P. COAST HAS HEAVY DAMAGE

Electrical Storms Visit the Northern Cities; Rain Causes Floods

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 5—(U.P.)—Reports continued to come in today describing the damage done by the heavy wind-storms and rain in the Pacific Northwest.

Shipping was delayed. Southern Pacific trains from California were arriving hours late as a result of the washout in Cow Creek Canyon in Southern Oregon. The heavy rains in that vicinity also blocked the Pacific highway with landslides.

Portland, Kelso and Longview experienced severe electrical storms. Communication was interrupted for a time with Marshfield, Bend, Klamath Falls and Astoria. Heavy rains caused floods at Eugene and in Southern Oregon.

Representative Little of Kansas has a bill to aid the farmers. Let's head the thing. "Little Help for Farmers."

A Texas wolf escaped from the zoo in Boston, but you could hardly criticize him for doing so.

Larger tax cut is agreed upon. Cut this out. It may be the last you ever hear of it.

EXPECTS MANY ATTEND STATE BUSINESS MEET

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 5—(Special)—A big attendance from all parts of the state is expected at the annual Retail Merchants' Convention and short course to be held in Eugene February 14-17, at which Robert C. Line, president of the Line chain stores in Montana, will speak, according to Dean E. C. Robbins, of the school of business administration which is handling arrangements.

Line, who will make three talks as part of the course, is a Harvard graduate, and taught economics and commerce in eastern colleges. He was with the New York chamber of commerce for one year, and has been very successful in conducting a chain of stores in Montana. For some time he was field man for the school of business at the University of Minnesota. Since he has been on national programs of trade associations for a number of years, he is expected to make a valuable contribution to the meeting here this month.

Other speakers will be Marshall Dana, associate editor of the Oregon Journal, and Irving E. Vining, president of the state chamber of commerce.

Startling results are to be presented the business men when the survey of installments buying in Oregon is reported upon. It discusses reasons and causes of bankruptcy, and includes material from more than 1300 persons.

SETTLERS SAY SATISFIED IN OREGON HOMES

The "Proof of the Pudding" is generally a pretty good indicator.

So the New Settler, after he has been settled, is a sure

"proof" for Oregon.

For the past two years the Land Settlement Department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, coordinating with the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, has proclaimed the opportunities and resources of Oregon. It has received over 24,000 direct agricultural inquiries and followed up with over 35,000 live agricultural letters, accompanied by over 100,000 pieces of Oregon literature.

The results of this work are over 1,400 new settlers, who have so far been reported, and probabilities of a great many more. Three times as many have stated definitely in correspondence that they intended coming to Oregon to locate.

A snappy little "proof" of land settlement is reported this week in the experience of one new settler.

John Ross came to Oregon last summer from Alaska. For several months he resided in Portland, casting about for a place to make his home. He saw an article in the paper of the work of the Land Settlement Department and an account of a fellow Alaskan, who was coming here to locate. Following his impressions, Mr. Ross sought out the office of the Land Settlement Department for his own benefit and information. At this time the Tumalo Irrigation project was being opened near Bend, Deschutes county, and the proposition appealed to him. The ultimate result was that Mr. Ross took his "Carey Act 40" and now Mrs. Ross, delighted in her new Oregon home writes:

"You were so kind to help us locate in Oregon, on this lovely Tumalo.

"We are now in our lovely new bungalow which has been admired by everybody. Today Mr. McLellan came up and took some pictures of it for the new reports on the Tumalo. You will remember that we have only been here about six weeks, so I think that we are getting along pretty nicely. We have nearly an acre cleared for our lawn." The same report of contentment is being received from all parts of Oregon where the new settler has built his home, and not one complaint has been received from the 1400 who have been reported to the Land Settlement Department. The Oregon Land seems to be "The Land of their Dreams"—fulfilled.
