BAND-GRIP
 PATENTED SHOE
 for WOMEN

Compare a 1926 motor car with a 1900 model. This gives you a vivid idea of the superiority of the BAND-GRIP oxford over the ordinary orthopedic shoe.

The BAND-GRIP is the first footwear to grip the arch completely, the sides as well as the bottom. A patented rubber arch and a patented band (invisible) insure this!

In appearance, a smart oxford; in effect, better than any orthopedic shoe.

Call today and try on the BAND-GRIP; you can "feel the difference."

Mrs. Herbert McKinley and the Sylvia Probst was awarded the first prize.

To the "Oriental Tea Garden" was given another prize. At this table, Mrs. Otto Winter served, assisted by Miss Margaret McCoy and Miss Ruth Fleming.

The Colonial Table, beautiful in its appointments, was presided over by Mrs. O'Hannell, assisted by Mrs. Domingo Probst and Miss Lolita Pierson, who were in Colonial gowns. It was awarded a bouquet and a Pretty Tea Table, with Mrs. H. K. Tomlinson, hostess, assisted by Mrs. O. A. Paulerud and Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg was lovely, and to it, also was given a beautiful bouquet.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the beauty of these tables. They had to be seen to be appreciated.

The food sale, too, under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Pracht was a success and added a neat sum to the treasury.

The program numbers were given to appreciative attention and hearty applause. They were heard at intervals during the afternoon and the guests, with few exceptions spent the afternoon enjoying the program and the lovely setting.

Those who contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon were: Miss Lolita Pierson, in piano solo; Mrs. F. D. Wagner, who read an Irish play, an Irish story, read by Miss Margaret McCoy; Miss Velma Clapp in solo dance; Dr. Mattie B. Shaw in a reading; Miss Gladys Morton; Miss Linda Oeder and Carl Loveland in vocal solos. Mrs. Clara Beebe was accompanist. Mrs. Louis Bodge was in charge of the program.

Saint Patrick's Tea—
 Saint Patrick's Tea, the Civic Club's annual Spring Festival was one of the loveliest affairs ever given by the Civic Club.

Everything conspired to make it a most successful event. The weather, the artistry shown in the tea tables, costumes and splendid program all combined to give an afternoon of unalloyed happiness to the more than two hundred guests assembled.

Mrs. P. S. Probst, assisted by Mrs. W. L. Marry, has been in charge of the elaborate affair and to these ladies full meed of praise should be given. To all those who contributed so largely to its success, in the wonderfully beautiful tea tables, with hostesses gowned in compliment to host beauty, and to those who presented the delightful program of splendid numbers, Mrs. Probst wishes to express her cordial appreciation.

Prizes were awarded the most beautiful tables and it is said the judges found it the hardest work they had undertaken for some time to decide upon the relative merits of the different tables.

Art Club Meets Monday—
 Mrs. H. F. Sackett is hostess for the Ladies Art Club at her home at 143 Fourth street. She will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Norma Reed. Members are to bear in mind the change in arrangements, and be present at this meeting at Mrs. Sackett's home.

Alpha Chapter Celebrate—
 The forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Alpha Chapter, No. 1, O. E. S., was celebrated with considerable éclat Tuesday evening at Masonic hall.

A conservative estimate places the number of guests at two hundred. There were several visitors from Madford; among them Past Grand Matron, Mrs. McGowan; Mrs. Edna Isaacs, Matron of Reumas Chapter and Mrs. Ray, Associate Matron. Mrs. Garland, of La Grande, Indiana, Worthy Matron of her home chapter was also a guest.

A short business meeting was held, after which the floor was cleared and distinguished entertainers made their appearance.

Madame Schuman-Heink, in the person of Mrs. Nathan Bates, in costume, sang pleasingly, as did Tetrazzini, (Dr. R. L. Burdick successfully represented this famous personage.)

Paderewski, W. M. Briggs, and K. P. Nims as Harry Lauder, in highland costume were heartily applauded as were both the other famous guests.

