Dinner Party

A pleasant dinner party with the Misses Edna Goheen and Gertrude Haan as hostesses, was given Tuesday at one o'clock, at their home on Palm avenue, with covers laid for nine.

The dinner was in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jarmon, who, with their son Oscar have been in Ashland for a few days, visiting their daughter, Miss Beryl Jarmon who returns with them to their home in eastern Oregon, and whose coming marriage has been the motif for many social affairs.

Miss Holton, too, another bride elect was also a guest. She also has been feted during the past few weeks anticipating the wedding which will occur soon.

Miss Ethel Templin has been a guest there with Miss Jarmon since the close of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarmon visited the Oregon caves Wednesday. They return home tomorrow, expecting to spend a short while in Corvallis.

A Delightful Surprise

A delightful surprise was planned for Mrs. Dora Hubbard Clark, at her home on Granite street, by the members of the Rebekah lodge last Wednesday.

No word of the plan had reached Mrs. Clark, and the surprise was complete.

There were thirty-five present to enjoy the happy affair with the guest of honor, Mrs. Clark was presented with a set of salad forks, in token of the esteem in which she is held.

No set program was planned but the evening was spent in a very happy fashion visiting. During the social hour, ice cream and real home cakes were served by those who had it in charge.

At a late hour good nights were spoken and good wishes tendered this valued member of the organization.

Married, Shepard-Scott

Trinity Episcopal Church was the scene of a quiet wedding, Wednesday afternoon, May 26, 1926, at four o'clock, when Miss Aileen O. Shepard and Mr. Martin Richard Scott were united in marriage the Rev. P. K. Hammond officiating clergyman.

Miss Shepard was attended by Miss Miriam Calmenson and the bridegroom supported by Mr. W. R. Hughes as best man.

In the presence of a number of interested friends, the solemn vows were pledged which made them man and wife.

The bride was lovely in an ensemble suit of palest gray, with a hat, a harmony in orchid. The dress of crepe du chine, was relieved by delicate touches in garniture.

Beautiful flowers were presented to the bride at the close of the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left immediately, following the ceremony for Klamath Falls, where they will be at home after June the first at the Arcade Apartments. Mrs. Scott has been the efficient supervisor of music in the Ashland schools for the past two years, a member of the Ashland Music Study Club and has a host of friends whose good wishes will follow her to her new home. She will be an acquisition to musical circles of Klamath Falls.

She is the only daughter of Mrs. Curtis Shepard, of Seattle, and friends there will join Ashland friends in felicitations.

Mr. Scott has lived in Klamath Falls for some time, is a business man of that city and is well known both there and in Ashland.

To Mr. and Mrs. Scott, congratulations and good wishes from many friends are tendered, hoping a long, happy and prosperous life may be theirs.

At one o'clock a delightful four-course luncheon was served, with covers laid for thirty-five guests. Artistry in decorative effect was evidenced in the centerpiece, a French bouquet of larkspur and Dorothy Perkins Roses arranged in a Grecian bowl of drift blue. On either side were candles, harmonizing in color with the dainty roses.

From these candles the lacy greenery trailed the length of the table. At either end, was a replica of the same flower arrangement in blue baskets.

The place cards were unique. They were favors, painted cards, through which georgette crepe handkerchiefs in colors of flame, green and peach were drawn.

Six tables of bridge were played after luncheon. Prizes were given. Those securing them were: Mrs. H. K. Tomlinson, first prize, a hammered brass humidifier; Mrs. F. C. Dillard, consolation, a salad service; and guest prize to Mrs. Cordell, a coral ostrich corsage.

