NO ACTION IS TAKEN ON BIDS FOR SCHOOL

Members of Board Decide to Wait Short Time Before Giving Contracts

LOCAL FIRMS ARE LOW

Provost Brothers and Jordan Electric Are Low Bidders on Heating, Electric Contracts

Although bids for the construction of the new grade school building, to be erected on Beach street, were opened Thursday evening by the members of the school board, no contracts were let. The bids of the lowest bidders were taken under consideration, and, according to V. O. N. Smith, a member of the school board who has been prominent in the school building activities of the past year, these bidders will probably be awarded the contracts.

However, the members of the board decided to hold off their decisions on the contracts for a short time, in order that the entire matter may again be discussed with the architects.

It had been hoped that the new school might be ready for occupancy by the middle of the school year, or by the Christmas vacation, in order that the pupils from the Hawthorne school might be moved into the new building and the remodeling of the Hawthorne school start. However, it was found impossible to complete the school by that time, and the school board is therefore taking more time in deciding on the contract.

The Hawthorne school is to be remodeled, and an addition built, and the building used to house the Junior High students. The present Junior high building, on North Main street, will be used as a grade school, and with the new Beach street grade school, the city will have a grade school on each side of town, with the Junior high school and the High school practically in the center of the residential district. The Junior high will accommodate pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, taking the ninth grade from the high school, and thus relieving the crowded condition there.

The Clyde W. Frazier company of Portland, prominent building contractors of that city, were the low bidders on the general construction work on the entire building. Their bid was $45,280, several thousand dollars lower than the next lowest bidder.

The bid of the Gooding Heating and Plumbing company, of Gooding, Idaho, was the lowest bid in the plumbing class. The bid of the Gooding company was $2,760.

Provost Brothers of this city were the low bidders on the heating contract, with a bid of $5,898.72.

The Jordan Electric company also of this city, were the low bidders on the electrical contract, with a bid of $775.

Thus, two local firms were low bidders in their classes, with the biggest contract bid being won by another Oregon firm.

George N. Gray is Chosen Member of Stock Judging Team

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 17.—George N. Gray of Ashland, who was selected as a member of the college dairy products and cattle judging team placed high in the national dairy show contest at Indianapolis, Ind.

The O. A. C. team, matched against teams from 10 colleges in the dairy products contest, placed fourth. Mr. Gray won second in the milk contest in a field of 30 contestants. The dairy cattle team placed fourth in Holstein and twenty-first in the contest for all breeds.

ROBBERY OF PAYROLL NETS THIEVES $45,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(U. P.)—Four bandits today executed a payroll robbery at the West Pullman works of the International Harvester company, and escaped in a sedan with $45,000.

Seals Kill Fish in San Diego Bay, Say Fishermen

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 17.—(U. P.)—Sea lions are driving the fish away from their customary haunts from between Channel Islands and Tuttle Bay, according to a complaint filed with the state fish and game commission office here.

Fishermen claim the seals also are destroying thousands of dollars worth of nets.

Andrew Castagnola, master of the purse seiner Caterina M., reported that he had hauled in a halibut net at Turtle bay that contained 43 baby seals.

MORE BUSINESS HOUSES ARE A A A STATIONS

Park Garage, Oeser's Service Station and Jackson Auto Camp Appointed

Three more local businesses have been designated as official A. A. A. stations, according to B. C. McHenry, field secretary of the Oregon State Motor association.

The Park Garage has been made an official A. A. A. garage, making two official garages in Ashland, the Automotive Shop being the first. Dr. Oeser's Ashland Service station has been designated an official A. A. A. service station, which the Jackson Hot Springs auto camp has been appointed an official A. A. A. auto camp.

The membership campaign is going along at a good pace at the present time, McHenry stated, approximately 80 members of the organization having been obtained, with a number of good prospects yet to interview.

Those who have recently joined the organization are: Homer Billings, Dr. Ernest A. Woods, S. J. Bailey, J. D. Mars, M. O. Ebert, E. V. Carter, D. H. Jackson, A. C. Livingstone, Frank Jordan, Miss L. H. Nelson, T. D. Pryor, Dr. Charles A. Haines, G. M. Green, Dr. W. J. Crandall, H. B. Plummer, C. L. Curtis, H. T. Mellor, K. P. Nims, W. J. Dougherty, T. R. Jackson and E. D. Briggs.

O. A. C. HOPES TO KEEP WHITMAN FROM SCORING

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 17.—Today on Multnomah field, Portland, the Oregon Aggies met Whitman college of Walla Walla, Coach Paul Schissler is planning to start the game with his regular squad, and he would not attempt to use Whitman's strength by saying now whether "shock troops" would later be used.

