Betty Bell Entertains Little Friends

Little Miss Betty Bell celebrated her fourth birthday, by entertaining seven of her little friends at a lovely birthday party, April 13, at four o'clock. The table was most attractively arranged for the little guests. The color scheme was pink and white. From the chandeliers, pink and white streamers extended to each plate, with its dainty place card. Pink and white sweet peas decorated the room, and in the center of the table was the beautiful birthday cake, with its four candles marking the years of the little hostess. After the luncheon of jello, with whipped cream, chocolate and cake, the children enjoyed the "Donkey Party," with Charlotte Mitchell winning first prize and Betty Jean Nichols, the consolation. Many pretty gifts were brought to Betty by her young friends. Those who enjoyed the happy time with her were: Betty Jean Nichols, Betty Danford, Babs Cary, Doris Danford, Jane Cary, Jeannette Hastings, Charlotte Mitchell, Mrs. George Nichols and Betty's grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Chapman.

Martha Gillette Chapter Entertained

Martha Gillette Chapter, Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Miss Edna Goheen and Miss Gertrude Haan, on Palm Avenue.

There was quite a full attendance of the members to enjoy the splendid program and the social hour which followed.

Miss Estella Hays led the devotionals in opening, and Mrs. Arthur Wick reviewed the chapter of the book now being studied in the Guild. The book presents, most interestingly, the case of the Slav in America, and each chapter is replete with the vital facts concerning the life and interests of these peoples.

Letters, too, were read from two young women who went out a few years ago to China. They are both in the True Light school in Canton, China, and Miss Abraham's and Miss Howell's letters present very clearly and entertainingly, their work, the life there, the problems and dangers, too. Their descriptions were of deep interest to the friends who listened to the letters.

The "Reds" interfere even in the conduct of school, for they demand that the servants employed be subject to their control. This, the school refuses to do, and as a consequence, it is

Mount Ashland Chapter D. A. B. Meets

The regular monthly meeting of Mt. Ashland Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution held at the residence of Mrs. F. H. Walker, Liberty St., last Friday, was a most enjoyable affair and one characterized by some unusually pleasant features, inclusive of the special welcome to the State Regent, elect, Mrs. Gordon MacCracken and Mrs. H. O. Anderson, State Cor. Secretary, and several out-of-town guests.

Following the customary opening exercises, other business matters were postponed in honor of the special speaker on this occasion, Judge A. E. Clark, of Portland, who, interrupting the work of a busy campaign in his own behalf, had kindly consented to address the Chapter in furtherance of the Americanization efforts of this patriotic organization.

His discourse, "Respect for and Obedience to the Law, and the Growing Evil of Unrestricted Immigration," the latter elucidated by some startling figures gathered in personal experience over-seas and in our larger civic centers, was concentrated in scope, clearly enunciated in resonant periods, keenly analytical and spoke the cultured mind of the scholar as well as the deep reasoning of the able jurist; while his earnest sincerity, dignity of bearing and cordial address, still further commended him to his interested and appreciative hearers."

(The editor is indebted to Mrs. Harriet Chapin Fielding for the notes on the address of the afternoon.)

Brief reports from three of the delegates at the State Conference were given. Mrs. Gordon MacCracken made a general report, speaking especially on the new auditorium, Oregon's box and what different chapters were doing in the purchase of chairs.

Miss Hicks, the regent, also gave a summary of the general proceedings and Mrs. Harriet Chapin Fielding spoke of the cordiality of the hostess chapter, Multnomah, and the genuine hospitality extended. Many interesting side lights were told but the lateness of the hour prevented more detailed accounts.

The nominating committee was named, since the election occurs in May.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. F. H. Walker, with Mrs. Gilbert, who was social chairman, assisted by Mrs. Van Sant and Mrs. Van Natta.

Camp Fire Girls Meet

High School Camp Fire Girls met Wednesday evening after school in business session. Camp Fire Camps was the chief topic in discussion since some are planning to go for at least two weeks to Camp Nammun.

A Grand Council Fire of the five Camps in Ashland came as a happy suggestion, and also came in for animated discussion. Announcement will be made later concerning the decisions at which the groups arrived.

Past Matrons to Meet

The Past Matrons' Club will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening, April 22, at the home of Mrs. E. V. Carter on the Boulevard.

W. W. Gabriel Guest of Mrs. Louis Dodge

Mrs. W. W. Gabriel was honor guest at a reception at the Lithia Springs hotel Thursday evening. At this, members of the P. T. A. Circles, teachers, club women, and others interested in P. T. A. work were present to meet Mrs. Gabriel and hear her message.

Musical numbers were given during the evening. Mrs. Gabriel remained in the city until Saturday, the guest of Mrs. Louis Dodge. Many called upon her while she was here.

Mrs. Gabriel left Saturday to visit in California before going on to Atlanta, Georgia to attend the National Convention. From there she goes abroad, to England and France.

During her absence, Mrs. Louis Dodge, state vice president, will be acting president of the state organization.