The guest list included: Mrs. H. G. Enders Jr., Mrs. John Enders, Mrs. Louis Dodge, Mrs. F. G. Swendenburg, Mrs. Andrew McGee, Mrs. Charles Haines, Mrs. John Shortridge, Mrs. V. V. Mills, Mrs. R. E. Cordell, Mrs. H. Claycomb, Mrs. O. A. Paulserud, Mrs. C. E. Shinn, Mrs. Sylvan Provost, Mrs. Andrew McCallen, Mrs. J. H. Hughes, Mrs. Herbert McCarthy, Mrs. Gerald Wenner, Mrs. Elwood Hedberg, Mrs. H. K. Tomlinson, Mrs. Dan Kay, Mrs. John Finneran, Mrs. W. M. Briggs, Mrs. Clyde Young, Mrs. K. P. Nims, Mrs. F. G. Dean, Mrs. Frank Dillard, Miss Florence Hollmyer, Mrs. Gertrude Fraley, Mrs. Hal McNair, Mrs. Lynn Slack, Miss Agnes Hedberg.

Mrs. R. E. Cordell has been the complimented guest at a number of functions. Her home is at Alameda, California.

Mrs. Cliff Payne, on Granite street is hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Nelson. The club meets the second Monday in June.

W. R. C. Social—Because of the cold Monday, the W. R. C. did not hold its social in the Park as expected and announced.

Instead they gathered in the I. O. O. F. hall, where a short interesting program was presented.

Maude Lyman, accompanied by her sister, Gladys Lyman, on the plan, played two pleasing selections on the saxophone.

Mrs. H. P. Holmes gave two readings and there were two selections on the victrola.

Fancy work and friendly chat occupied the social hour, at the close of which the hostesses served brick ice cream, home-made cakes and coffee.

The hostesses were Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Jennings, assisted by Mills, Mrs. Darby, Mrs. Koegi, Mrs. Jillson, Mrs. Inlow, Mrs. Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. H. P. Holmes and Mrs. Ernest Hicks.

There were fifty ladies present for the social afternoon.

P. E. O. Luncheon—Mrs. G. G. Eubanks was hostess at Saturday's attractive luncheon given by Chapter A.C.P. E. O.

The usual formal session followed with its routine of business, program, and the social hour which followed.

The majority of the members of the organization were present.

It is worth while to note that there are a number of music magazines on the music shelf of the club and that the library has three more at the club's disposal. The report of the treasurer also shows a comfortable balance with which to begin the new year.

There will be eight programs next year. At the September meeting the program will be submitted for approval. The fourth Monday of each month will remain the meeting time as has been since the beginning.

Mrs. Clara Beebe was the lender for the evening, which opened with "Craquienne Fantastique," Paderewski, played very pleasingly by Miss Dorothy Stevens.

The program planned to touch the high lights of the winter's work and began with a review of the principles of musical construction and a clear analysis of musical elements and defined them; also musical patterns.

Mrs. H. S. Aikins, with Mrs. Alice Willits, at this point in her theme illustrated by selections from Beethoven, Bach and Czerny. "Content and Kinds of Music," was very understandingly given by Miss Berna Haight, who made the different kinds very clear and anyone whose knowledge of music might be somewhat superficial could gain a good concept of what the author conveyed.

Miss Blanche Hicks took the "Modern Orchestra," for her theme. The development within the last 20 years was especially noted; the lists of instruments given and their placement. Earli-er orchestras were also described.

The "Symphony" was the last theme considered. Mrs. J. H. Fuller, in her comprehensive address, gave an analysis of the symphony, which was illustrated during the talk.

What is meant by sonata and concerto was made clear; with the different movements, allegro, andante, scherzo, and rondo sharply defined.

Schumann's G Minor was used very effectively in illustration, by Miss Imogene Wallace, who played it with feeling and delicacy of interpretation; pointing out the movements illustrative of the theme under discussion.

The talks and the musical interpretations were very much appreciated by the attentive listeners.

A program committee, Mrs. Clara Beebe, Mrs. S. J. Parson and Mrs. Alice Willits will plan the year's study this summer, submitting the program for approval at the September meeting.

In reviewing the past year's work, the president with the membership feels that much has been accomplished. With the critical study has come a deepened interest, not alone with the members but those outside the club. All are looking forward to a promising year: one of achievement and growth.

Art Club Meets—A good attendance of the membership, with two visitors, marked the meeting of the Ladies' Art Club, which was held Monday evening at the Parish house, with Mrs. J. A. Ruger and Mrs. George King, hostesses.

Cards and dainty needlework, occupied the social hour. Dainty refreshments were served at the close by the hostesses.

