Lake of the Woods

Through snowdrifts and over high centers, C. H. Underwood and Fred Houston successfully drove a light truck from Klamath Falls to Lake of the Woods last Thursday, and after spending four hours at the lake, returned to Klamath Falls in half the time it took them to make the morning trip. It is the first automobile to get through to the lake this year and is the earliest any automobile has ever negotiated the trip. In years past, May 1 has been the earliest automobiles have ever been able to get through to the lake resort.—Medford Mail Tribune.

Snow at Crater Lake

Two inches of snow fell at Crater Lake Saturday evening, according to Rodger Welles, Crater Lake National Park ranger, who returned yesterday from a periodical park inspection trip, upon which he left over a week ago. He states that cars can approach the south entrance from the Klamath Falls side with ease, and that teams have progressed as far as two miles above. Daniel Haas, the young caretaker at the lodge with a radio set with which he has listened to music broadcast from various points in the nation, said Mr. Welles.—Medford Mail Tribune.
