Melodies that linger"
 Admission $1.00, Tax 10c, Total $1.10
 Refreshments by Plaza Confectionery
 New Management — New Hall — New Music

WHY WALK!
 Buy a Used Car at Your Own Price

1920 CHEV. TOURING $ 75
 1921 CHEV. TOURING $175
 1917 DODGE TOURING $100
 1922 FORD SEDAN $250

Good Terms on These Cars.

OAK STREET GARAGE

HAMAKER MOTOR CO.

"Service Worth While" Phone 37

SAVE SAFETY
 Rexall
 DRUGSTORE
ONE CENT SALE
 NEXT WEEK
 Thurs. Fri. Sat. Only
McNAIR BROS.
 The Rexall Store

FLORIS
 Would you send a message of real importance.

Hatcher the Florist
 1070 BOULEVARD
 PHONE 118

GAS HEAT GAS HEAT GAS HEAT

SPECIAL

Wolffire Heaters

with Four-foot Hose $13.50

This Portable 4 Radiant Aluminum heater is especially adapted for use in Bathrooms and small rooms.

Wolffire heaters have been tested and approved by the laboratories of all the largest gas companies, as being so constructed as to assure safety and efficiency in their operation.

SOUTHER OREGON GAS CO.