Rally Day—Sunday was Rally Day at all the Sunday schools with a great deal of interest shown in bringing up the attendance to its highest mark and beyond it, in many cases. Programs were given in the different churches with beautiful music and each church gloved in color from the profusion of flowers used in decoration.

Upper Valley Club Meets—The Upper Valley Community Club will hold the first meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. O. Homes, who will be assisted by Mrs. Carl Goethe and Mrs. Mary Tucker. Plans for the year will be discussed and a detailed account given in the next issue.

The College Club met Saturday afternoon in Medford. There were a number in attendance from Ashland. Thursday's issue will contain a report of the meeting.

A number of meetings held the latter part of the week will be reported in Thursday's column; among them the Home Missionary society of the Methodist church, the Parent Teacher Council meeting, the Bridge club all held Friday, and a number of others whose reports were not received in time to publish in Monday's issue.

The report given below of the recent meeting of the Ashland Music Study club is of considerable interest not alone to its membership but to all who are interested in the development of a strong musical interest in Ashland.

The initial meeting of the Ashland Music Study club, with the president, Mrs. John H. Fuller, in the chair, was held Tuesday evening at its regular place, the public library. Among the important things decided at this meeting was the purchase of text books for the year's study. Krebbs' "How to Listen to Music" will be used by the chairman in conducting the lesson, question and answer method, each month; every member to be prepared to recite on the assignment. As a stimulating preface to the evening's study, Mrs. John H. Fuller, who was the delegate to the National Federation of Music clubs at its meeting held in Portland in June, gave a very comprehensive and entertaining report of the convention. Mrs. H. S. Aikins, chairman for the evening, announced the first number, an article on Fritz Kreisler from the "Musical Observer," read by Miss Alice Willets. The study of the first and second chapters of Sirette and Mason's "Music Appreciation" was the central theme of the evening. In the presentation of the first chapter, Mrs. Aikins told very interestingly how the composer builds the complete melody from the motive. In illustration the round "Three Blind Mice" was sung by Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Nell, Miss Shepherd and Miss Wallace. Primitive music was discussed and motives, illustrative, were played upon the piano. The different ways of repetition, imitation; transposition and restatement of the motive were brought out in the speaker's address. An illustration of restatement and balance of phrases was shown in the song, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," beautifully sung by Mrs. Fred Nell.

The second chapter of the book, which deals with folk songs, was discussed in a very thorough-going way by Miss Estelle Jones, who showed how the composers of the early folk songs, in spite of their lack of knowledge of musical science, produced the elements of perfection contained in our present day composition, and thus unconsciously laid the foundation for the masterpieces. All these primitive types of music were but the result of instinctive effort. A blackboard talk, where a number of folk songs were written upon the blackboard and used in demonstrating the subject, closed Miss Jones' address. In this she pointed out the three chief elements of music; first, repetition and transposition of motives; restatement, after contrast, and modulation of a motive.

Mrs. George A. Briscoe is chairman of the October meeting, with the introduction and second chapter of Krebbs' "How to Listen to Music," as the study for the month.

Through the courtesy of its president, the report from Valley View which we are privileged to publish, tells of the work accomplished during the year just closed and indicates the kind of work this very worthwhile organization expects to accomplish during the coming year. From time to time accounts will be given of their meetings.

A social affair at which the families and friends of the membership will be guests is being arranged for Halloween, with quite an elaborate program planned.

