FAKE HOOTCH JOINT FOUND NEAR MEDFORD

Mrs. Roney's at $1,000. Later the officers and Medford policemen searched the Barker home and found many bottles of flavoring extract, including rye, bourbon, Peppercorn and Scotch varieties and other bottling equipment.

After Mrs. Carter had spoken, G. H. Billings suggested that heretofore the teachers' institute had been alternated between Ashland and Medford and said it would be proper for Ashland to have the institute in 1936. Mrs. Carter responded by saying that she had a character in a play who repeatedly said throughout the play: "That's just what I was going to do." so Ashland will have the institute in 1936.

Rev. S. J. Chaney, who was recently appointed superintendent of the Southern Oregon Methodist district, was introduced and spoke of the enjoyment and good fellowship he had experienced in Ashland during the three years he had lived here.

Misses Madge and Marie Mitchell, who furnish music frequently for the forum, gave two delightful duets at the piano and Miss Rose Alken gave a cello solo, with her mother, Mrs. H. S. Alken, at the piano.

Today We Are Working For The Boys and Girls of Ashland

We need the moral and financial help of every man and woman who believes it pays to give the proper direction to the activities of our young folks.

This is a local proposition for our own good and benefit. A good work has been done the past year and we want to make it better.
