

ROYAL GUESTS WILL GET ROYAL WELCOME

NEW YORK, (U.P.)—A royal welcome to the United States will be accorded to Crown Prince Gustav Adolph and Crown Princess Louise of Sweden when they arrive here on their tour of the United States and a delegation of officials, including Minister Wellmer, Secretary of State, Consul General Olof H. Lamm, U. S. Ambassador Landbeck of the Swedish-American Line, Dr. Berle H. Elliot, Director of the American Swedish News Exchange, and other prominent members of the Swedish colony in New York.

To the battery the Royal Party will be conveyed on board of the city's special tug, the "Macom" and at Governor's Island the New York fire boats will give a salute. Escorted by mounted motor cycle police and the Municipal Band the guests will then proceed to City Hall, where Mayor Walker will greet the future king and offer him the freedom of the city.

The Crown Prince will reply briefly, making his first public address in the New World. After this ceremony the entourage will proceed under escort to the Pennsylvania station, where a special train, provided by the State Department, will take the visitors to Washington.

Returning later by train the Crown Prince will spend two weeks in and about the city. Side trips will be made to Princeton, Philadelphia, West Point, and various points on Long Island, where he is to be the private guest of prominent residents.

schools of the city and county.

Mrs. Suzanne Holmes Carter, county school superintendent, turned back the pages of time and gave a few interesting incidents about the old normal school, its faculty and its students. She gave from memory the names of the faculty of the old normal school.

Medford Represented

Superintendent E. H. Hedrick of the Medford public schools, assured President Churchill that Medford would be ever ready to cooperate with the normal school officials at any time, to the end that education generally might be bettered.

Irving E. Vining painted a delightful word picture of what might be expected of the new normal school under Mr. Churchill's regime, and also dwelt at some length on the old normal school for which he was one of the instructors.

J. H. Fuller spoke briefly on behalf of the board of trustees of the normal school.

In responding to the several welcoming talks, Mr. Churchill assured those about the banquet board that his best efforts will be put forward to make the Southern Oregon Normal School an institution of which the entire state might be proud. He said he had many ideas which he would inaugurate and hoped to start the school with the united cooperation and support of all the people of this section.

TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION WORK IS NOW UNDER WAY

Construction work now in progress on an entirely new direct trans-continental telephone circuit from Chicago to the Atlantic Coast to the Pacific Northwest will connect the Long Distance lines of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at the Montana state boundary near Wallace, Idaho.

Active construction on this lead is now under way in Montana as most of the work yet remaining to be done lies in that state. When this work is completed the first direct northern trans-continental line from the Pacific Northwest to the Atlantic Coast will be established.

Through the joint cooperation of the Pacific and the Mountain States companies with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, it is expected that this new through route for direct conversation from this Coast to the Great Lakes and the Atlantic will be put into service by the end of 1924.

It will carry out the announcement made by the Bell System two years ago at the time work was inaugurated on the second transcontinental circuit recently completed from Los Angeles eastward through the states along the Mexican border and the Gulf. The plan was then made known of providing this third route across the northern tier of states via Minneapolis.

Practically all of the construction in the territory of the Pacific Company is already completed. Between Spokane and Wallace, Idaho, some work is being done in placing wire required by the new circuit.

In rebuilding and improving the Long Distance lines of the Pacific Company from Puget Sound and the Columbia River to Spokane and from Spokane across the Idaho Panhandle during recent years the leads have been so planned that, in addition to the circuit between cities in this immediate territory, they would also carry the trans-continental circuits whenever the growth of the Pacific Northwest and the Coast generally called for additional telephone connections across the country.

"In Idaho, Washington and Oregon," said Miss Otterdale, "as well as in the other states covered by our Pacific Company, the Long Distance lines are owned and operated by our Company. In all other territory of the Bell System, the so-called 'long haul' circuits are owned and operated by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. In providing this northern route connection to Chicago, the lines of our company, already finished except for some work remaining to be done in Idaho, will connect with the Long Lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"At present, the conversation across the continent from this part of the country is routed via San Francisco where the first trans-continental lines opened in 1915, terminate. The northern route will provide added capacity and convenience for the telephone conversation from Coast to Coast and will also enhance the insurance of uninterrupted contact. Whenever, by reason of storm difficulties, for instance, one route may encounter delay, two others will be available.

"Furthermore," added Miss Otterdale, "the Pacific Northwest will within the year have its own direct telephone wire connection through to Chicago and the East."

SENATOR MOSES TO FACE HARD BATTLE

CONCORD, N. H., June 2.—(U.P.)—New Hampshire's political campaign, involving the question of whether U. S. Senator George H. Moses is to be returned for a third term, is getting under way. The Republican state primary election will be held on Sept. 7. Because New Hampshire is a Republican state by a substantial majority there is little question but that Senator Moses, if re-nominated, will be elected in November.

His opponent at the primary will be Robert P. Bass, former governor and recently a member of Legislature from Peterboro. Bass represents the progressive wing of the Republican party; Moses, the "regular" Republican. Bass was Governor in 1911 and 1912 and was one of the "seven little governors" who in 1912 memorialized Theodore Roosevelt to be a candidate for the Presidency. In that campaign, Bass quit the G. O. P. and was titular head of the Progressive Party in this state and its candidate for U. S. Senator in 1913. When the Progressive Party collapsed, he returned to the Republican fold and was elected to the Legislature as recently as 1923.

Senator Moses always has been a straight-party man. He was first elected to the Senate to succeed Dr. Joseph H. Gurnea in 1918 and served the remainder of the latter's term. In 1920 he was re-elected for a full term, which he is now completing.

JAPANESE TO ESTABLISH PALM COLONY IN BORNEO

TOKYO, (U.P.)—To encourage emigration from overcrowded Japan the Foreign Office emigration Bureau has announced it will send six families to Borneo to engage in palm growing on a lot of land which has been bought for the purpose.

All initial expenses of the colony will be borne by the Government as part of its tests to determine whether or not Japanese can emigrate profitably to the Dutch Indies and South Sea Islands generally. The Foreign office probably will send similar new test colonies to Brazil, in addition to the regular immigration to the country, which is limited to 4,000 Japanese a year.