Baby Clinic

The rooms were filled as is usual at the Civic Club house when the time for the Baby Clinic is announced. Many are taking advantage of this opportunity for expert advice regarding their children and a number bring their little ones back each month to note the progress made. Expressions are heard on every hand in appreciation of the work of the clinic and many note the distinct improvement in their little ones after consultation with the members of the Health Unit.

Mrs. Harris Dean was hostess assisted by Miss Virginia Whittle and Mrs. F. F. Whittle and Mrs. H. O. Anderson wrote the histories.

Mrs. Tilton and Mrs. Anderson used their cars to bring those who wished to the clinic.

Dr. V. S. Geary, the Misses Jennings, Beard, Koppes, and Miss Ada Brewster, county home demonstration agent, were present for the work of examination and to give expert advice where needed.

Berean Class Entertained

Mrs. V. O. N. Smith, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Poyer, entertained the Berean Class of the Baptist Sunday school recently.

This was entirely a social afternoon and there was no business session. The members worked on articles for the bazaar, which the organization is planning.

Guessing games proved a source of much fun and considerable work and helped the time to pass most rapidly.

Delightful refreshments of ice cream and cakes were served at the close of the afternoon.

There was a full attendance of the class membership and every one spent a very happy afternoon.

Mrs. Dan Kay Surprised

Mrs. Dan Kay was delightfully surprised by the members of the Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening of last week.

There were twenty-six present to enjoy the happy evening with Mrs. Kay.

Mrs. Jeter, Mrs. Judd Miller and Mrs. Roy Taylor were in charge of arrangements and planned the delightful affair.

Delicious refreshments were served, and beautiful gifts were presented Mrs. Kay from the lodge membership.

Auxiliary to Trinity Guild Entertains Membership

Mrs. M. H. Ellis and Mrs. Ernest Wallin were hostesses at an "Italian Festival," given by the Auxiliary to Trinity Guild at the Parish House, recently.

This was one of the unusual and interesting parties given by this organization; the costumes, entertainment and refreshments all carrying out ideas suggested by the nomenclature.

The program was assuredly a successful one; song, dance and reading given by those whose names are an attraction on any program.

Those appearing this evening, in delightful numbers were Mrs. W. M. Briggs, Mrs. Nathan Stimpina, Mrs. J. R. Edwards, Miss Gilmore, Mrs. Pearle Kearney and Dr. Mettie B. Shaw, who gave an original monologue in which many of those present played a part.

The evening, with its varied and mirth provoking program, its amusing costumes, the decorations, at once springlike and idyllic, the little touch in preparation, prior to the serving of the national dish of sunny Italy was one long to stand in the annals of the organization without a rival for pure unadorned fun.

Surprise Party—Mrs. Mary Courts was involuntary hostess at a very happy surprise party Friday evening at her new home on Fourth street.

The evening was spent most delightfully. Games, music, and the pleasant visit of good friends sped the hours, until delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Courts was presented with a beautiful clock by her friends. Those who planned and carried out the pleasant affair were the Mesdames Paisley, Jeter

Anniversary Dinner

Mrs. and Mrs. E. V. Carter were host and hostess at a dinner Friday evening, the occasion being their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. E. Kinney were guests and the evening passed in the delightful visit of friends.

Luncheon for Mrs. T. J. Malmgren—Mrs. T. J. Malmgren was complimented at a very attractive luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Poley, with covers laid for ten.

The table was especially dainty in its appointments, with centerpiece of spring blossoms, and pretty place cards decorated in water color, each bearing its name in French, for this was a luncheon given by the French Club, honoring its leader, Mrs. T. J. Malmgren, who, for years has come from her home in Phoenix to teach its membership.

Mrs. Malmgren leaves shortly for a trip abroad, visiting her old home in Holland, and many other places, for she contemplates remaining in Europe for perhaps a year.

She will sail the 24 of May, but will visit in the middle west, on her way to New York.

The club members each wrote letters for her to read en route.

Ford

Highest in Quality

Lowest in Price

The finest steel available are used in the manufacture of Ford cars. The plate glass for windshields and windows is as perfect as can be made. Upholstery material contains a larger percentage of wool than is ordinarily specified—even for much higher priced cars. The basic features of Ford design have never been improved upon by any manufacturer.

No other car offers greater dependability. The Ford car has won the favor of millions of users under every conceivable motoring condition. Its convenience is known and appreciated the world over; its performance is taken for granted.

Such quality is possible at Ford prices because every operation, from mining of ore to final assembly, is under direct control of the Ford Motor Company.

Iron is taken from Ford mines in Michigan; coal from the Company's mines in Kentucky and West Virginia. Glass comes from Ford glass plants; wood from the Ford timber tracts in the North. Raw materials and finished products are carried over the Company's own transportation routes; coke ovens, blast furnaces, a steel mill, foundries and saw mills—all are part of this complete organization. There are even salvage plants, paper mill, cement plant, etc., to transform waste materials into useful by-products.

In this way every possible economy is effected. Under no other circumstances could Ford quality be had at Ford prices.
