

OREGON PLAYS AGGIES FRIDAY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 15—(Special)—Oregon plays its last conference basketball game Friday against the Oregon Aggies here. The Webfooters, should they defeat the Aggies, will be undisputed champions of the northern section. They will have then won 10 games without a defeat, a record in coast conference competition.

Last Saturday at Corvallis, Oregon won with apparent ease, 82 to 17. The Aggies, whose "percentage" style of play calls for long shots, were handicapped by the bigness of their own gym and because of close checking by Oregon, had much difficulty in working the ball down to the Webfooters' basket. The Eugene floor is much smaller than the Corvallis court, so should give the Aggies a great advantage.

For that reason Coach Reinhart of Oregon is holding strenuous practice sessions this week. He is preparing his players for any kind of attack the Aggies may offer.

By taking 16 points in Saturday's contest, Okerberg bro't his season's total up to 91 points. He now leads the conference both in individual scoring and total scoring per game, replacing Burr of the Aggies, who dropped from 9.5 points average per game to 8.2, while Okerberg climbed from 9.4 to 10.1. Total scores show that Oregon has scored 307 points, or 34.1 per game to 180 points, or 20 per game for her opponents. The Aggies have tallied 138 points or 27.6 per game to 120 points or 24 per game for their opponents.

Gladale — Douglas County will spend $10,000 here, on paving extension.

West Linn — New sewer system costing $32,000, being installed here.

She's Queen of the Mardi Gras

Miss Katherine Williams, 18-year-old New Orleans society bud, has been given the highest honor New Orleans society can bestow—she has been elected queen of the 1934 Mardi Gras carnival, and will reign over the city during the famous winter festival.

FLORIDA LURES BIG ATHLETES

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Feb. 15—Influence of southern sunshine is beginning to have a most surprising result upon amateur sport. The desire for publicity has caused promoters of fashionable watering place enterprises to invade the field of athletics for names that look good in print.

Florida lured Red Grange and Ernie Nevers from the college football field and enticed three of the greatest girl swimmers in the United States from the amateur ranks.

From actual returns, the promoters lost money on their investment in Grange and Nevers but the value of the publicity derived was worth infinitely more than it cost them.

The surprising way in which star athletes can be used for publicity purposes was shown recently in southern France, the "Florida" of the old continent, when Helen Willis and Miss Suzanne Lengien were playing tag, with the French girl holding the role of—you catch me.

It was openly charged in Nice that hotel men in the Riviera district had influence enough to bring about the delay to the last very minute of the season of any possibility that the two girls could meet for the world's tennis championship.

They, it was charged, realized the world wide publicity that the presence of Miss Willis was attracting to the Riviera district and they wanted to keep it long. They feared that if they met in one of the earlier tournaments of the season the American champion would be beaten and the rest of the season would be a bust.

Indefinite postponement of any chance that the two stars could meet could be brought about in a perfectly legitimate, if slightly unethical way.

All that had to be done was to announce that the English ball would be used in every tournament but the last one of the season as the American girl had let it be known that she would not play with the English ball and she had been given to understand that in practically all of the winter tournaments the French or American ball was used.

There was no disposition to criticize Miss Willis or suspect Miss Lengien. No one questions the honesty and the pure amateurism of the American champion and if she did become a pawn in the game it was the result of her inexperience.

Drops Dead After Morning Exercise

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Feb. 17—(U. P.)—Just as he completed his "daily dozen" exercises this morning, Postmaster J. Elmer Mobley, 55, dropped dead of heart disease. Mobley, long a leader in Sonoma county Republican politics, was named postmaster two years ago. He was publisher of the Republican, evening daily newspaper, for 11 years, before selling it six months ago to G. Lansing Hurd, Corvallis, Ore., editor.

Newberg—Paper mill to cost $1,250,000 and employ 225 men, may be established here, partly with local capital.

Mr. Tuttle Can Sleep After Gas is Gone "After taking Adierka, the heavy feeling (gas) in my abdomen is entirely gone and I get a good night's rest now." (signed) J. C. Tuttle. Adierka removes gas in TEN minutes and brings out a surprising amount of old waste matter you never thought was in your system. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation or stomach trouble. Stops that full, bloated feeling. McNeil Bros., Druggists.

CO-ED COLLEGES FIND MOST FAVOR

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 15—(U. P.)—The college lover has a staunch defender here in the person of Walter M. Hart, vice president of the University of California.

Statistics show that co-educational universities are exactly twice as popular as those attended only by one sex, Hart says.

Proving that students prefer a little love along with books and classes, his statistics are:

"Out of 193 universities and colleges in the accepted lists of the Association of American Universities, only six technical schools, eight universities and 27 colleges are limited to men's attendance, and only 28 for women.

"At the same time, 28 universities, eight technical schools and 88 colleges are co-educational.

"Each kind of institution has advantages and disadvantages, from an educational standpoint. But, as for popularity, our national answer to the question can be inferred from the figures."

The Best Farm Hand You Ever Had

The Kohler Automatic Electric Plant is a hard worker—

It will pump the water, milk the cows, separate the cream, chop the feed, do the washing and ironing, and a dozen other jobs.

Its a hard worker because it is built to be a power plant as well as a lighting plant. It is not handicapped by storage batteries — full-rated capacity is always on tap. A small starting battery provides for full automatic operation.

Its 110-volt current carries long distances, saves wiring expense, operates standard appliances and gives brilliant light.

If you want a real helper, you owe it to yourself to investigate this proved, successful machine. Why buy an ordinary plant when you can get a Kohler on easy payments! Let us give you the facts.

"New Ponzi"

Samuel R. Rambo is under arrest at Knoxville, Tenn., as a new Ponzi. He traded in mortgages and according to federal officials who have indicted him, hundreds of investors lost over a million dollars. Many people who thought their homes were paid for learned that Rambo had not put their money where they thought he had, and they must pay for their homes all over again.

JAPANESE FLIERS WIN HIGH HONORS

TOKYO, Feb. 15—(U. P.)—The four Japanese aviators who recently made a successful flight from Tokyo to London, under the auspices of the Osaka Mainichi, Japan's greatest paper, have been welcomed back as national heroes.

A great crowd banished the fliers when their liner docked at Kobe, while a massed band played the national anthem and officials of the aviation bureau of the government tendered congratulations and the nation's thanks to the plucky four.

To Tokyo the aviators, all of whom are civilians, were received in audience by the Prince

Regent, a most unusual honor, and were decorated by him with imperial honors much higher in grade than usually bestowed upon commoners or civilians.
