All Out of Sorts?

So Was This Ashland Woman Who Tells Her Experience

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Ashland case is one of many.

Mrs. Sarah Boots, 338 B. St., says: "I was in a bad condition with kidney trouble and became so weak and run down I could hardly walk. My back ached constantly and my kidneys acted too frequently. My limbs and feet were swollen and I had dizzy headaches and nervous spells. I used different remedies but didn't get any better until I tried Doan's Pills. They soon helped me." ### DEMPESEY'S LIFE NEVER THREATENED

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 20.—(U. P.)—Jack Dempsey, who has been trying his trusty right hand in the authoring business while he is out of action as a fighting tool, made some interesting observations in a recent series telling why he had dissolved his business partnership with Jack Kearns.

In a number of instances it was apparent that the champion had forgotten that only in fictitious do facts not have to be followed, or that he had been misinformed or had been unusually gullible to rumors.

Dempsey said that the one reason why he failed to knock out Tom Gibbons in that memorable Shelby fight was that his life had been threatened and he was in such danger that he had to pack his corner with gunmen.

Jack Kearns told that story when he returned east from Montana and it was not taken seriously because it is the privilege of a manager to stretch facts for a good alibi and it was a good story for those easterners who thought that the fast west was inhabited with the descendants of Sitting Bull, Jesse James and Dead Eye Dick.

Several eastern writers, who had not been within a day's journey of Shelby during the time of the fight picked up the story and carried it as the inside facts of one of the most surprising upsets of modern pugilistic history.

To those who were present during the hectic financial scrambling preceding the fight, this story is silly, ridiculous and absolutely false. Dempsey, if he really believes it, must have taken the word of some informer who was greatly misinformed.

Dempsey was not as popular in Montana as was Gibbons but the sentiment was not directed against him personally. Kearns, by insisting that the champion would have to get every cent he had been promised by contract before he would fight, drew fire indirectly upon Dempsey and there had been any reasons to believe that the state would go gunning to force the fight or to protect Gibbons the slugs would have been directed at the anatomy of Kearns.

The writer was at Shelby for five weeks. Dempsey was in Shelby only a few hours as he trained at Great Falls. Kearns made occasional visits to Shelby from his headquarters in Great Falls.

As far as public display was concerned there was only one gun in Shelby and that swung in the holster of the town cop who boasted that he never had to use it and he always got his man. There were no bulging hips adorning the persons of the natives and the weather was such that a weapon could not have been concealed.

There were no dangerous looking characters on the street or in the arena the day of the fight. Most of the police force and the detective staff of the Great Northern Railroad had been mobilized to pick out stray crooks and they said they enjoyed a perfect vacation.

Dempsey made much of a bottle that was tossed into the ring but it was directed at a photographer by an impatient ring sizer who wanted to see the fight started without more long delays.

The writer knew either personally or by sight nearly every
