MEDFORD AGAIN TRIMS LOCAL GRIDDERS 51-7

Local Outfit Plays Much Stronger Game Than in First Go at Medford

GILLETTE IS BIG STAR
Shows Strongest Defense Game Yet Put up on Ashland Field This Season

Playing a much stronger game, both on defense and offense than they have shown all season, but still not strong enough to cope with the powerful Medford attack, the Ashland high gridders went down to a 51-7 defeat at the hands of the Medford eleven yesterday afternoon, in the annual big-game between the two schools.

In spite of the lopsided score, the game was a good one to watch. Trying every minute of the tussle, the Ashland outfit was able to stop the Medford advance several times and four times, Senn, big Medford full-back, was forced to kick out of danger.

During the first period, Ashland carried the ball deep into Medford territory but a fumble lost them the ball. Medford then started a drive which resulted in their first touchdown, with but three minutes of the first period to go.

The second period was the most disastrous for the local outfit. Medford touchdowns poured across the final Ashland chalk mark until with five minutes to go, Coach Frink Callison of Medford ran in six second string men.

Ashland immediately started an offense, with a swooping end run, coupled with a forward passing attack which carried the ball to the Medford one yard line. There, Gillette took the oval, and plunged over for Ashland's lone score. Tilton kicked goal.

In the third quarter, Ashland outplayed the Medford chargers, and then Callison shot his regulars back into the lineup. However, Ashland was fighting, and actually outplayed the Medford first stringers, driving them off their feet with a swat plunging and passing game. However, with the ball on the Medford 20 yard line, as the result of an advance which carried the ball from the Ashland 25 yard line, Tilton attempted a pass, which Conrad intercepted. The chunky Medford back raced the 50 yards to a touchdown, which swept all tacklers out of the way.

The entire Ashland backfield played nice football yesterday. Tilton showed some real kicking, while his passing was above average. On the defense, Gillette was the best man on the field, his backing up of the line being the finest example of soccer.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS AID IN MAKING FARM SURVEY

Since there is misunderstanding on the part of some farmers in this locality as to the usefulness of the information as to hog production and crop acreages, obtained from the cards distributed by the rural mail carriers Postmaster Wagner has requested the Tidings to publish the following statement furnished him by the United States Department of Agriculture.

These surveys are made with the help of the rural carriers, who either distribute the cards to a certain number of farmers along their routes, with the request that these be filled out, or the carrier fills out the card himself by interviewing the farmer. The carrier is instructed to get information from farms which will give a good

Tombs, Mummies Washed up by Rain in Athens

LONDON, Nov. 27.—More than 100 persons are believed to have perished in the floods in Athens, following a torrential rain of an hour and twenty minutes Tuesday, says a dispatch to the Daily Express. Many houses in the refugee settlement collapsed. The inmates were buried in the ruins and many were swept away and drowned. Flood waters from Mount Lykabettos washed up 38 tombs in Anagnostopoulou street here. Five mummies and numerous gold ornaments and vases were uncovered. It is not known to what epoch the tombs and mummies belonged.

THREE STREETS VACATED BY COUNCIL VOTE

Part of Ashland St., Leonard, Monroe Avenues Declared Vacated

In order to complete the tract which will form the site of the Southern Oregon Normal school, on the southern edge of the city, the city council Wednesday night passed ordinances vacating three streets or portions of three streets which connect out up the tract.

Ashland street, from Indiana street to a point 793.5 feet southeast was ordered vacated, as were Monroe and Leonard avenues, from Ashland street to Madrone street. These vacations give a solid tract for the Normal.

Mayor Johnson and Councilmen Hardy and Bardic were absent from the meeting which was a special session, called only for the passage of the ordinances. Hearings had been held on the vacating of the streets, and only the formal procedure of the passage of the ordinances was necessary. W. M. Wright, chairman of the council presided in the absence of Mayor Johnson.

The meeting was adjourned until this evening, when the council members will again meet to consider several matters which require immediate attention. It is believed that representatives of the taxi drivers of the city will appear before the council, asking for the repeal of the ordinance taxing them $15 per year per car. They base their arguments upon the fact that they now pay more than $300 per year per car to the state, and are regulated better by the state than they could be by the city.

