Teacher Association. Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Powell and Mrs. W. Herndon represented Ashland P. T. A. Circles.

Community Club of Valley View Entertain. There were eighty guests present at the Halloween party given by the Valley View Community Club.

The school house, which is now the club room, was decorated appropriately and artistically in flowers and vines; a pretty setting for the delightful evening of entertainment and fun.

A short program, in which each number was particularly well received and enjoyed was given first. The opening number was a piano solo, II Trovatore, played by Mrs. Evert Boatwick; a paper on the origin of Halloween was written by Mrs. Chaney and read by Mrs. Stella Morse.

Mrs. Lennox and Mrs. Mabel Rechart sang a duet, Picaniny Lullaby and a selected reading by Mrs. Glasgow, closed the program.

Games and stunts furnished amusement and refreshments, sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee were served during the evening. Much fun was afforded by the wonderful fortunes told by a witch, in the person of Mrs. Wm. Glenn, who predicted surprising things for many.

Millinery Classes. At the two classes of the Valley View Community Club held the 23 and 27 of October, there was an excellent attendance and many hats were completed or so nearly finished that the owners could complete them. However, there are a number not so far along and if it were possible to secure Miss Brewster for another time the club would be glad indeed. Some sewing was done also at these meetings but interest centered in the hat making.

Several From Valley View at Luncheon. A number from Valley View were guests at the Forum Luncheon Tuesday, among the number Mrs. Mabel Rechart, who is an active member of the Com-munty Club. A ghostly figure on the lawn greeted the guests as they approached, giving quite an eerie feeling, very much in keeping with the Halloween thought, varied out in every particular in both gatherings.

Bridge was played both evenings, with a guessing game also. Saturday evening. Prizes were awarded at both: those securing high score Friday evening were Mrs. George Reed, first, and Mrs. J. H. McGee, consolation. On Saturday evening, Mrs. J. A. McGee secured high honors with Mrs. Earl Crow gaining the consolation prize.

In the guessing contest, Mrs. R. L. Burdie, Jr., won the prize. The guests entertained Friday evening were: the Mesdames Nats Bates, Amos Linsinger, Herbert McCarthy, B. S. Storm, Will Virgin, Medford; A. H. Pracht, J. M. Hughes, Oscar Bergner, D. Ferosal, George Hille, Frank Dean, Karl Nims, F. G. Swedenburg, George Rose, C. E. Pell, Don Whitney, J. M. Wagner, J. H. McGee, Louis Dodge, George Kramer, L. Hilly and Miss Virginia Traverser. Those present Saturday evening were: the Mesdames J. E. Enders, H. G. Enders, Jr., J. A. McGee, John Shortridge, C. A. Malone, Elbert Farlow, Gene Hastings, C. T. Shinn, E. E. Dewes, W. M. Briggs, R. L. Burdie, Jr., V. V. Mills, V. D. Miller, C. A. Haines, Mrs. Earl Crow and Mrs. John Finneran. Mrs. F. C. Dillard and Mrs. N. H. Harrison of Medford.

Fire-side Supper. An informal fire-side supper was the happy thought of a group of friends recently. Sunday evening the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fuller was the scene of one of the coziest of suppers where guests were seated around little tables placed in the firelight's glow from the cheery open grate.

Added grace and beauty were given the dainty appointments by the gleaming rays; even the flowers seemed to possess new loveliness in the subdued light.

Those gathered about the hearthstone were, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg, Irving E. Vining, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Homes, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGee and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fuller.

Dorothy Stevens Entertains. Dorothy Stevens was hostess at a jolly little Halloween party, where games and dancing sped the flying hours.

The rooms were gay in bright Halloween colors and Jack-o'-lanterns jolly faces greeted the guests from the windows.

Delightful refreshments of sandwiches, cake, punch and cider, were served at the close of the evening.

Those present were Adena Joy, Ellen Galey, Lorraine Sparr, Madge and Marie Mitchell, Letha Miles and Calla Eaton; Tom Cummings, Gordon Claypool, Virgil Gillette, Warren Doremus, Myler Berry, Dick Joy, Barnard Joy, Phil Bryant, and Freddy Katzer.

Mrs. P. S. Provost and Mrs. Domino Provost Entertain. Mrs. P. S. Provost and Mrs. Domino Provost were hostesses at two delightfully attractive parties given Friday and Saturday evenings at the beautiful home of Mrs. P. S. Provost on Vista street.

The rooms were lovely in Autumn leaves and golden chrysanthemums, with Halloween insignia evidenced in the charming appointments of the table, where dainty refreshments were served, a unique feature of which was the use of effectively painted pumpkins, to support the candles, by whose light the room was illuminated. A ghostly figure on the lawn greeted the guests as they approached, giving quite an eerie feeling, very much in keeping with the Halloween thought, varied out in every particular in both gatherings.

Bridge was played both evenings, with a guessing game also. Saturday evening. Prizes were awarded at both: those securing high score Friday evening were Mrs. George Reed, first, and Mrs. J. H. Reception for the Rev and Mrs. H. B. Pemberton. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, Tuesday evening, there were more than two hundred and fifty friends assembled to meet the Rev and Mrs. H. B. Pemberton who with their family have come to make Ashland their home. Many aside from the church membership were present to greet the incoming pastor of the Methodist church and his family and to bid them welcome to the community.

The church parlors had been made bright and cheery in chrysanthemums and trailing vine wreaths and a program of unusual merit was presented. In this, numbers from the orchestra were given. A solo by A. O. McGee, a quartet, Mr. G.

Yeo, Mrs. E. O. Smith, Miss Jean Anderson and Mr. Crews, were heard in negro melodies, two solos by Mrs. E. O. Smith, and other orchestra numbers made up a program, delightful in the numbers given and in the presentation, bringing much pleasure to the appreciative listeners.
