FOR A MILK INSPECTOR

Cities of Southern Oregon are to be asked to aid in the maintenance of a milk inspector, who will keep a check on the milk sold by the dairies to the people of the Southern Oregon towns. Milk is one of the most necessary articles of food and yet there is practically no method of telling what kind of milk we are getting. We can't look at it and decide that it has 10,000 or 500,000 bacteria in it. We can't tell whether the bacteria in it is harmless or if the milk carries some contagious disease. There is only the one way to be sure and that is to secure a milk inspector.

Of course it will cost money to keep an inspector on the job at all times but it is an expense that is more than justified. This morning, the figures compiled after a test on December 1, of last year, were shown and according to the data there were only three dairies that showed clean milk. The rest were classified as dirty, and very dirty. The bacteria count ran from 16,000 to 460,000. There were several in the lower counts and still others that ran into the high counts. A person doesn't want to drink milk that is full of dirt and may have a high bacteria count. No person, however, can tell by looking at the milk whether it will test low or high or whether it has dirt in it or not. Users of milk would not hesitate in paying a few cents more per month for their milk if they knew that they knew that they were securing a pure product, something they are not certain of at the present time. They may be drinking milk that runs 460,000 bacteria and is "very dirty."

The financing of the milk inspector would be paid by the city and the dairymen. The dairymen's end would be cared for by a small license fee, this sum to be matched by the city. Other cities in this part of the state would be doing the same thing as an ordinance is being prepared for adoption by all. We pay out huge sums for protection by military force. We pay large amount for police and fire protection. These agencies might be needed by each person once a year. But every day we are all using milk. It is being fed to infants, whose power of resistance to disease is small. It has become one of the chief articles of food and yet we hesitate in providing the protection so necessary. Epidemics have resulted from the use of contaminated milk and there is certainly no assurance that such an epidemic will not result in some Southern Oregon city.

By all means, Southern Oregon should have the milk inspector. The cost, distributed among the various cities, will be small and the benefits great.—Grants Pass Courier.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENTS

Last year, autoists killed one and ran over five other Southern Pacific crossing flagmen; They crashed through 390 lowered crossing gates. Almost as many autos ran into the trains as were struck by the engines; some into the middle or even into the tailend of the trains. But grade crossings were responsible for only 10 per cent of all auto accidents.

Fool-proof viaducts might eliminate all grade crossing accidents. But the records show such driving recklessness, that the remedy does not seem to lie in a suicidal business tax for overhead crossings to prevent reckless drivers from killing themselves at railroad tracks, when 9 out of 10 do it some other way.

TYPEWRITING HONORS

Member of the high school typing team are deserving the commendation of the entire community for bringing to Ashland for the third time in four years the state championship in the annual typewriting contest.

Ashland is known throughout the length and breadth of Oregon for her good schools, and the ability displayed by the four young women in the state typewriting contest at Corvallis last week is simply a substantiation of Ashland's claim.

Because of the splendid work of the Ashland typewriting team, a silver loving cup has been brought to Ashland, to remain here permanently among the treasured trophies of the public school.

David and Goliath

CHICAGO PREPARING FOR GREAT CHURCH CONGRESS

Many of the young men who are going to be married this spring know about it already.

Your luck could be worse. After a Tullos (La.) man dragged goods out of his burning store they were stolen.

Hurry slowly. Chicago woman running from cops was hit by a taxi.

Potatoes grow wild in Chile. Potato prices grow wild here.

People will steal anything. St. Louis man stole a ukulele.

Los Angeles man was arrested for shooting at his landlord.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington—On the question whether Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa should keep his seat in the United States Senate or give it up to Daniel F. Steack—Steack won—some of the queerest votes were cast that the oldest hangar-on around the Capitol can remember.

It wasn't that regular party lines were shot completely full of holes. That's become the rule rather than the exception in the last two or three years.

Brookhart's a radical Republican. Senator Ashurst's a liberal Democrat. It was natural for Ashurst to vote for Brookhart in preference to the Democratic but conservative Steack.

Senator Butler's an ultra-conservative Republican. It was equally natural for him to vote for Steack.

But note—the ultra-conservative Republican Senator Bingham was for Brookhart. Still, though conservative Bingham's extra conscientious. He voted, not the way he felt, but as he ought. So he doesn't count.

Glancing on down the list we come to another Brookhart vote that certainly surprises us—the vote of the dyed-in-the-wool regular Republican Senator Curtis, Senate majority floor leader, whom Brookhart's radicalism in the 68th Congress nearly drove wild.

Reed of Missouri voted for Brookhart, but Reed's a notorious Democratic insurgent and Brookhart was his kind of a senator, regardless of his party label.

Reed of Pennsylvania, however? And his colleague, Pepper? Republicans, yes, but as wit, no more in common with CHICAGO, (UP)—Committees are busily canvassing the city to make a success of the transformation of Chicago into the church center of the world on June 20 to 24.

During that time more than 1,000,000 persons, members of both the clergy and the lay field, will be here to attend the Eucharistic Congress of the World.

Every hotel in the city will be taxed to its capacity. It is expected these will take care of 250,000 of the delegates. Every room in the city available for renting purposes is being registered. All hotels and restaurants, as well as home owners, are being cautioned to have sufficient food on hand to care for this immense crowd.

It will be Chicago's biggest event since the World Fair in 1893, and it is the chief interest of the Roman Catholic world this year.

Chicago will be able to handle the immense crowd, backers of the unique convention said today. While railroad facilities will be taxed, there are sufficient carriers operating into the city to care for the delegates. Railroads from the east probably will have the biggest task in handling the immense delegations coming from abroad.

The arrangements committee announces that there will be little confusion. A room will be

MANY KIWANIS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

"The local Kiwanis club's delegate, Fred S. Engle of the Citizens Bank, who will attend the 10th annual convention of Kiwanis International in Montreal, Canada June 7-10, will help to bring the estimated attendance of 400 delegates to a reality," remarked J. H. Hardy, president of the organization, today.

Hotel arrangements for the club's representative have been made by H. C. Galey, secretary of the club, who has been in direct touch with Kiwanis' convention headquarters office in Montreal.

The Canadian city's "Forum" Brookhart's kind of Republicanism than they have with Trotsky's. They cast Brookhart votes.

And, of all senators, Reed Smoot—not only conservative but reactionary, to his backbone. He plunked for Brookhart when his name was called, trip. Specials from different parts of the country will meet in the big railway center office and then travel in sections to Montreal.

Portia

Miss Dorothy Walker of Portage, Wis., is Wisconsin's first and only woman district attorney. She holds office in Columbia county, and in her 100 cases has had only two acquittals and one disagreement.

Baker—$1,000 pledged to develop Idaho Copper Company properties, this year.

Klamath Falls—City sells Riverside Park to Central Pacific and Northern lines.