210 PATENTS ON TIMBER AT FALLS FILED

Gilchrist Co. Has Taken Land Totalling 33,600 Acres Near Klamath

KLAMATH FALLS, Nov. 27.—Patents numbering 210 flooded the recording book of the county clerk's office Wednesday when the instruments were sent in for filing by the Gilchrist Lumber company of Michigan.

The deeds were received from Portland, where a branch of the Gilchrist company is located. The majority of the patents are for timber land, including 33,600 acres located in the majority north of the reservation in the northern section of the county. A recording fee of $210 was also entered in the books yesterday, swelling the daily funds a hundred fold.

With the acquisition of these patents the Gilchrist Lumber company becomes one of the heaviest timber holders in Klamath county. None of the land, according to County Clerk DeLap is on Indian territory, owned by the Indians or included in the reservation land.

The Gilchrist Lumber company has paid taxes for timber land in Klamath county for the past 20 years, according to DeLap. They began their original operations in Alpena, Michigan, and have worked westward until their holdings in the coast states are among the largest of any timber holdings under the head of a single lumber concern.

FAMED ARTIST IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

W. J. McCloskey, nationally known portrait painter, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, held today at the Lithia Springs hotel. "Art is but man's expression of work and love," McCloskey declared. He pointed out that all men are artists, perhaps not artists in the sense that they paint, but artists in their work, because they love the work.

Harvey Woods, University of Oregon student, gave two violin solos which were very well received. He was accompanied by George Francis Barron, another University of Oregon student from Ashland.

It was announced that the annual election of officers of the club would be held December 18.

COUNTESS IS FAMED LEADER OF PEASANTRY

Karolyi, Banned From U. S. as Radical, Works to Aid People

WAS ONCE WEALTHY
Husband for Time Was President of III Fated Hungarian Republic. Means Reduced

PARIS, Nov. 27.—What sort of a woman is this Countess Karolyi? Born an aristocrat of the most blue-blooded strain in the world, and trained from the cradle, as she put it, "to be ornamental but never useful," she has distinguished herself for seven years by becoming one of the outstanding democratic leaders of Europe. So extremely liberal are her views, in fact, that the American State Department now refuses to let her come to America, fearing she is too radical.

Whether this exclusion was justified or not, the fact remains that she is probably Europe's best known woman. In addition, her life since the war has had enough thrills and romantic adventures packed into it to furnish material for a dozen novels.

Living as the first lady of the land one day and reduced to pawning her last necklace the next; trailed across Europe by a monarchist spy and living in constant fear that she and her "amorous husband" would be assassinated; smuggling gems across the Hungarian border so that she would not starve to death; taking a turn at running a motor boat for tourist parties and learning to be a chauffeur so that she might earn her own living—these are a few of the incidents that have marked her career since the World War ended in 1918.

And she is barely 30. In addition, she is vivacious, talented and beautiful.

She was born the Countess Catherine Andrássy, and in 1914, just as the World War broke out, she married Count Michael Karolyi, the one aristocrat in all Hungary who dared to be a democrat. He is nearly twenty years her senior. She eagerly threw her sympathies with his, and since then has stood by his side in all his struggles against reaction and despotism.

The famous "Karolyi curse" became a part of her life, too. Many years ago the first Countess Karolyi led the Hungarian army against the Austrians and was slain in battle. His mother thereupon pronounced a curse on the house of Hapsburg and prophesied ruin for its members. And in 1918 the latest of the Karolyi had the satisfaction of seeing this curse fulfilled, with the fall of the Hapsburgs forever.

Count Karolyi and his wife had opposed the way from the start. After the armistice Karolyi was turned to as the one man who had Hungary's confidence, and was made first president of the short-lived Hungarian republic. This lasted for six months. Then a wave of bolshevism swept the country and Karolyi went out of power. A short time later Admiral Horthy led the aristocrats back to power and the Karolyis had to flee for their lives. Prior to this their fortune was estimated at $30,000,000. When they fled the country it was confiscated, and they had only one pearl necklace as the remnant of their fortune. To get this out of the country, Countess Karolyi had to swim across the Danube with it and bury it in the sand, sending a friend to get it later. They went to Italy, only to be expelled by the government there on the request of the Horthy regime. Then they found a haven in Yugoslavia for a time, and later in England. After that the Countess went to America on a lecture tour, and her husband followed shortly.

