FOREST SERVICE TO HOLD EXAMINATIONS

Examinations for junior forester and range examiner in the forest service will be held in March, the district forester announces.

These are United States civil service examinations to secure eligibles to fill vacancies on any of the national forests of the United States and Alaska.

The entrance salary for each of these federal positions is $1860, and the age limits are 21 to 35 years. Several new features are evident this year in the requirements. The examinations will be held about two weeks apart as some men may wish to try both tests. Another new feature is the requiring of a thesis of not less than 3,000 words from all junior forester applicants.

Applications for the junior forester examination must be in Washington, D. C., before March 1, and for junior range examiner before March 13. Admission cards are necessary to take these tests.

College Girls More Popular in This Day and Age

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 11. — (Special) — The girl of a generation ago was not as attractive as the girl of today, according to Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, of Portland, member of the University board of regents, who added, in a recent address before a Woman's League mass meeting, that "girls now dress more sensibly, with short skirts, a tiny bit of rouge and sensible shoes."

"In my college days," said Mrs.

Seeks Walker

Sailor Liston, Los Angeles waterweight, who expects to show his fatiguing ability in the east shortly. He's bent on getting a match with Mickey Walker, champion. On the far west coast Liston is well thought of and many experts predict a great ring future for him.

Gerlinger, "girls wore collars from three to four inches high. On our dresses, we had little trains which we carried over our arms, and we wore high-heeled patent leather slippers."

"Today, however," Mrs. Gerlinger added, "young women are sensitive about guidance; they wish to keep their mothers in the background, while in many ways, their mothers could be of great help to them. In our day we had just as much freedom as you have now, but we did not discuss it so much."

Clatskanie tax levy for 1926 is 10.4 mills, 3.4 mills lower than in 1925.

A water spray has been installed at the top of a 20-foot spruce tree at Escanaba, Mich. It has been showing water since Dec. 1, and the tree is now an ice fountain, lighted at night by colored lights.

HAYS WIPES OUT ALL EXTRA LINES

By LINCOLN QUARBERG (United UPress Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 12.—(U. P.)—Wielding his big stick in the most sweeping gesture since he became emperor of filmdom, Will Hays has wiped out the atmospheric extra-lines.

The unending processions of film-struck flotsam which daily harassed the casting directors have completely disappeared. Instead has been created a central casting bureau, a cooperative non-profit corporation, organized and maintained by the principal studios.

The extras, though have not been eliminated as movie scenery by the Haysian turn of events. They have merely changed their stamping grounds.

The studios have discarded their voluminous card-indexes, with the names of thousands of extras of every type—blondes and brunettes, old slim women, old fat men, Mexicans, negroes, fair-haired children, freckle-faced boys, fallen women, and fast flappers. Instead is one "master-index," maintained by the Central Casting Bureau.

The Bureau is operated under the aegis of Will Hays, with his personal Hollywood representative, Fred Beeton, in charge.

Purpose of the organization was two-fold, according to Hays. "The primary purpose was to secure a wider and better selection of extras for the studios and to furnish steady employment as far as possible to those who are really fitted for the work," he said.

"Secondly, it was purposed to eliminate abuses in casting which have been a thorn in the side of the army of extras that have grown up with the industry."

For years, charges of favoritism have been hurled at various studios and casting directors by disgruntled extras.

The exact number of the "extra army" in Hollywood has never been accurately gauged. Conservative casting directors place it between 7,500 and 10,000. Others place the figure as high as 15,000, counting registration in all classes.