His main purpose is to keep Whitman from scoring. In the two games already played the Aggies have run up big scores without being scored upon, and the record will be snatched if Whitman should get near and accidentally score. This fact, and the coach's determination not to take any chances with Coach Borleskie's talent will find O. A. C. pitched high in their only Portland appearance this year.

If one can make dope out of comparative scores, Whitman should be nearly as strong as Gonzaga, Whitman defeated Cheney normal 25 to 0 and Gonzaga gouged them 36 to 0, which is not such a startling difference, and considering the Aggies 22 to 0 victory over what was thought to be a much stronger Gonzaga team certainly gives Whitman more chance to blot the record than might be supposed, from reviewing records of bygone seasons.

MURDERER OF HUSBAND IN DARING ESCAPE

Mrs. Clara Carl Outwits Prison Authorities in Making Dash for Liberty

NO CLUES ARE FOUND

Woman Killed Husbands and Father-in-Law by Giving Doses of Arsenic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 17.—Another chapter in a story of crime rivaling the famous "Bluebeard" murders in France has been written with the escape of a woman "lifter" from the Indiana women's prison.

Displaying the same clever criminal skill which police alleged caused her to murder two husbands and a father-in-law by slowly poisoning them to death, Mrs. Clara Carl escaped from the prison. So far no trace of her has been found. She is considered one of the most daring woman criminals in the country.

There is cool, calm and deliberate manner about Mrs. Carl. It was manifest when she was charged with the crimes three years ago, and again was shown when prison authorities after her escape found that for weeks she had been planning her break for liberty.

So cleverly did she outwit the prison authorities that she took all belongings with her. Mrs. Carl had deceived the warden into believing that she could be trusted and she was assigned to feeding the chickens in the prison yard.

Just at dusk one evening, she climbed up on the chicken house, then on to the prison wall and dropped over on the outside.

Since murder charges were first preferred against her she has been known as "the feminine Bluebeard."

Her life story is a curious mixture of crime, love, happiness and tragedy.

She was the beautiful daughter of a farmer living near New Straitsville, O.

When a young girl she eloped with Robert Gibson, young son of a New Straitsville florist. They had been childhood sweethearts.

Robert and Clara appeared deeply in love. They went to Cleveland, where Gibson was a teacher. His wife was employed on a newspaper.

They conceived the idea of getting rich by going from town to town, writing and selling illustrated histories of various localities.

They went to Huntsville, Mo., where Gibson became suddenly ill. Doctors seemed unable to help him and he died within a short time.

A few months later Clara married Frank Carl at Ceneca, Kans.

The couple went to New Philadelphia, Ind., and invited the husband's father, Alonzo Carl, 85, to live with them.

Again a mysterious malady afflicted Clara's husband. The father-in-law also became suddenly ill.

Frank Carl was a picture of health, and was noted for his powerful physique.

But within a month his strength left him so fast that he became a living skeleton.

When both the husband and father-in-law died terrible deaths, the county prosecutor was delegated with letters demanding an investigation. Examination of their bodies revealed enough arsenic to "kill a dozen men," according to the prosecutor.

The trial in 1922 resulted in a second degree murder conviction and a life sentence.

Apparently the motive of the "feminine Bluebeard" was to obtain the petty fortunes of her two husbands.

She secured only $3,000 after the death of her first husband and $2,000 from Carl's insurance, making her crimes all the more amazing.

THE WEATHER
Oregon and Washington
—Cloudy tonight and Sunday. Probably rain in the west portion. Increasing southeast winds.

PHEASANTS ARE SCARCE HERE THIS SEASON

Few Good Bags Reported, Quail Are Plentiful, Hunters Say

Pheasant hunters, during the past two days since the opening of the season have had but little luck throughout the Rogue River Valley, few limits being reported here.

However, those hunters who have made the trip to the Klamath Falls section report good bags there, and many are planning on combining a duck and pheasant hunt. Although hunters have been warned against eating ducks killed in the Tule Lake district, the disease which has been killing the ducks there has not made its appearance north of the Lake, and hunters are getting good bags there.

Pheasants in the Klamath district are exceptionally thick this year.

Quail hunters have enjoyed some good luck this year, quail being rather plentiful throughout the valley. Especially in the foothills surrounding Ashland, are the quail thick, and several good bags have been brought in.

Quail and pheasants are most plentiful in the Valley View district, but a large number of the farmers there have their land posted and will allow no hunting.

The season on quail and pheasants will close October 31. The bag limit is four per day and eight per week.

