PROGRESSIVE CITIES

The cities of America are making more rapid progress today than ever before. It is not so much that they are growing faster in population, as that they are making community gains, in industrial progress, education, street construction, wholesome recreation, etc.

Some cities make more than a normal record of development, while some make less. Why this difference? The difference may be caused by the fact that some cities have a very active group of hustlers, who almost work their heads off in the effort to secure progress. It is more likely to be due to the fact that in those cities progressive movements of all kinds are welcomed, and that the people generally take hold and join the Chamber of Commerce or like organizations. Through these associations public sentiment favorable to progressive moves is disseminated throughout the city, and the people respond favorably when new ideas are advanced.

END LAME DUCK SESSIONS

The House of Representatives committee has recommended for passage, with slight modifications, the Senate measure for advancing the date of Presidential inaugurations and the sittings of new Congresses. This is the so-called "lame duck" sessions bill. This time there is considerable chance of its passage. If so, the move can be credited, more than anything else, to the clash of wits over cloture in the Senate and the sharp debate started by Vice President Dawes.

If, declares the defenders of the Senate, there were no "lame duck" Congresses, and no short sessions, closing at March 4, there would be no need of cloture, such as is urged by the Vice President. So the Senate has rushed this bill through again. It should be voted by the House. If it is, there is little doubt that it will be quickly approved by three-fourths of the states and become a law. It should.

WHO GETS TAX REDUCTION?

The bills that are being put through Congress to lop off millions of federal taxes will benefit the great mass of the taxpayers, including the large taxpayer, the small taxpayer and the non-taxpayer.

Tax reduction is inevitably a great stimulant to industry, to investment and to the inauguration of new enterprises, because it means a lowering of production costs.

Now it is a fact that cost of production is almost inevitably passed on to the consumer, as much as raw material and labor costs, only the item of taxation is a permanent one liable to be increased by state and local authorities.

It is not easily controverted that the sale price of an article, which must be the total cost of production plus a profit, and all cost of operation, is finally taxed upon the consumer. And so it comes about that all are benefited by tax reduction.

ARE YOU A GOOD CITIZEN?

"The obligations of citizenship do not rest solely or chiefly in the exercise of the privilege of voting, or in conducting campaigns or in holding offices. Important as are all these duties, their performance will amount to nothing unless our citizens are imbued with the spirit of our institutions, which means respect for a government of law, a sincere desire to better in every practical way the conditions of human life, loyalty in all relations of life, and the disposition to be kindly and fair in all dealings with one's fellow men."—Charles E. Hughes.

There is nothing mysterious about the railroad business. It is similar to any other, representing a continued cycle of experimentation in efforts to realize better and cheaper facilities and operation.

A Forward Looking Gentleman

know, "Is young Bob human?" What does it feel like to be the youngest member? "Young Bob's" membership of a club is not an inappropriate person to consult concerning matters. He's a blundering fellow, but a blundering fellow, what about that?

Just touch the one of these subjects, in connection with him, get to "young Bob" himself, but in conversation with any of his friends, and see what happens. You'll be bowled out in a minute for even mentioning such matters in the same breath with "young Bob." In reality "young Bob" La Follette is thoroughly imitable, a good fellow, so awfully nice, no "side." His dignity can take care of itself. He'll turn no hand-springs on Pennsylvania avenue. "Young Bob's" peril is that his friends will convince the country that he's dead-dull—which is very far from the truth.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES E. STEWART, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—"Young Bob" La Follette's friends make the mistake of keeping the "baby senator" in a glass case. They seem to fear two things: 1—That "young Bob" will be represented as just "his father's son." 2—That he'll be made to look undignified. These twin worries may originate with "young Bob" himself. If so, his friends fall for them very readily. They ought to talk him out of them. Say, you want to see "Bob" in connection with some weighty affair of state, some question on the correct answering of which the nation's fate hangs. In that case, you can see him all right. It will be worth your while, too. "Young Bob" is better posted concerning really big issues than many a colon of twice his years or more. But suppose you want to

TOM SIMS SAYS

The trouble seems to be that we would like to have things as we want them instead of as they should be.

War: An excuse for another one.

Sleep: A thief that robs us of a third of our lives.

Cheating: The most popular plan ever invented for going broke.

Real Estate: A commodity that creates ten sellers for one buyer.

Egotism: A trait possessed by every successful man; also by every boob.

Exercise: Something that does the most good when applied to the mental muscles.

Hex Heck says: "Go to law for ten dollars, and the lawyer will get it and ten more."

We've tried so hard, and yet we can't see how people can get a stupor—a anything.

Don't worry if you haven't much. Think of how little you have to get to improve your situation.

One of the greatest advantages of having a home of your own is you can get some oysters in your oyster stew.

You can't put anything over on the modern girl. Hit her and she hits back. Kiss her and she kisses back.

right at the top of his game, as shown by his being finalist of the national tourney in 1925 and semi-finalist last year. He has been chosen for the American "Young Men" team, which will oppose British players next summer in England. Two Northern California ex-champions, Johnny McHugh and George Ritchie, of San Francisco, and Charlie Chung, the Hongkong Chinese star, also are entered. The "best" course is regarded as one of the sportiest in the country. Par is 78, and Willie Nicol, professional, with a 70, is the only man who ever has bettered it.
