Visiting in Ashland
Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer of Jacksonville is visiting for a few days in Ashland with her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Young of 100 Union Street.

Royal Neighbors Entertained
Mrs. L. J. Heer was hostess to the Royal Neighbors, the lodge of which she is a member, Saturday evening. The guests came in amusing costumes, which added quite a bit to the clever stunts which all were expected to perform in entertainment of the company. Games in which all entered into heartily afforded much amusement. Delightful refreshments closed an evening of enjoyment for all.

Society

Mrs. Miller Dunn Entertains—
Mrs. Miller Dunn was hostess at a delightful Halloween party at her home on Pennsylvania avenue, Saturday evening. There were artistic decorations, in keeping with the season shown in all the rooms and a jolly Jack-o'-Lantern greeted the guests from a window as they arrived.

Games and a radio concert provided an evening of entertainment which the guests enjoyed to the utmost.

Delicious fruit salad, cake and coffee were served during the evening. Those enjoying this pleasant hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. George Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Homes, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lockhart, with the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Dunn.

Calendar of the Week
Monday, November 9—The Ladies Are Club meets at the Club House. Mrs. Frank Nelson, Mrs. S. B. McNair, hostesses.
Monday, November 9—Ashland Study Club. Afternoon.
Monday, November 9—French Club—Evening, at Mrs. F. D. Wagner.

Study Class Meets
The Mission Study class, under direction of Mrs. J. W. McCoy met at her home Tuesday evening for one of the programs planned for the review of the book, by Browning, on Latin America.

A map talk, with interesting discussion of the geographical placement of the missions and general survey of Latin America, was given by the leader, Mrs. McCoy.

Mr. B. C. Forsyth had been asked to discuss the Monroe Doctrine which he did very comprehensively with a succinct account of the historical background; its application in times past, the present situation and also as applied to the southern neighbor.

The resources of South America were touched upon, and a number of books recommended for a fuller discussion of the commercial outlook and the trade relations with the southern continent. There will be a second program given with interesting sidelights, next Tuesday night at Mrs. McCoy's home. All interested are welcomed.

French Class Meets
The French Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Oeder, one of its new members, for its first study session. The club met last Thursday at the home of its president, Mrs. W. M. Poley, for discussion of the year's work, and a social afternoon, when it was decided to meet Monday evenings, thereby making it just a little easier for the attendance of the teacher, Mrs. T. J. Malmgren, who comes Monday afternoon to the Ashland

Study Club.

A review of previous work occupied the study hour, at the close of which light refreshments were served by the hostess. The review will be continued for next Monday's meeting which will be at Mrs. F. D. Wagner's. Several new members have been added to the roster of the class. Mrs. G. M. Green, Mrs. Claire Beebe, Mrs. Emma Oeder among the number.

Celebrates Birthday Anniversary
Miss Eugenia Young was hostess to a number of her young friends Monday evening from four, thirty to eight. The party had been planned by Mrs. Young, and was a surprise for Eugenia, on the occasion of her sixteenth birthday.

Covers were laid for eight, at a table to which streamers of crepe paper depended from the archway. On the orange center-piece, was a beautiful birthday cake with its sixteen candles, and at each end were low bowls of marigolds. Dear little pumpkin favors were beside each plate.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with baskets of late marigolds. Every thing carried out the Halloween thought.

The girls came directly from school, surprising their young hostess completely. After the beautiful birthday dinner, the girls played games, had their fortunes told and played and sang, grouped about the piano until good nights were said. Lovely gifts were brought the young hostess. Those who enjoyed the happy time with Eugenia were the Misses Helen High, Daisy Yaryan, Lucile Crews, Nadine Swenning, Dorothy Yeo, May Van Hardenburg, Mildred Moore, Thelma and Ned Young and Mr. and Mrs. Young.