SMITH TALK OMITTED IN FORUM ARTICLE

In some manner reference to V. O. N. Smith's speech at the chamber of commerce forum luncheon last Tuesday was omitted from the article printed in Tuesday's issue. Mr. Smith was one of the local delegates at the meeting in Crescent City when the subject of a deep harbor was discussed.

Mr. Smith reported at the luncheon that prospects for a governmental appropriation for this work were good and that, if this work was done, it would no doubt mean a cheaper freight rate from Rogue River Valley points.

He stated this improvement might also bring about the construction of a railroad from the coast to this valley.

POSSIBILITY OF FILMING LOCAL BEAUTIES GOOD

Otto Jones Explains Whole Matter to Lithian Body

ALL ARE IN FAVOR

Jones Declares Association Does Not Want Members Not Sold on Service

The possibility that Ashland will be linked in a scenic motion picture, together with several other scenic sections of the state, came a little closer to realization at a meeting of the Lithian last night, when a committee was appointed, with power to act to confer with Otto Jones, publicity director of the Oregon State Motor association on the matter.

Jones appeared before the meeting last night, and outlined the entire matter to the club. He declared that the film would be made for absolute cost, or at 10 cents per foot, and that the association would assure distribution in the main junction points of tourist travel, at Salt Lake City and at Cheyenne. In addition, cut outs of the film will be given to the Web Foot Weekly news reel, which is distributed throughout the Northwest. A copy of the film would also be placed with the Lithians, to be used by that organization at any of its celebrations or on any special occasions.

During the meeting, the possibility of securing at least 1000 feet of film was discussed. Jones declared that the association would bear the expense of about 300 feet of this film, the Lithians to pay for the remaining 700 feet at the rate of 10 cents per foot. This cost does not include the expenses of the cameraman or other incidental expenses, being simply the cost of the film and the developing.

Additional members were appointed on the committee to interview local members in an effort to secure more members for the association.

In speaking on this matter, Jones said: "If a motorist is not sold upon the benefits he will derive from being a member of the association, we do not want him. We will not employ 'strongarm' methods, nor do we want him to join simply because he is a public spirited citizen. The Oregon State Motor Association has something definite, something substantial to sell. It is a service which is much like insurance. You may carry it for years before you need it, but when you do need it, you need it badly."

B. C. McHenry, field secretary of the association, announced that 80 members had been secured here for the association. The mark set for Ashland is 150, and it will be necessary to secure that many members before the association will be able, financially, to take the free film of Ashland, and the additional film at cost.

Several of the members were called upon to express their opinion on the matter and practically all were unanimously in favor of it.

Married Folk May Battle, Others Lay Off

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—(U. P.)—As a nice legal point, this one is good to know—

A police judge here has just decided that married couples may quarrel in their own homes in safety, but unmarried couples creating the same degree of turmoil are guilty of disturbing the peace.

He so ruled in the case of Cecil Davis, carpenter, and Miss Hattie Hatlow. The couple then made up their troubles, secured a license and were married. The judge dismissed the complaint, saying they could quarrel all they wanted to after that.

ONLY 8 WAR VETERANS NOW ATTEND OREGON

War Over Only 7 Years, Finds Few Men Receiving State Aid

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Ore., Oct. 17.—(Special)—The last of the war veterans are attending the university.

Only eight students who served in the world war and entitled to receive state educational ex-service men's aid are registered, according to records of the registrar, although the war ended but seven years ago. The number of ex-service men has dwindled rapidly from 1920 when more than 400 received aid. The veterans get $25 a month, with a total not to exceed $800.

GORE IS SPEAKER AT CHAMBER LUNCHEON

Medford will furnish the speakers and music for the noon chamber of commerce program next Tuesday, October 20.

One of the speakers will be W. H. Gore, president of the Medford National bank, who will discuss the question of "Lower Taxes for Jackson county."

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE TO CONTINUE SHORT TIME

Workers Declare They Have Not Had Sufficient Time

LACK LITTLE MONEY

Short Time Has Made It Impossible To See Many People on Lists

John Rigg and V. O. N. Smith addressed the men at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last night at the Plaza Confectionery. Mr. Rigg spoke of the Boy Scout work in its relationship to the Y. M. C. A. in Ashland. He called attention to the fact that both Scout Masters, Homer Billings and himself, were members of the Y. M. C. A. board. There is also an overlapping in the Scout Council and the Y. M. C. A. directorate. He said that Cleo V. Howell, the local Y. M. C. A. secretary, is the Assistant Scoutmaster and that through this arrangement he gives tests when the boys are on hikes or in the camp. Mr. Rigg also emphasized the Christian tone that is being built up in the members through this co-ordination of work. He thought the whole scheme was the ideal situation.

