LET'S GET TOGETHER

It is to be hoped that the Ashland and Klamath chambers of commerce will come to some amicable settlement of their differences when they confer in Klamath Falls next Wednesday over the Klamath proposal to establish a branch office and tourist information bureau at the junction of the Pacific and the Ashland-Klamath highways.

Heretofore and at present cordial relations exist between the two cities. The Ashland chamber of commerce has always had a good word for Klamath Falls and the Klamath country when auto tourists from other states have sought information concerning scenic trips in this part of the state.

It is now reported that the Klamath chamber of commerce is seeking to have the "Oregon Gateway" office removed from Ashland to the junction of these two highways as another step in its desire to attract to its borders the motor tourists during the coming summer months.

From the standpoint of the tourist such a change would be a decided inconvenience, and we cannot believe that the citizens of Klamath Falls if they ponder the question deeply, will attempt to take from Ashland that which is rightfully her's.

Instead of the present threatened dissension, the two cities should seek to foster a spirit of helpfulness and co-operation. If Klamath, in her laudable desire to attract tourists, wants a branch office on the Pacific highway, let the suggestion as made yesterday of giving Klamath a branch office in the Ashland chamber of commerce, prevail. In this way the two cities could work hand in hand for each other's advancement and welfare.

These various questions will be arbitrated next week in Klamath Falls, and for the sake of all of Southern Oregon it is to be hoped that satisfactory and friendly adjustments will be made.

A SPLENDID RECORD

Reports of the progress made in Ashland during the past year in the numerous activities among the boys indicate there is a genuine desire on the part of the parents to give their sons the best possible moral and physical training.

It is a fine thing for Ashland to have her sons take such an enthusiastic interest in the work which is being done in their behalf. The men who are giving of their time and money in this work are deserving of the commendation of the entire community. The past year set a splendid record in boys' activities in this city. Let us hope that the present year will be even more productive of good results.

PREJUDICE

Prejudice, characterized by a speaker here yesterday as the force which predominates only when reason is absent, is indeed the cause of much unjust criticism, as the speaker stated.

Combine hatred with prejudice and you have a combination which often makes enemies of those who should be friends, makes those who should cooperate pull against each other.

The destructive force is felt in business circles, as well as in other activities. A person becomes peeved at a business firm over some happening which in many cases is trivial. The years pass. Relations between the individual and the firm continue to be nil, even though their interests might naturally run in the same channel of activity. The old prejudice predominates. Everybody is injured. Activities started or fostered by one are opposed by the other for no other reason than that "one is through with the other."

It is a foolish and destructive attitude for persons to harbor grievances for years when present conditions justify a friendly feeling and cooperation.

Let's pack the Ashland armory tonight to the very rafters and thus encourage the high school athletes on to victory.

A new sawmill will bring another payroll and will likewise convert the virgin firs on nearby hills into good, hard cash.

Ahem! Everyone Take Notice

"woman" opened the letter and found it was a letter from the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., dated February 17, 1934, signed by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It is reported that an official status is being made that before it, a social stigma has been given way. Well, a congresswoman has an official status and a cabinet officer's wife has none. She shines only by a reflected light. A congresswoman shines by her own.

COOLIDGE GETTING LESS FAN LETTERS

By JOHN MONTGOMERY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(U. P.)—President Coolidge, unlike his predecessors, receives practically no "fan" mail.

When Harding was in office, he received from five to seven sacks of mail a day. Most of these were letters of praise, petitions or suggestions. The mail clerks spent a busy day.

Now the White House incoming mail averages about a half a sack a day, a little more than the outgoing mail. Few of these letters are from unknown sources; even cranks seem to avoid writing their troubles to the President.

Several reasons have been advanced for this decline in mail. The most feasible is that President Coolidge has never made any appeal to the "fan" type and never answers the letters of those who praise him by mail. Further, cranks have been discouraged by the activity of Department of Justice officials.

President Coolidge has never shown the curiosity toward the daily message of letters shown by former Presidents. Harding would often call for a stack of letters selected at random and amuse himself by reading their contents. Wilson often rearranged through the mail and answered a great many letters personally. He considered these letters reliable indicators of the reaction of the people.

But still from admirers continue to flow into the White House in an unbroken stream, although practically all presents are now being sent by manufacturing and jobbing concerns.

The latest gift is a newly invented pants press. Other recent gifts include a washing machine, a glass cabinet phonograph and a weight-pulling apparatus.

Cross Word Puzzles Proving Of Value

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 20—(Special)—The "Cross-Word Puzzle Blues" have invaded Miss Carmen G. Espinosa's Spanish class at the University of Oregon. People say the cross for these puzzles is gone, but that doesn't keep the idea from being useful in the instruction of language.

Miss Espinosa has her students working out puzzles in Spanish, with the idea of putting to use what Spanish they have learned, and they like it.

Editor Ordered To Jail By Judge Who Resents Editorial

EL CENTRO, Cal., Feb. 20—(U. P.)—Norman H. Parks, editor of the Holtville Tribune, went to the county jail today to serve a term of five days imposed by Judge J. Thompson for contempt of court. Parks was convicted a month ago for an editorial attack on Judge Thompson's dictatorship.

DANGER IN NEGLECTED CORN

Serious diseases may develop from neglected corn and make them dangerous. There is no better remedy for quick relief from corns and calluses than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. "My granular corns got no relief whatever from a very bad corny ointment, until I gave my Foley's Honey and Tar," writes Peter Lantz, Mayaville, Pa. Every man hopes his radiator won't freeze until it finally does.
Old friends are the best, because new ones make you think.

STEWART'S
By CHARLES P. STEWART
WASHINGTON—Does a congresswoman socially outrank the wife of a cabinet officer?
This is a serious question, now that women are breaking into Congress in increasing numbers—already a quarter of a dozen strong. It needs to be answered immediately, but there's no prospect of it.
The highest authorities disagree.
That a cabinet officer outranks a representative is a well recognized principle of social law. It seems to follow naturally that his wife outranks a representative's wife. Presumably he (a cabinet officer) outranks a congresswoman, too. Only, as between cabinet officers (at any rate until some woman gets a portfolio) and congresswomen, there isn't much prospect of a clash.
But, as between cabinet officers' wives and congresswomen, there's such a prospect of rather, it's right with us now.
