THE GOD OF PEACE:—Now the God of Peace... make you perfect in every good work to do His will, Hebrews 13:20, 21.

PRAYER:—May we, O Lord, daily and definitely strive by Thy grace to be perfect even as our Father in heaven is perfect.

All Ashland People,
Ashland Ore.,
Dear Children:

This will be Auntie Ashland's last appearance before Christmas, and for that reason, she wishes now to wish each and every one of her children a Merry, Merry Christmas.

She knows that this Christmas is not going to be a very bright holiday for some of her children, but she also knows that some of the more fortunate of her children are banding together, in an effort to aid those who have been less fortunate.

Thursday, an article appeared in The Tidings, telling of a little old lady, who was facing the poor farm, but who was making a last attempt to remain in her home.

Friday morning, The Tidings office was besieged with telephone messages, inquiring as to the identity of the lady, the callers declaring that they would do everything possible to aid her.

This is the spirit of Ashland, the year around and not alone during the Christmas season. It is the spirit of big hearted, home loving people, who are always ready to hear the cry of the needy.

Again, Auntie Ashland desires to wish you all a Merry Christmas and a full realization of your hopes for the season.

Merry Christmas,
Auntie Ashland.

Ashland Fruit Growers,
Ashland, Ore.,
Dear Folks:

The Ashland Fruit and Produce association is now in the midst of a serious problem. Within a month, it will have been decided whether or not it is profitable to carry on the work in the future.

The association is your association. Take it away for a year, and you would feel its loss. But it cannot continue to operate at a loss. It is the same as any other business, it must have support.

Other cooperatives have gone through this same period of construction. One, the Sun Maid Raisin Growers association, worked for more than ten years in building up an organization, and finally were successful only when they decided that contracts were necessary, and those whose contracts were held by the association market all their produce through the association. The good as well as the not so good produce is handled by the association, and raisin growers are now enjoying prosperity because of their foresight in backing their association.

The same thing could be done here, and a strong marketing organization built up which would repay you handsomely for your efforts.

Yours truly,
Auntie Ashland.

Post Office Employees,
Ashland, Ore.,
Dear Friends:

By the time this is published, it will be too late for many to mail their packages in time for them to be received by Christmas day. This is especially true of those who are sending presents out of the state, or to distant points in the state.

There will always be those who allow their Christmas mailing to wait until the last possible moment, and then attempt to jam the thing through in a hurry. This year, with the postal employees taking a holiday on Christmas day, a lot of these "better late than never" mailers are going to get a surprise. Maybe it will jar them enough so next season they will do their mailing early, but I doubt it.

You should earn a holiday every Christmas if anyone in the country does. It is work, work, work, with you throughout the holiday season, and when Christmas comes you deserve a rest.

I have no sympathy for those who mail late, and believe they get their just deserts when their packages fail to arrive on time.

Merry Christmas,
Auntie Ashland.

Mr. Clint Baughman,
Fire Chief,
Dear Clint:

Allow me to congratulate you upon the splendid manner in which you handled the incendiary blaze at the McCoy home.

Such matters are always unpleasant, and this one was especially unfortunate, but you handled it like a champion.

In talking to Fire Marshal Pomeroy, he informed me that you were one of the most capable chiefs in the state, and I heartily agreed with him.

Other chiefs, Mr. Pomeroy declared, have allowed such cases to get by them until it was too late to remedy. Not so with you, however, for you got on the job at once, and possibly saved the city a much larger fire loss.

You have kept the fire loss down exceptionally well this year, and I hope you receive the additional equipment you have requested, in order that our fires may be even fewer and less costly.

Merry Christmas Clint,
Auntie Ashland.

"That Ye May Be One." This will be the theme for the sermon by the pastor Sunday morning. What did our Lord mean by this statement. What is the oneness of God's people that Jesus was praying for? Is there a possibility of this? If so, what? If not, why? In the evening Miss Vivian Rose who has been holding meetings with marked success over on Sprague River and Chiloquin, and whom God has been signally blessing lately in the salvation of souls, will bring the message. Some questions that will be answered in the evening service: "Can one be a fundamentalist and refuse to accept some of the most vital promises of the Word of God?" "Who is the Bride of Christ?" "When we die do we go to heaven or wait until the resurrection?" We will have a real home gathering at Christmas—Christmas Eve. A tree for the kiddies and presents and a program—and a real Christmas time. What has the coming of Christ meant to you?
Note: As our grade for the Stone church did not go through we will still continue to meet at the Bungalow. We will be glad to meet you there again next Sunday.