"I am not a 'Red,'" she explains, "but I do think that social

CATE QUILTS AS COUNTY AGENT, ACT SURPRISE

No Successor Chosen for Veteran Pathologist, Who Quits to Enter Business

It is with much regret that the public will receive the news that Claude C. Cate, county agent, has resigned, the resignation being officially announced Wednesday, although close friends have been aware that it took place over a week ago and that Mr. and Mrs. Cate and children will remove to Glendale, Cal., a day or so after Christmas, where he will engage in business. Mr. Cate is the best known county agent and the oldest in point of service in Oregon, and has long borne the reputation of being one of the ablest of the state's county agents.

His resignation as county pathologist, county agent and local United States weather observer, was presented to the extension service department of the Oregon Agricultural college some time ago, and has been accepted with regret.

Efforts made by the leading fruit men and agriculturists of the valley on learning of the tendered resignation, to prevail upon Mr. Cate to reconsider, were fruitless. While he is loath to leave Medford and the county, he does so for the reason

WORK STARTED ON TWO NEW SCHOOLS HERE

Trenches for Foundations on Normal School Completed Today

TRANCHELL IN CHARGE
New Beach Street Grade School Work Also Started by Contractor Frazier

Actual construction work on the new school buildings to raise in Ashland in the near future was started Wednesday afternoon, and work will be rushed along as rapidly as possible, according to the contractors in charge.

Work on the Normal School building was started Wednesday afternoon, and by noon today all the trenches for the foundation had been completed. A crew of men was kept on the job yesterday, in spite of the holiday. This morning, the work was practically completed, except for a small excavation job, which it is believed will take only a few hours.

The crew will be laid off for a few days, after the completion of the trenches since material necessary for continuing the work has not been received. No lumber for the forms or no gravel for the concrete are on hand yet.

Mr. Tranchell of the firm of Tranchell and Pareluis of Portland, contractors on the normal, is in charge of the work. These contractors have pledged themselves to have the building completed by May 1 of next year, in order that the summer session may be held in the new building.

Work on the new Beach street grade school was also started Wednesday, and work on the excavation has been going along rapidly. Mr. Frazier, contractor in charge of the construction, declares he will keep a large crew of men at work on the structure, rushing it to completion as rapidly as possible.

OWEN'S VALLEY PEOPLE HAVE INVESTED $75,000 IN OREGON

More than $75,000 has been invested in Oregon lands by Owen's Valley, California, farmers, during the past four months. This represents the investment of twelve families, located in Klamath County, who were forced to sell their farms near Bishop, California, by the city of Los Angeles, in a much agitated water rights controversy.

The latest report from Bishop, which was received a few days ago by Arthur Foster, Manager of the Land Settlement Department, Portland Chamber of Commerce, stated that Los Angeles had at last made a substantial offer to the remaining farmers in the water rights area. Private land will bring to the original owners on the average of $450 an acre and apple and other orchard lands $750 an acre.

This means that approximately one hundred families will soon be in a position to migrate to Oregon, following the example of the others who have already settled near Klamath Falls.

The California farmers, who have already settled in Oregon from this district are: L. F. and Paul W. Monroe, who purchased 430 acres, R. M. Tesco, 300 acres; Frank Dearborn, 150 acres; O. L. Pitts, 150 acres; Mr. Dannison, 40 acres; E. C. Smith, 150 acres; E. J. Helgeson, 350 acres; Walter Smith, 480 acres; C. D. Berner, 100 acres; L. F. Stewart and Mr. Smith, 150 acres.

A. Wishard, of Klamath Falls, who was in Portland all last week, informed the Land Settlement Department that there were others who had recently located and that a more complete report would soon be submitted. Since November 1, 43 new settlers have been reported to the Land Settlement Department from various parts of Oregon.
