TRACTORS AND RADIOS

One tractor does not make a farm, nor does a radio always keep the home sires learning, but the government census of agriculture for 1925 shows an enlightening relation between the number of tractors and radios reported.

Of those states, New York was first in radios with 24,620, Iowa stood next with 23,645, Missouri ranked third with 17,592, Ohio was fourth with 15,917, Nebraska fifth with 12,740, and Michigan sixth with 9,028.

In tractors Iowa led with 37,230, Ohio came next with 30,932, New York was third with 25,701, Michigan took fourth place with 19,283, Nebraska was fifth with 18,260 and Missouri sixth with 12,762.

This evidence confirms belief that the farmers are beating the familiar plow horse with the tractor, but it also adds another "E" to the traditional trinity taught by the little red school house.

NO NEED TO HURRY

Not that any appointments need be changed, but rather as a matter of unfinished business, it is worth while to make a note of the largest appraisal of the earth's durability.

On that last day the earth will get too close to the sun, and "Pouf! That will be all. Just like the snuffing of a candle, it will melt and be destroyed."

Applying the speed of light, 186,000 miles a second, to the disc-like conformation of the universe, Professor Moulton fixes its distance from end to end at 200,000 light years, and from top to bottom, at 30,000 light years.

Remembering that the earth's diameter is approximately 8,000 miles, or about one-twentieth of a light-second, there is good ground for fearing that world of our existence has not yet reached dwellers on the far fringe of the cosmos.

A "CAGGY" ADVERTISING STUNT

Some years ago the United States Department of Commerce made an effort to popularize the use of sea mussels as food. They placed liberal quantities of sea mussels in barrels at police stations in one or two large cities, and bade policemen help themselves.

The average patrolman is an able-bodied man, who works in the open air and in the course of a day develops a fiendish appetite. Being hungry most of the time, he takes keen interest in food and is often a connoisseur on eatables.

Eighty-four per cent of the business houses that failed in 1923 were headed by men who were non-believers in advertising.

Nobody pays for advertising. It pays for itself and more, by reducing other selling costs.

Advertising is the modern machinery of sales—and it is not automatic.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON - Daniel F. Steek, the first Democratic senator from Iowa since the Civil War, is one of those almost impossibly busy individuals. He's accessible enough, but you have to see him on the jump.

A couple of minutes talk with him is a long talk, for Steek. He's nice and affable, but he hasn't a second to waste.

His secretary informed me, as I waited an hour and a half beyond the time he phoned me to call, for my two minutes' talk, that Steek's a new type of senator—he speaks right out and gets

SPOKANE WOMAN IS RID OF 12 YEARS SUFFERING

"I'm So Well And Happy Again I Don't Guess Anybody Wonders That I Think Karnak Is The Greatest Medicine On Earth," Declares Mrs. Nelson.

"I don't guess anybody will wonder that I think Karnak is the greatest medicine on earth, when they know how it rid me of twelve years of stomach troubles and made me so well and happy again," declares Mrs. A. S. Nelson, of E. 3018 Syndicate Blvd., Spokane, Wash.

"Well, sir, my husband suggested that I try Karnak and almost before I knew it I was improving right along. Now, all the indigestion, bloating, nervousness and pain is gone. I just eat hearty and don't have any more stomach trouble of any kind. I sleep like a child every night, and mornings I get up feeling rested and refreshed. I simply can't praise Karnak enough!"

Karnak is sold in Ashland by East Side Pharmacy and all leading druggists.
