If Lights Bother Oncoming Drivers Arrests Will be Made Says Jenkins

PORTLAND, Noy. 9-Portland police, in their campaign for the observance of the new automobile light law, commencing # that it was the son of Friday, will ignere altogether # the former treasury secthe "inspection certificate" reguzer, and will base their arrests of motorists on whether the lights of the automobile blind TIAT the opposing driver.

This announcement was made Saturday by Chief of Police Jenkins and Traffic Captain Ervin, who after a careful study of the law, found nothing that gives legal status to the "certificates" issued by garages specializing in light adjustment work.

HAVE QUEER JOBS One Student a Preacher, Another

Sells Blood. Girl Makes Pota-to Chips to Rarn Money By N E A Service CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 91-

Some college students are cake eaters and some wear flappy pants and have done just enough studying to know that ten yards make a first down.

But here and there are serious, ambitious young men and women who want a college education more than they want anything else in the world-who are willing to pay any sort of price for one. And it's these people about whom this story is written.

There are more ways of earning an education than waiting on table or stoking the boarding house furnace. For example: One young chap sells his blood at hospitals.

Another is preaching to earn his expenses.

. A girl is making and selling potato chips.

Another girls is running laundry agency.

And so on - every sort of job that you can imagine is turned to by these young people, who somehow have the odd idea that one goes to college to study, not to have a good time. For they are the youngsters whose parents can't afford to pay their way.