Announcement of place and hostesses for the next meeting are made thus early, that members may keep the date in mind, since a longer time elapses than usual between meetings.

Mrs. Cliff Payne, on Granite street is hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Nelson. The club meets the second Monday in June.

W. R. C. Social—Because of the cold Monday, the W. R. C. did not hold its social in the Park as expected and announced.

P. E. O. Luncheon—Mrs. G. G. Eubanks was hostess at Saturday's attractive luncheon given by Chapter A.C.P. E. O.

The usual formal session followed with its routine of business, program, and the social hour which followed.

The majority of the members of the organization were present.

The recital given at the home of Miss Haight, Saturday evening, in which her pupils appeared in solo and duet, both vocal and instrumental, was a marked success.

The rooms were filled with parents and friends who came to enjoy the well rendered selections. Among the things worthy of note was the excellence of performance, the good grade of music played and the fact that so many were played from memory.

When a group was played, one of them would be without music, as were many other selections.

A feature of the evening which was helpful to the pupils and most interesting to all listeners was an address to the pupils by Mrs. E. A. Woods.

In her talk which was planned to be of real value to the pupil, Mrs. Woods brought out many practical points. The value of practice; specializing on the hard parts, without watching the clock; the pleasure that a selection well performed gave to teacher, parents and friends; the satisfaction to one's self, also of work well done. The address was a real inspiration and encouragement to teacher, pupils and parents.

The program as carried out follows:

1—"Flowers of Spring," La Farge, Frances Spindler. 2—"Sweet Violet," Smallwood, James Baughman. 3—"Voice, a," "Sweet Spring Time," Churchill Grindell; b "The Fountain," Jessie Gaynor; James Baughman and Howard Mayberry with Eleanor Coombe at the piano.

4—"Selections from La Traviata, Bernice McCormick. 5—"Minuetto, E Flat-Mozart-Schulhoff, Marjorie Baughman, 6—"Norwegian Bridal Procession," Op. 19, No. 2, Grieg, b "Murmuring Leaves, op. 25, No. 11 Soncone, Edna Orres. 7—"Voice, "Since Jesus Touched Me," words by James Rowe, music by Howard Smith. Bernice McCormick, with Duene Ehrke at the piano. 8—"Duet Melody, Mathews, played by Gail Worsham and Miss Berna Haight. 9—"Duet, "In Cheerful Mood," Grosse, by Howard Mayberry and Miss Haight. 10—"Indian War Dance," Brounoff, Headrick Baughman. 11—"At Dusk," Homer; b "Marche Militaire," Mabel Metzger Wright, played by Marian Hitchcock. 12—"Voice, "Sing Along," Arthur A. Penn, Marjorie Baughman and Frances Spindler, with Viola Mayberry at piano. 13—"Polonaise Militaire-Fryinger, Viola Mayberry.

Business Girls Given Picnic—Mrs. Aileen Walker-Kay, the Misses Marie, Leta and Alice Walker were hostesses at an especially delightful picnic dinner Thursday in the Park, with the members of the Business Girls' Club guests for dinner and the evening.

This was spent in the Community Club House in the Park, where jollity held sway.

The dinner, where all the good things which go to make up a real feast were evidenced, was an especially happy occasion, for at this time members, the Misses Marie Walker of Klamath Falls and Alice Walker of Salem, who are home for vacation, were present, and for so much of the time they miss the merry meetings of the club, which convenes fortnightly.

"Who Do" Have Meeting—The annual outing of the "Who Do" Class of the Methodist church, the home of Mrs. J. R. McCracken in Valley View, was most successfully carried out.

Between forty-five and fifty were in attendance, going out in the late morning with well-filled baskets—since this was a covered dish luncheon.

After the delightful luncheon, the business meeting was held. The program hour followed, with its Bible study, led by Mrs. A. A. Madden, and with music, all of which made up a very interesting afternoon.

During the social hour, guests were employed in fancy work and in visiting, until at its close, the class returned to Ashland happy in this annual outing, and anticipating its successor next year.

