COUNTY FINANCES

The annual report of Jackson county, as issued last week by an expert accountant, contains a few interesting points.

In 1925, instead of a large deficit as the county had to stand in 1924, the prohibition enforcement fund shows a healthy balance. In exact figures the fund showed a deficit of $6,728.75 in 1924, while in 1925 there was a balance of $2,274.16 in the fund.

The Tidings remembers the promise which Sheriff Jennings and Dist. Attorney Chaney made when they sought election that they would handle prohibition enforcement without the huge expense which had been incurred under the previous regime of county government. Campaign promises are so often forgotten after election that when one is remembered and executed, the officers deserve commendation, which The Tidings is glad to extend to Sheriff Jennings, District Attorney Chaney and other officers who cooperated with the sheriff so efficiently.

However, farther down in the report is an item which does not create such a favorable verdict. The report states that the Pacific Highway bond fund lost $27,000 during the year, a result of paying 5 per cent on the bonds while only 2 per cent was realized from the sinking fund. The accountant rightfully recommends that a better investment for the sinking fund be procured and that more of the bonds be retired if possible.

MILK DRINKERS

The habit of drinking milk seems to be largely increasing. Formerly, if people wished to say something discreditable of a man, they would often call him a "milkop" or a "milk and water" person, as if the habit of using milk was something effeminate.

But people have discovered that milk is a very nourishing food. No less a personage than Theodore Roosevelt, apostle of strenuousness, was a confirmed milk drinker. The consumption of milk per person increased about 20 per cent from 1918 to 1925.

The more people can be induced to eat plain and simple foods like milk, containing in abundance the main principles of nutrition, the less they will demand highly seasoned concoctions made to stimulate a jaded appetite. They will be able to perform more work on simple foods.

RECEPTANCE TO NEW IDEAS

The progressiveness of a town is largely tested out by the attitude it takes to new methods and ideas, in business, education, government, and industry.

In some places, people look at such suggestions with a natural attitude of skepticism. Their first comment is apt to be discouraging and doubtful. They see the difficulties in the way and feel they can't be overcome.

In the brighter type of towns, people are much interested when they hear of new civic ideas. They do not necessarily want to go in for them right off, but they feel impressed with a desire to know more about those ideas. With this receptive attitude, the chances are strong that after hearing about these new ways and looking into them, they will want to try out some of them. A town where that sentiment exists is a better place for a business and residence investment, than the one where new ideas meet with a chorus of doubt and question.

Making a fortune is easy. It just seems hard because you need three or four of them for living purposes.

Only a few more long weeks until strawberry shortcake. When it does arrive it will be the berries.

Does higher education pay? Red Grange, college football star, made only $125,000 this season.

Yes, higher education pays. Women in knee dresses can bum more ice cream sodas than ones in long dresses.

And higher education costs. Admiral Moffett wants 350 millions to build a gang of airplanes.

Bill in Congress would keep the army as at present. Bills in the hall keep us as at present.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22 (U.P.)—A resolution requesting the president to appoint special counsel for the prosecution of the Mellon-controlled Aluminum company of America will be introduced shortly in the senate by Senator Robinson, democratic floor leader, he announced today.

Despondent Fire Chief Kills Self

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 22 (U.P.)—Jay Taylor, for 20 years a member of the Long Beach fire department and battalion chief for several years, hanged himself in the woods 30 miles from here yesterday. His body was found by police. He had been brooding over charges of insubordination which had been filed against him by brother officers.

The Kohler Automatic Electric Plant is a hard worker—

It will pump the water, milk the cows, separate the cream, chop the feed, do the washing and ironing, and a dozen other jobs.

It's a hard worker because it is built to be a power plant as well as a lighting plant. It is not handicapped by storage batteries — full-rated capacity is always on tap. A small starting battery provides for full automatic operation.

Its 110-volt current carries long distances, saves wiring expense, operates standard appliances and gives brilliant light.

If you want a real helper, you owe it to yourself to investigate this proved, successful machine. Why buy an ordinary plant when you can get a Kohler on easy payments? Let us give you the facts.

From the Ground up!

Bill Boyd of Portland, Oregon, who grew up in the market trade, have built up a national reputation for highest quality vegetable seed.

TWENTY-FOUR years ago, Bill W. Boyd and his son, Bill, two young men who had grown up in the market trade, were supplied a variety line of vegetable seed to a north of over 50 grocery stores in Portland. They were a reputation for highest quality produce.

For several years the Bill Boyds grew and developed special strains of sweet corn, cabbage, beans, and other vegetables. They were so successful that a few years later they decided to grow seedlings of all the vegetables that could be raised in the Pacific Northwest.

The first year they grew a small quantity of seedlings. Today the Bill Boyds send out 250,000 pounds of seedlings of all the vegetables that can be raised in the Pacific Northwest.

They are still growing and developing special strains of vegetables. They are still growing and developing special strains of vegetables. They are still growing and developing special strains of vegetables.