The Misses Marie and Madge Mitchell played in duet, much to the pleasure of the company.

Eight couples led by Mr. and Mrs. C. I. J. Porter, all in costumes of forty years ago, danced the old fashioned quadrille. Mr. Porter was Henry Ford and called the figures.

The hall was beautifully decorated. In the dining room, five tables had been arranged. In the center was a table all in white, with white candles and the lovely birthday cake.

At the white table the toast mistress, Mrs. F. D. Wagner sat with others of the Chapter. Mrs. S. A. Peters, Sr., Worthy Matron, cut the cake.

The other tables were in green, blue, red and yellow, with the color used in decoration of each and the candles the same.

As toast mistress, Mrs. Wagner announced the different speakers very happily. Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg spoke on "Woman

Young Women's Missionary Meeting—
 Mrs. Larkin Deer was hostess at Tuesday's meeting of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the M. E. church, at her home on Fifth street.

At this meeting Miss Isabella Wattenbarger led the devotionals. Letters were read from Miss Mary Young, a missionary to Korea and from Miss Van Fleet, also from Korea.

Interest centered in a play, which was presented by a number of the members, which portrayed the growth of interest in a group of girls, who were working for missions. The theme was pertinent and the parts well played.

There were seventeen present to enjoy the program, and the social hour which followed, during which delicious ice cream and waters were served by the hostess.

Blocks for a quilt were embroidered while the members visited.

Delicious Dancing Party—
 A delightful dancing party is planned for Friday night, March the nineteenth, at the Lithia Springs Hotel, beginning at 8:30. Refreshments will be served by the hotel.

Lithians and their ladies are guests for this pleasant informal function. No uniform will be worn.

A most enjoyable evening is anticipated by those privileged to attend.

Auxiliary Meets—
 The Ashland unit of The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Armory Monday evening, with the regular officers presiding. A dozen house slips were sent to the veterans at U. S. Hospital, No. 77 in Portland, according to report of the committee handling the work for the veterans in the hospital. The sales of candy at the recent American Legion show here and at Hill resulted in a considerable profit for the Auxiliary. It was reported. The piano, which was recently purchased by the Auxiliary, had been placed in the hall and was greatly enjoyed by the members. The Auxiliary ritual will be used in the solution of the auxiliary.

The blouse returns to fashion with the tailored suit. The one illustrated is of blue green crepe with insets of knife pleating that give the suit line of a vestee and end in a bow.

Art: Mrs. Emma Oeder on "Woman in Solitude," Mrs. Gordon MacCracken "Woman in Solitude," all bringing a bright interesting message. The fourth and last speaker was Mrs. F. P. Whittle, who reviewed the past history of Alpha Chapter most entertainingly.

Coffee, home-made cakes, ice cream and candies were served at the banquet table, with St. Patrick's own colors shown in the refreshments.

Mrs. Frank Dean, Mrs. E. P. Nims, Mrs. Walter Everton, Mrs. George Gillette and Mrs. Ellis composed the efficient committee which was in charge of the table.

After the banquet, cards, dancing or visiting, occupied the guests, which were limited to the Chapter and their immediate families.

Mount Ashland Chapter Meets—
 Mount Ashland Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at the home of Mrs. H. O. Anderson, Friday, March 19, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. E. V. Carter is Social Chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Gordon MacCracken and Miss Imogene Wallace.

A program of more than ordinary interest is planned for the program hour and business of importance comes before the Society at the business session.

The social hour is always anticipated with much pleasure and it is hoped that all Daughters will be present on this occasion.

Upper Valley Benefit—
 Old fashioned dances will be featured at the benefit for the Upper Valley Community Club house fund, at the dance given tonight at Jackson Hot Springs.

All who enjoyed the old fashioned dance given by the club at the Armory some time since will be glad for another opportunity to indulge in the dances of yesterday.

The fund for the club house has been augmented until now it totals over five hundred dollars. A few more entertainments and the fund will contain sufficient to finance the building contemplated.

Those sponsoring these entertainments appreciate the cooperation of their friends, which make such a substantial sum possible.

