Society

Social Circle Meets—Mrs. Mitchell, 248 B street was hostess at the recent meeting of the Social Circle. She was assisted by Mrs. Dan Hatcher, Mrs. Hager and Mrs. Hicks.

During the afternoon, Mr. Myers, the evangelist now holding services at the Christian church visited the Circle and gave an interesting address. Everyone present at the meeting report a delightful afternoon.

Four new members were added, bringing the total membership up to over 80. There were the majority of the members present at this meeting. The meetings are arranged alphabetically, with an occasional gathering in the church.

Mrs. Cochran of Lincoln street is hostess for the next meeting which is the second Wednesday in January. She will be assisted by Mrs. O. H. Johnson, Mrs. Ed. Kilgore and Mrs. Mattie Holman.

The Past Noble Grands club met as planned Friday afternoon, with Mrs. J. E. Gowland and Mrs. Phipps hostesses, for the pleasant social hours which were devoted to fancy work and friendly visit of old friends.

Dainty refreshments were served in closing. Mrs. Cora Dodge and Mrs. Frank Nelson are hostesses at the January meeting of the club which will be the second Friday in the New Year.

Elks Ladies' Card Club Meets—Mrs. D. Porozzi and Mrs. G. V. Gillette were hostesses at Thursday's meeting of the Elks Ladies' Card Club.

Seven tables of bridge and five hundred were played with Mrs. J. D. McRae securing high score in bridge and Miss Nona Hall honors in five hundred.

As a pleasant closing, the hostesses served light refreshments. The next meeting will be Thursday, December 31, with Mrs. Walter Beebe and Mrs. Walter Bevington as hostesses on that occasion.

Missionary Society Meets—The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. McCoy on North Main street. Meeting convenes at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday afternoon, December 16.

The program is in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Van Sant and Mrs. Sarah Walker. Everyone interested is invited to attend and enjoy the meeting with the members of the organization.

Special Services Sunday Night—At both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, programs other than the regular services were heard.

At the Presbyterian, Dr. Lucius E. Smith, a physician and surgeon, engaged in missionary work at Benito, West Africa, spoke both in the Sunday school hour and occupied the sermon hour in the evening. He gave an illustrated lecture, picturing through eye and ear conditions which prevail in that section of Africa in which he works. Dr. Smith is a wonderfully magnetic speaker, giving a human touch in his dramatic and intensely interesting message of the terrible degradation the terrible need obtaining there.

His presence here now is due to the fact that Mrs. Smith's health broke down and a return to America became imperative. Because of this many churches have been granted a glimpse into conditions so distressing that renewed interest in missionary relief work cannot help but be stimulated.

At the Methodist church the Queen Esthers, a society of high school girls organized for home mission work put on a beautiful pageant, showing their work as a Junior Home Missionary branch.

Those who took part entered from either aisle. The scene enacted depicted Queen Esther's court, and the entrance of Queen Esther. There were songs and exercises which told of their work as a circle and in roll call the girls answered by telling the names of the schools and colleges helped by the organization. The collection was given to the Queen Esther Circle.

In the little drama played, Queen Esther's part was assumed by Madeline Stevens. There were twenty four girls taking part in the pageant. Helen Pemberton and Madge Marion were received as new members.

New Community Hall—The new Community House in Bellview seems an assured fact, judging by the enthusiasm which runs high in Bellview and the whole Upper Valley. Practicings are going merrily on and a wonderfully interesting Christmas party is promised. A glance at the roster of those in charge of the entertainment assures all who attend of an evening of splendid entertainment.

Aside from that there will be all sorts of good things to eat for sale, popcorn, candies, pies, cakes and a world of good things for choice is wide. At the last Community Club meeting candies were made and donated to this cause.

A goodly sum is already in the treasury and it is hoped results from this affair will put over the new Club House in which every one in the Upper Valley and Ashland is interested.

Party at Slakiyou Lodge—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ketch, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Banister and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bary entertained a group of friends very delightfully at the Russell Slakiyou Lodge Saturday evening, last.

The picturesque setting for the pleasant affair made for added enjoyment. The great room with its huge fireplace, the candle light and firelight; candies in the windows; the aromatic odor of juniper boughs used in decoration, the invigorating drive through the snow, all gave to guests and hosts and hostesses quite the Christmas feeling.

Like to Ride in an Ambulance? of course not—but hospitals receive many car owners who neglect their brakes. Human life, property, time and money depend upon those brakes of yours. Bring your car around and let us examine the brakes, or relate them with genuine Silver Edge Raybestos—ride in safety, instead of an ambulance.

Dancing was indulged in until a late hour when refreshments were served. During the evening, guests gathered about the wide fireplace while marshmallows were toasted and enjoyed.

The cordial hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell is appreciated very much by those who gather under their roof.