Community Meeting by County Health Association—On Friday, June 4, at the Civic Club House, at 2:30 p. m., there will be held in Ashland the first of a series of Community Health meetings, under the auspices of the Jackson County Health Association.

The principal address will be by Dr. W. W. P. Holt of Medford, and his subject will be "The Re-sults of the So-called Children's Diseases; Measles, Whooping Cough and Scarlet Fever."

All who have children, or any one interested in hearing this address, are cordially invited to attend.

There will be light refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Banquet Pleasant—The banquet served for the Loy-al Women's class of the Christian Sunday school was a very pleasant affair, indeed.

There was an excellent attendance, and the dinner was a elaborate one, with chicken, dumplings, and all the delicious adjuncts to tempt the appetite.

Every one present appreciated the thoughtfulness that planned so delightful a social gathering.

W. B. A. Have Dance—An old-time dance is planned by the W. B. A., given at Moose hall on Saturday, May 29, at 8:30 p. m.

The regular meeting of the organization occurs on Wednesday, June 2, 1926.

All members are requested to attend.

P. T. A. Hawthorne Gives Luncheon—The P. T. A. Circle of Hawthorne gave a very delightful luncheon for the teachers of that building last Thursday.

This was especially enjoyable, coming as it did just at the close of school, a happy little attention, which the teachers appreciated very much.

The menu was delightfully planned and the pleasant visit with friends added much pleasure to the occasion.

Chick With Four Legs Is Hatched

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 25—Chickens have never been noted for great intelligence, so what was this poor fowl to do with only one head to aid its four legs and four wings and two bodies?

Such a bird was hatched from a chicken egg on the Harry Hayden place near here. The young chicken, displaying considerable ability to walk by lifting one foot over the other, overcoming the interference of the two extra legs.

Simple Mixture Stops Gas Bloating

Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, often helps stomach trouble in TEN minutes by removing GAS. Brings out a surprising amount of old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Stops that full, bloated feeling and makes you enjoy eating. Excellent for chronic constipation. Adlerika works QUICK and delightfully easy. McNair Bros.

GEORGIA ROSE

BATH SALTS

Large Jar 75c

A delightfully perfumed Crystal for softening and perfuming the water of the bath. Just a small handful sprinkled in the bath makes all the difference in the world. Does not color the water, and is not injurious in any way.

Parent-Teacher Notes

Friday, May 28, is Jackson School Day. Although Ashland is not on the list this year, we should give our support as much as possible by attending the exercises which begin in the Chautauqua building at ten; thus encouraging the ones who have come so far and to whom the day means a great deal.

The Heart of Our Work

At a big conference of workers in central Ohio, Professor Raymond Bennett of the college of education, Ohio State University, led the discussion on rural problems, according to the Ohio Parent-Teacher. The speaker divided parent-teacher groups into three classes: First, those giving financial aid to the board of education and doing, thus, a good piece of work but by no means the best unless there is a spiritual reaction. When the men of a district get together and grade the school grounds the best thing about the work is the spirit engendered by working for a common goal. Second, those studying the problems of parenthood. More and more parents are forming study groups, reading together books like O'Shea's "The Child His Nature and His Needs," adopted as the national study book, and training themselves for their profession of parents. Third, those studying with the teachers the school and its aims and seeking how to make the school, through united effort, most effective in the lives of the pupils.

Professor Bennett puts the emphasis, in his work with both parents and teachers, less on the material side of parent-teacher work (good as are some of the things like, say, agitating for school bond issues and supervising the right sort of hot school lunches) and more on the spiritually side. Terming the home "the heart of parent-teacher work," he pointed out the need for more attention on the part of parents to the first six years of a child's life when the foundations are being laid for all habits, for closer supervision of children's reading, and for more intelligent work with the schools in the daily studies of children.

Parents can do tremendously much in the moral and social training of their children if they will only unite in making low social and moral standards un-fashionable and fine ideals the vogue. They can help history teachers if they will make the table talk turn on current events and worthwhile matters and they can make life much happier, easier and sweeter for the teachers themselves, if they will make the latter their friends, invite them to their homes often and regard them as members of the social life of the community.
