KELSO IS PLANNING FREE GOLF COURSE

KELSO, Wash., April 21. (AP) — Officers of the Covilz County Golf club have set a new mark for enterprising communities to shoot at by providing free golf, starting this week-end.

An 18-hole course is being developed here, but won't be completed for sometime. Six holes are ready, however, and have been opened to the public. This short course comprises the most interesting of the lot and good golf may be played.

All are welcomed, regardless of membership. There is no charge. A rumor that fere balls, clubs and caddies would be furnished was denied.

Negro Refuses To Believe In Luck

ALBANY, Ga., April 21. (AP) —Pleze Riley, a negro farmer is one member of his race that does not believe in luck.

While plowing his little farm near here a few days ago, Riley came upon a metal pot which contained three bars of gold on which was stamped "$50,000 each."

The negro continued his day's work and made no mention of his discovery until J. M. Varner, a white contractor, called on him to deliver some supplies. Varner, when informed of the finding of the gold bars, sent them to Washington to be assayed.

Manwhile Riley goes about his work, refusing to believe that he may soon inherit a fortune.

"That would be luck," he says. "I don't believe in it."