"The Valley View Community club held its first meeting of the season at the Valley View school house October 1. A short business session was held when the standing committees for the year were appointed and a complete report of the previous year's work was read by Mrs. L. H. Galtatin. The report follows: "The first meeting of the year was held October 16, 1924. Miss Brewster was present and gave a talk on sewing and millinery, nutrition, boys' and girls' club work and suggested ways of improving the appearance of the club room, also demonstrated ways of cleaning broad-tail, pranne and brocade velvet. At the second meeting, Nov. 20, 1924, the members answered roll call with spicy remarks. (A few words on the origin and use of the various kinds of spines.) "A paper by Mrs. R. Chaney on color harmony was very interesting. The third meeting, December 18, 1924, had for its roll call, "Dough Boys," short statements concerning different things made in baking. Mrs. Stella Morse read a paper on "The Selection of a Homesite." A paper, "Child Labor Law and the Adoption of Children," was given by Mrs. J. R. MacCracken. On January 15, 1925, the fourth meeting of the roll call was "Out of the Prospector's Pan," a short description of various metals. Mrs. James Lennox address was on "Jury Duty and Trial of Cases." A vocal duet by the Mesdames James Lennox and Mabel Reschart, was a pleasing number of the program. The closing paper written by Mrs. Davenport, was on "Interior Decoration of a Home." Roll call at the fifth meeting, February 19, 1925, was a short history of the making and uses of glass, called, "Glimpses Through the Looking Glass." Two papers were given: "Marriage and Divorce Laws," by Mrs. William Glenn and "Care and Covering of Walls and Floors," by Mrs. D. H. Jackson. Mrs. Mabel Reschart and Mrs. James Lennox sang. A sewing school was held March 8th, 10th and 12th. At the sixth meeting, March 19, 1925, it was decided to discontinue the organization as a P. T. A., and hereafter be known as "The Valley View Community Club." Two papers, "Initiative and Referendum," by Mrs. R. Applegate, and "Home Furnishing" by Mrs. John Farmer were read. The roll call at this meeting was "The Birds of Oregon." April 17, 1925, was an evening meeting attended by the families and friends of the membership. About 70 were present and supper served. In the session which followed, it was decided to join the district federation of Women's Clubs. The sum of $10.00 was voted to be paid toward the Valley View sign on the highway. Piano solos were given by the Misses Frances Galtatin and Mina Miller and two papers, "Property rights and Distribution," and "Window Decoration and Good Designs in Furniture" were read by Mrs. William Stratton and Mrs. Carl Glasgow, respectively. At the last meeting of the year, May 14, 1925, the club had as special guests a number of members from the Upper Valley Community club.

Board Meeting Of Delphian Society—The first board meeting of the Beta chapter of the Delphian society for the ensuing year was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Malone, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

Owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. Stanley Robinson, and her inability to meet with the club, the board was called upon to elect a new president. Mrs. F. G. Dean was unanimously elected president of the society. Routine business was disposed of, and conversational work for the first group meetings gone over with the supervisor, Mrs. V. V. Mills. The first group meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, October 13, at two o'clock, groups to meet at the homes of their respective leaders with the exception of Mrs. John Finneran's group, who will meet with her at the home of Mrs. Clyde Malone. Hereafter all meetings of the Delphian society will be held at two o'clock.

Civic Club Rummage Sale—A report of the Rummage Sale, which was held Friday and Saturday by the Civic Club will be given in Thursday's column.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—Boosters for a "greater Washington"—1,000,000 population is their present bulleye—may mean well, but personally I'm out of sympathy with them.
Washington, the boosters say, is one of the nicest—perhaps the very nicest—of all the towns in the country to live in. Well, so it is, and one of the nicest things about it is that it isn't too beastly big. It's grown to beat a full house in recent years, but even yet it retains a good many of the characteristics of a small burg—all the conveniences of a big city minus a lot of the drawbacks.

Up to date the capital has quality—not quite so much of it as before it began to grow so fast, but considerable. The boosters are prepared to sacrifice more and more of it in the interest of quantity.
Washington's many trees and numerous pretty spots, parks, squares and places overlooking its chief attractions.
Although the "greater city" boosters have them marked for destruction, indeed, they actually have begun on the trees. The

"LIVE WIRES"
The degree that a town uses electricity—like the size of its banks—is pretty apt to tell how "live" a town is. It's interesting to note then that the communities we serve have advanced further in the use of electric ranges, washing machines, and other labor-saving equipment—than many of the largest and presumably most advanced cities in the country!
It is a region of "live wires" and of unlimited natural resources and wealth—an up-and-coming one in which to live and grow.
In helping to develop the region this Company sees a real opportunity for service and to that end has created its New Industries Department. The Department is supplying a supplementary Chamber of Commerce type of service to the one California and five Oregon counties within our territory. If you know of anyone whom you believe might come here either to live or take part in our industrial growth, the Department will be glad to help you bring them here.
Or if you are ready to let electricity do the work in your own household, or business—cost information and other data will be supplied at any of our offices.