Surprise for Miss Jarmon—
 Miss Beryl Jarmon was the happy recipient of a delightful surprise Wednesday evening.

Mrs. C. V. Howell was hostess to a number of Miss Jarmon's friends, at her pleasant apartment on Hargadine street. The guests (she complimented one also), had been invited for the evening and not until later did Miss Jarmon discover that she was the honor guest, and that a linen shower was a happy feature of the occasion.

Games were played earlier in the evening; many of them very clever and amusing ones. Finally one was played, in which prizes were offered for the winners. Miss Jarmon won first prize and instead of the single package expected, a whole hat full of dainty packages containing gifts in linen from her friends were brought to her. Her surprise was complete.

Spring Blossoms were evidenced by Saint Patrick was not forgotten; for shamrocks were used in decorations and Ireland's own color was shown everywhere.

Games, visiting, with toasting marshmallows, at the theory class, and delicious refreshments made this an evening long to be remembered.

Those present were the Misses Ma Nyron, Edna Gibson, Mildred Crane, Eva Polar, Curtis Hadd, Helen Holland, Ethel Pomplin, Irene Berg, Nora Ward, Beryl Jarmon, Mrs. G. A. Briscoe and the hostess, Mrs. C. V. Howell.

Queen Bees Girls Entertain—
 Last Friday night the Queen Bees entertained their mothers at the Methodist church at supper and for a splendid program afterward.

There were forty seated at tables, laden with all the good things that go to make up a feast indeed.

For the program, a dramatization had been arranged from the last chapter of the book "Fountain of Youth," "The Slave Missions Girls to America."

In this, the leader was Miss Mrs. Van Hardenberg, assisted by Ruth Parsons and Miss Anderson, Marie Moon as Slav girl, Madge Marion, Helen High and Mildred Moss as church members.

This was pleasantly presented and brought forcibly before the audience an impressive picture of the gifts the foreigner offers to America.

Special numbers were sung by the Queen Bees Quartet.

Miss Nadine Swanning played musical numbers, composed by distinguished men of the Slav race. Paderewski's Mazur, the Polonaise Militaire and Humoresque were among those given.

There are twenty five girls in this live organization.

Games were played during the social hour, the mothers having as happy a time as the daughters.

Mrs. Walter Herndon is supervisor for this organization. She is justly proud of the work the girls are accomplishing, along the chosen lines of study.

Entertainment at Methodist Church—
 The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Grants Pass will present a play at the Methodist church, Friday evening at 7:45, for the benefit of the Mary Young fund.

Miss Mary Young of Ashland is in Korea, and has been for years a teacher there. She was home last summer, and during her furlough many had an opportunity to learn of her work.

Ashland is very interested in that work and it is expected that many will be glad of this chance to assist by their presence at the entertainment, in its support.

Miss Feby, a returned missionary from China, takes one of the characters in the play, she is July.

will also tell of her work in China to which she is returning.

To the man and woman who relish a really delicious salad oil we earnestly make this suggestion—purchase Masola with any imported olive oil that may cost you twice as much as Masola.

Then settle in your own mind and to the entire satisfaction of your palate that the world offers no finer oil—no more wholesome oil, regardless of price, than Masola.

Please follow this simple recipe for French Dressing, and convince yourself:

1 tablespoon Masola
 1/2 teaspoon Lemon Juice
 1/2 teaspoon Sugar
 1/2 teaspoon Paprika

MIX dry ingredients. Add Masola and lemon juice at once and stir with spoon. The dressing may be used in large quantities and kept in a bottle and shaken as usual.

This is the simplest recipe for French Dressing, but the combination of oil and sugar may be varied to make it a little more tart for those who prefer a sharper dressing.

A little food salt or onion salt gives added piquancy.

WHY shouldn't Masola be America's most popular salad oil? It is a pure vegetable oil—pressed from the hearts of full ripened corn kernels—as good and delicious to eat as the corn from which it comes.

The quality of Masola appeals to your palate—without its economy appeals to your common sense.