Presiding Officer (Galey) then called upon V. O. N. Smith to speak of the Hi Y from the leader's standpoint, stating that Mr. Smith had been the leader of the club for the past four years. In responding Mr. Smith stated that one of the things that won his support to the County Y. M. C. A. idea was the report of the splendid work done by the Hi Y Clubs. He said that he felt that he had always been limited in both time and preparation in his leadership of the Ashland club, but that he had found it intensely interesting and that he had always emphasized the Christian element and that the boys had responded and appreciated it. He referred to the fact that G. A. Briscoe had assured him that the club was exerting a real influence for good in the school.

In closing Mr. Smith spoke of the final meeting of the club at Kingsberry Springs last spring when, in response to a question "Is the Hi Y Worthwhile?" every boy said he would not consider giving up the Hi Y club.

Mr. Galey thanked the men for their splendid loyalty and co-operation thus far in the drive. He then spoke of the good work of Mr. Howell, the local secretary, in getting things under way early and of the efficient manner in which he had handled the Father and Son banquets. Mr. Howell in responding congratulated the men on the work that was being done and felt sure that the people of Ashland were interested in the welfare of their boys. He was much encouraged over the outlook for the year.

Mr. Galey called upon A. E. Yount, one of the state secretaries, who has been helping in the finance campaign here. Mr. Yount spoke of the fine work that had been done by the local organization and of the prospects that were ahead. He also spoke of his appreciation of the fine spirit of the men and of the splendid fellowship that he had enjoyed. He urged the men to go ahead with the work and to extend it for the boys of Ashland.

O. F. Carson, president of the local association, spoke of the splendid spirit of the group and the enthusiasm with which the men had taken part in the work. For the men he thanked Mr. Yount for his services in connection with the campaign.

The reports on the subscriptions were very satisfactory to date. The full amount was not secured but this was because the workers had been unable to see a large number of people who are interested in the organization. Some are away, and on account of the limited time there are still a large number to be called upon. The men decided to continue the work as individual teams for the next few days until the full amount is secured. Some of the men reported people who were interested and had not waited to be called upon but had brought in their pledges voluntarily. The men felt sure there were a number of people in the city who had not been seen, but who wanted to have a share in helping the boys of Ashland. Consequently the workers will

AMERICA HAS BENEFITED BY RELIEF WORK

Rev. M. B. Paroungian of Salem and Rev. A. B. Jones, formerly of Atlanta, Georgia, two Near East Relief campaign workers are now in Ashland, working on the annual financial drive to secure funds with which to carry on the work in the Near East for the coming year.

In speaking of the Near East Relief work this morning, Rev. Jones said: "America has made the greatest name for herself of any nation on the face of the earth, because of the great part she has played in caring for 1,000,000 people, most of whom are children, in the Near East countries during the last eight years. Nearly $55,000,000 has been spent by America since this work started, but just compare this with the human lives which have been saved, and you will see that it has been worth it."

"Any great task which is undertaken with the sole idea of service to humanity will bring about great results, so America has reaped the benefit of spending the above amount from a purely commercial standpoint as the export business to these great countries has increased over 800 per cent since this work started."

"This is America's work. It has been incorporated by congress and a report of every dollar raised and how it is spent is turned over to congress every year. In just a few years this work will be completed, and the people of America will not be called upon again," he continued.

Rev. Jones and Rev. Paroungian will speak at the churches of the city tomorrow morning and evening, and on the following Sunday morning and evening.

INSTITUTE SPEAKER SAYS OREGON LAGS IN RURAL SCHOOLS

MEDFORD, Oct. 17.—Pupils from the primary grades at the Washington school, taught by Mrs. Canode, entertained Thursday afternoon the several hundred teachers gathered here for the Jackson county teachers' institute, now in session at the high school.

President J. S. Landers of Monmouth Normal school, the principal afternoon speaker, presented an address on "Leadership," which included need for adequate leadership, types of leaders, source of leadership and preparation and training for leadership. Leadership, he said, involves devotion to a purpose or cause and in that way also develops morale. He stated that politics have superseded statesmanship, and as a result the nation is without adequate leadership.

In comparing present conditions to those 25 years ago, Dean H. D. Sheldon of the University

NEW MEXICAN TREATY ALMOST COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(U. P.)—The United States and the Mexican government have agreed in principle, and in most of the details on the new treaty between two countries, designed to put a stop to all smuggling along the boundary between the two nations.

The conclusion of the treaty is regarded as a most important step in the American government's plan to enforce liquor and narcotic prohibition.

It is expected that the Mexican treaty will be similar with that but recently concluded with Canada, and which is now in effect.
