dress at the Presbyterian church. In this challenging message, Miss Barr pictured the task for and challenge to the church in the Americanization problems, the racial question, and the work among the colored folk and among the Indians.
The mountaineer, the city dweller, the negro and Indian, those in island possessions or in Alaska each claimed a word in passing. Miss Barr speaks from first hand knowledge and brought vividly before her hearers the conditions and the great need.
As one result of the stirring address, a large thank offering was given.
Mrs. J. M. Ross, president of the Missionary society introduced the speaker and was in charge of the opening program which prefaced the address of the evening.

Building Your Own Business
Do something worth while because it is best. Give whatever talent you have to a job that will make life worth living for other people as well as yourself—this will lead to the goal of achievement.
You will enjoy a good local reputation and be recognized as fitted.
But if you have not shown by industry and accumulation that you have the rudiments of business sense, you cannot expect a banker to risk any money on you.
But show him a bank book with regular deposits, however small, and he will welcome you as a fellow business man.

Anniversaries Celebrated—
Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Towner celebrated a number of anniversaries Thanksgiving day. Aside from the day itself, there were observed the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. Towner and their wedding anniversary, all within the days just before and following Thanksgiving.
The feast was enjoyed by the immediate family.
Mrs. G. F. Billings surprised—
The occasion of Mrs. G. F. Billings' birthday was made the occasion of a very happy surprise, Saturday afternoon, November, the twenty first when a group of friends were invited to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Billings to enjoy with her the marking of another natal day.
Mrs. Billings did not suspect the delightful plans made for this celebration and was most happily surprised. Though taken unawares, she arose to the occasion and was one of the merriest of the group of friends assembled.
Potted plants and other pretty gifts were presented, her in commemoration of this milestone and signified the love and esteem in which she is held.
Refreshments in keeping brought to a close the happy afternoon.
Those enjoying it with Mrs. Billings were: the Rev. and
